Have your photograph made on post cards--the first 12 people calling this evening will receive their pictures free. Evenings only. 442 State street. Mrs. Amanda Doty has returned to her home in this city, after visiting friends in Portland for a few days. Miss Ruth Jason is in Portland visiting her mother, who is seriously ill at present. Miss Jason is a clerk in the Meyers store. I. V. McAdoo, of this city, was in Woodburn yesterday attending the funeral of his father-in-law, who died in that place last Monday. R. D. Hertz and Professor Peterson, of Corvallis, and H. M. Crooks, of Albany, have been chosen as judges to announce the winners in the debating contest which will take place here next Friday between the Salem high school and the Oregon City team.

In an answer filed yesterday in the circuit court by the defendants in the case of O. R. Baskin against the Marion county court and commissioners it is alleged that the plaintiff's allegations to the effect the county owes him money is untrue on the grounds the county did not authorize him or anyone else to perform labors for it.

WEXFORD

TODAY, THURSDAY and FRIDAY THE COLONIAL PLAYERS

"The Sweetest Girl in Dixie"

The famous play of the Sunny Southland, with special settings and costumes. Four beautiful acts. ADDED ATTRACTION

"Humanity"

The biggest feature picture the Wexford has shown yet. Four parts of tremendous action. A fight scene in a burning house that has never been equaled.

Basketball. "Yellow Jackets," vs. Albany. Y. M. C. A. gym, Friday night. Admission 25 cents. It is getting to be almost a weekly occurrence for Geo. C. Will, the piano man, to wholesale pianos to Portland. This feature is exclusive with him in Salem, and is due to the immense stock that he keeps on hand at all times. He shipped a nice one today. One never knows when they will have to take a sudden trip, and just when time and patience are most needed it is so annoying to find you haven't a suitcase. Use foresight and buy one now from F. E. Shafer, the saddle and harness man, 187 South Commercial street. A counter claim in the divorce case of Wm. Bruckman against Emma C. Bruckman was filed in the circuit court yesterday by the defendant. Mrs. Bruckman denies all of the allegations contained in the complaint filed by her husband and asks that the case be dismissed.

Just because Sunday dinner is poor is no reason why a man should grouch all week, but the best way to avoid it is to order the Sunset grocery, 121 South Commercial, to send you a nice, fat chicken for next Sunday. You couldn't raise better ones yourself. They get them every Friday. Here's something for you to remember. No piano can be made better, and no piano as good as the Packard can be sold for less. It has quality, price and reputation to recommend it. Ask R. E. Peters, manager of the Wiley B. Allen Co., 521 Court street, to show them to you. It is really remarkable when you stop to think of it, but it is a fact that Tip-Top bread is positively so good that it takes 263 bakeries to supply the demand for it in the United States. You're missing a treat if you do not have it on your table, too. Sperry grocery, 311 North Commercial street. Contracting trichinosis from tainted bologna sausage, three women attendants at the asylum are suffering at present. The sausages were purchased in this city and, according to Dr. Steiner, those eating them were poisoned. The attendants will recover, however. This is what you will find: A young man or woman, untrained in the essentials of business, seeking work in a business office will soon realize the value of preparation. The business man wants some one who knows how at the start. He has little time and less inclination to train his help in the essentials. He expects the Capital Business college to do that--and we do. That's why our graduates are in demand. Many are entering now. Will you be one? A good time of year to begin.

A Hugill and Joe Perry, both popular young men of this city, have established a modern steam dye works here and are now all prepared to receive orders for not only dyeing but pressing and cleaning as well. The new establishment is located at 464 Court street and the proprietors will enter to both their old friends in the city and unacquainted in the same manner. Mr. Perry was formerly engaged as clerk in the Johnson clothing store at the corner of State and Liberty streets and he is an eastern man with no small amount of experience in the new line which he and Mr. Hugill have taken up. At a meeting last night by the members of the local Central lodge of Knights of Pythias, the following officers were installed to serve during the ensuing year: P. C., A. J. Radcliff; C., W. B. Summerville; V. C., W. B. Gillson; K. R. and S., and M. P., J. W. Cox; M. A., F. F. Schram; M. E., E. W. Hazard; M. W., A. J. Radcliff; P., George Winchell; I. G., Will Summerville; O. G., L. T. Rigdon; trustee, H. A. Holman. I. E. Stinson was chosen as a delegate to represent the grand lodge of Oregon at the anniversary meeting, which is to be held in Washington, D. C. Mr. Stinson, accompanied by his mother, will leave soon for the east. Under the able directions of Con Honoyer the Lone Oak track at the fair grounds is undergoing a change which promises to be of great benefit to the course. For the past four years the race track has been sorely in need of drainage owing to its surface losing the necessary pitch and its foundation wearing thin. Mr. Honoyer is tilting the land inside the mile circle and so arranging his lines that all the water drains off the race course in a very short time. Lone Oak track is one of the finest race courses in the United States despite the fact that it has been used through rain and shine and it is high time that the faithful old romping ground should be given a little extra attention.

Attorney Logan was a Portland bound passenger this morning. William M. Lohring left this morning for Portland where he will spend the remainder of the week visiting his parents. Judge William Galloway has returned from Albany and will hear the arguments on motions in different cases during the remainder of the week. Attorney Clarke, of Portland, is in the city on legal business. Sheriff Esch has returned after serving legal papers in Portland. Mrs. John Mitchell, of Astoria, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Robert Allison, at 1332 East Chemeketa street. A banquet was held by the Fellowship club of the First M. E. church last Monday evening. Paul Sherwood was elected president, Ralph Barnes, treasurer and Warren Scott, secretary. It is a matter of pride to every loyal Salem booster to know that this city is the home of one of the finest five-cent cigars ever made. The famous Bon Ton is worth more than a nickel, but that's all it sells for. Why write your own letters, when you can have them typewritten by an expert stenographer. Expert work guaranteed. Charges reasonable. Mrs. C. Macdonald, public stenographer, 540 State street, opposite court house. Phone Main 477. According to news received in this city yesterday, Henry Marnach, brother of Paul Marnach, of this city, is interested in some valuable oil lands located near the Reed Deer river lands in Canada. Recently a big strike of oil was made in that region and it is said that he strike promises to be of immense value within a short time. Henry Marnach was born and raised on a farm three miles south of this city and his many friends will wish him good luck in his late enterprise.

Another opportunity to see the great stars of the stage is presented the people of Salem today and tomorrow when Charles Hawtrely come to Ye Liberty in the world-famous play in four acts, "A Message From Mars." The pictured version of this wonderful play by H. G. Wells is more complete than even the stage presentation, and the story of the selfish man of the world who is checked in his selfish career by the appearance of a supernatural visitor from the planet Mars is wonderfully wrought out by Mr. Hawtrely and an excellent supporting cast. Matinees are at 2:30 and the evening performance begins at 7:15, with a show every hour and a half. PIANO BARGAINS. Geo. C. Will, the piano man, 432 State street, is financially able to give better bargains in pianos than any one else in Salem. He buys his pianos cheaper, and therefore can sell cheaper. He owns his own store and does business on a smaller margin of profit. He keeps all notes and securities given in payment in his own hands. So if you want to feel safe when you buy a piano order of Geo. C. Will, 432 State street.

CASE AGAINST MORSE & ROBERTSON DISMISSED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Tuesday in the circuit court, before Judge Cleston, the suit of Gertrude Wolf against Drs. Morse and Robertson to recover the sum of $20,000 for alleged malpractice came up for hearing. The suit was based on the allegation that on May 23, 1912, the plaintiff sustained a fracture of one of her ankles, and that Drs. Morse and Robertson were called on to reduce the fracture and take care of the case. The allegation of malpractice was based on the further statement of the plaintiff that, after the ankle was encased in a plaster cast by the doctors, that the cast was not taken off for 40 days, and that otherwise the treatment was not skillful, and such as should have been given her. The plaintiff had not completed her case last night, and this morning placed a brother of the injured woman on the stand. His testimony took his attorneys by surprise, for he testified that the cast was taken from the ankle on the fourth day, and the ankle massaged, and that he was present when it was done. This testimony was so different from what the attorneys had anticipated, that, after a consultation, they announced that it was useless to proceed further with the case, as the whole matter rested on the failure of the doctors to remove the cast, and that, as their own witnesses, whom they could not impeach, had testified that the cast had been removed, that there was nothing left of the case, and so they asked that they be dismissed on their own motion, which was done. Dr. Morse stated this afternoon that he supposed he should feel grateful to the patient for giving the public so exalted an idea of his health as to make it appear that a judgment for $20,000 could be easily met by he and Dr. Robertson. The fact that the doctors were proved to have done their work well by the witnesses of the plaintiff is doubly gratifying to them, for it shows that there was not a shadow of reason for bringing the suit.

HOLD GIRL MAY REMAIN WITH BAND OF GYPSIES. (UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.) Omaha, Neb., Jan. 7.--Judge Sutton yesterday ruled that 14-year-old Lynka might remain with the Mitchell band of gypsies, in which she was found near Omaha recently, if she chose. The child was reported kidnaped from Sacramento more than a year ago and a national hunt for her followed. It was vain, but last week one of the gypsies who had quarreled with "King" Mitchell, the band's leader, wrote to her relatives, telling them where to look for her. The Omaha authorities promptly locked up the entire band and held Lynka for instructions from Sacramento. "King" Mitchell did not admit the kidnaping, however. On his departure for Argentina, the girl's father, he said, had given the child to him and she was to wed son when the two of them became old enough. She lived in Sacramento, he asserted, not with her father, as had been reported but with her grandparents. He admitted giving a considerable sum of money to the child's father but declared it was merely a present--not his daughter's price.

The authorities amazement Lynka corroborated this story. Aside from the fact too, that, in common with her companions, the girl had suffered some hardships from her nomadic life, she seemed to have been well treated. The court gave her her choice between returning to Sacramento or remaining with the gypsies, and she promptly chose the gypsies.
