MARRIAGES

DU BETTE-LUTHY.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret Luthy, 1496 South Thirtieth street, at noon, December 17, 1913, Donald B. DuBette, of Gervais, and Miss Helen O. Luthy, of Salem, were united in marriage.

Rev. P. S. Knight performed the ceremony in the presence of about 20 relatives and friends. The wedding was a quiet affair. The young couple will live on a farm near Gervais.

DONALDSON-HAGSTAD.

At the Donaldson home, 548 South Fourteenth street, Wednesday afternoon, December 17, 1913, George J. Donaldson and Miss Amanda Hagstad, both of Salem, were united as husband and wife, Rev. P. S. Knight performing the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives and friends.

FINE JUICE.

L. H. Roberts, manager of the Sunset Fruit company, called at the editorial rooms of The Capital Journal office this morning bringing a bottle of loganberry juice for the staff to sample. They sampled, and if there is anything out of the way with the editorials for the next few days he will be to blame. However, as the juice is unfermented, and far superior to that which is added to the brilliancy of the policies of the eminent gentleman from Nebraska now in the secretary of state's office at Washington, no harm is anticipated. It is of delicious flavor and will no doubt become of general use, as it will undoubtedly be put up and placed on the market in large quantities, its cheapness being an added attraction.

BLUE BIRD STORY HOUR.

Myrtle and Lyrl thought they would be happy if they could but find the Bluebird. They had some wonderful adventures in searching for him; they even went to Fairyland. Miss Campbell will tell the story from Masterline's Bluebird for the children December 20 and January 3. Let every child be at the library promptly at 9:30 so that the doors may be closed during the story.
