OREGON SUPREME COURT

his country and his marriage at the same time. This was not done in a spirit of economy for the Judge isn't built that way, and we are only reasoning from effect back to cause. He was city councilman (they all did it) from 1872 to 1875, and city attorney from 1877 to 1881. In 1885 he was County Judge of Multnomah, and again filled this important position from 1890 to 1894.

From 1868 to 1874 he was in partnership with John F. Caples, one of the best known criminal lawyers on the coast in those days. With his thorough knowledge of the intricacies of court procedure, he has made an ideal supreme court clerk, and has also, by his unflinching good nature and tactful aid to attorneys and all others having business with the court, made himself so much a part of the office that those having business there would be lost without him. In another way he has built for himself a monument that will last so long as those whom he has helped on their way have memory; and that is by his good advice and cheering words to the youngsters who have faced the supreme court examinations, and who will always remember the kindly encouragement of Julius Moreland, clerk of the Oregon supreme court.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
