

Oregon Is Well Represented At United States Land Show

CHICAGO, Ill.—Oregon stood out prominently at the United States Land Show during the three weeks it was held at the Coliseum, Nov. 29 to Dec. 8. Aside from the beautiful displays of the state's products in the Oregon booth and the mammoth exhibit of the Great Northern Railway on the main floor, the Great Northern Railway's exclusive lecture hall proved a telling medium of acquainting land show visitors with the state's wonderful resources, both agricultural and horticultural. This lecture hall, consisting of one-half of the Coliseum annex, had a seating capacity equal to that of a good sized theater. Motion pictures and stereoscopic views were used to illustrate the lectures of the Great Northern Railway's experts, and besides C. C. Chapman of the Portland Commercial Club other Oregon men were given the use of this lecture hall daily through the courtesy of Louis W. Hill.

Never before has there been such effective missionary work done among homesteaders for the state of Oregon. Scores of jars of fruits, large sections of transparencies showing scenes in the fruit growing districts of Oregon and great varieties of fruits in their natural state were exhibited in the huge booth of the Great Northern Railway. The dry farming sections of Oregon were not overlooked either, many astonishing varieties of grasses and other land products being exhibited. They attracted much attention.

Colonel Bill Hanley visited the show and occupied the platform of the Great Northern Railway's lecture hall on Oregon day. Colonel Hanley always is a big drawing card in Chicago, and standing room was at a premium when he gave a characteristic talk on the great possibilities his home state holds out to the homesteeker. Louis W. Hill accompanied Mr. Hanley from St. Paul to Chicago to attend the land show.

ULTIMATE MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP ADVOCATED

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 9.—Ultimate municipal ownership of street car lines in Los Angeles is advocated today in a report on the physical valuation of the Los Angeles railway properties made to the city council by the board of public utilities here. The physical valuation of the properties is placed at $19,500,000.

The report of the board was made after an investigation of more than a year by a committee of expert engineers. It further declares that the railroad company resorted to "dangerous practices" during the last year by paying a dividend of $800,000 that "was not warranted by the earnings."

"The city and the company should get together on the basis of protecting the rights of both parties," the report reads. A contract, it urges, should be entered into giving the city the right to purchase the various railway lines at reasonable intervals at a fair price, which is not to include the franchise values.

The cost of hauling each passenger during the last year, the report said, was 3.25 cents.

CATTLE ARE ABLE TO GET PLENTY OF FEED FROM FIELDS

"We should worry about the high cost of mill feed," said a well known dairyman yesterday afternoon, "just so long as Dame Nature treats us as fairly in the future as she has done for the past year." According to the dairy-men in this city it has been needless to expend a great amount of money on mill feed so far this year for the reason pasturing has been so abundant that the dairy cattle do not even use about in the manufactured feed.

With these conditions facing the Marion county dairymen they should be considered among the most fortunate when it comes to the livestock industry, say those who appreciate the ideal climatic conditions that have visited Salem and vicinity so far during of 1913 and up to the present time of the new year.

YOU CAN LEARN, BUT 'TIS COSTLY

Of course you can "learn the business"—begin at the bottom and work up," but you will pay many times the price of a good training at the Capital Business College in low wages and slow promotion while learning. We can teach the requirements you need for a good position and quick promotion from the start. New classes forming this time of year—a good time to start a course.

Portland's comparatively small and decreasing foreign and Alaska trade is a sadness if not a shame. In this particular Portland is still astonishingly "slow."

PRESIDENT WILSON LETS SCHOOL CHILDREN LOOK AT HIM

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Pass Christian, Miss., Jan. 9.—President Wilson likes children. Today he motored on the road leading to Biloxi, so the school children could see him. They were lined up along the road waving banners and flags as he approached. The president stood uncovered during the review.

Recently Cecil Brown, aged 11 years, grandson of a confederate soldier, stopped the president's automobile. The lad was clad in a confederate uniform. He presented the president with a box of candy, saying: "My mother made this, and you just bet it's good, too."

Later the president wrote Cecil a letter, thanking him for the candy.

Today Cecil again stopped the president's automobile. This time he carried a bouquet. A note attached read: "I liked your letter so much, Mr. President, that that I brought these flowers. Please write to me when you get back home."

CLINGING STYLE COMING FOR MEN

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Baltimore, Jan. 9.—Mere man of 1914 will be in the modest, blushing violet class in the style of his clothes, according to creations being planned for him by the National Association of Clothing Designers, which met in convention here yesterday. As little cloth as possible will be used to frame his figure. It will cling to his form like tight to the pony ballet. Quiet colors, with a decided leaning toward sober shades will be preferred.

He will be saved from complete oblivion by an allowance of wild designs in Balmacaen overcoats, with batwing sleeves and horse-blanket effect. They will resemble kimonos somewhat.

Silhouette styles will be the royal flush in the male fashion deck for the fall and winter of 1914 and 1915. Padding will be a drug on the market. Nature will be called on to do all that is necessary in that line; the tailor will just note measurements and follow them as a carpenter does his blue print.

JURY CALLING IN DISPUTE IN MULTNOMAH

Unless the supreme court renders a decision this month in an action filed today, Multnomah county may be in the position of not having any juries in February. District Attorney Evans, in relation of the state, instituted mandamus proceedings against the Multnomah county commissioners to compel them to make out a jury list for 1914. The commissioners have refused to furnish the list because of a question as to whether they or the circuit court were empowered by the law to do so.

The last legislature, having abolished the county court in Multnomah county and created the county commission, a controversy has arisen as to whether the making out of the jury lists is a function of the commissioners of the circuit court.

THE SPLASHFUL SECOND.

Were I on the boxing commission,
Were I in the proper position,
If I had the right
I would rise in my might
And sentence one man to perdition.

I'd smite him and flay him and clout him,
And utterly conquer and rout him—
The second, I mean
With the ivory bean,
Who splashes the water about him.

Mapleine Sea Foam.

3 cups granulated sugar,
1 cup water,
1 tablespoonful vinegar,
2 eggs (whites),
1 teaspoonful mapleine,
1 large cup of almonds.

Place on back of stove to dissolve slowly the sugar, water and vinegar; then boil without stirring until it spins a thread or forms a soft ball in cold water. Pour the hot syrup into the whites of the eggs, well beaten, and beat again with egg beater till nearly cooked, or until mixture holds its shape; then add the mapleine and almonds which have been blanched and slightly broken. Dip out with teaspoon into desired shape in buttered plates.

Cream Sauce.

2 egg yolks,
2 tablespoonful granulated sugar,
1 pint milk,
1/4 teaspoon mapleine.

Boil the milk and add egg yolks well beaten and mixed with the sugar and mapleine.

Frothy Sauce.

1/2 cup butter,

HARRY MCCOY
-IN JOKER COMEDIES-

YOUNG COMEDIAN HAS DIVERSIFIED CAREER

That funny Irish character Mike, so familiar alongside his German pal, Jake, in pictures of the Joker brand, is no other than Harry McCoy, well known on the vaudeville and musical comedy stage. McCoy has devoted his talent to motion pictures for the past two years and has been playing leads in Joker comedies since their inception. He has a career, which for diversity, resembles a checker board. He was born in New York City. When he became of age he inherited a small fortune. This he invested in a music publishing house and lost every cent of it. However, with only his valuable experience left, he became professional manager of Gus Edwards. Being a cultivated musician, McCoy later went into vaudeville and musical comedy and was very successful with the piano and harp.

Before going into motion pictures his most thrilling experience occurred when he was wrecked for three days in a row boat twenty-five miles off Sandy Hook with one keg of water, and a pencil and watch for nautical instruments. McCoy is a stickler for realism in his work and being original in his stunts before the camera, he has had many a like bump and hair breadth escape, all to please the admirer of silent comedy. His most recent screen successes are "Adventures of Mike and Jake," "The Joy Riders," "She Should Worry" and "The Mystery of a Taxicab."

THEY NEVER QUIT.

How dull these winter days would be without the Tinker deal!
How sad and full of discontent the baseball scribe would weel!
Without you, Joe, our life would be a slow and listless game.
And so we hope you will keep it up at least till spring has come.

THEY NEVER QUIT.

You may beat him and flay him and clout him all day.
You may plaster him flat on the floor.
But the battered ex-champion always will say:
"I am better than ever before!"

Jupe Pluve seems to have made a resolution to give us plenty early in the year.

Raisin Lunch Cake.

Contains neither eggs nor milk.
Stew one and one-half cups Sultana raisins in sufficient water to make two cups of juice. Put in mixing bowl; add two tablespoons of butter, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon allspice, one heaping tablespoon peanut butter, one cup sugar, enough flour to make stiff batter, possibly three cups. Stir in two heaping teaspoons Crescent baking powder. Mix well. Last, stir in the raisins dredged in flour. Bake slowly in moderate oven one hour.

Snowflake Cake.

1 scant cup sugar,
3 1/2 scant cups flour,
1 teaspoon vanilla,
1/2 scant cup butter,
2 cups milk,
2 teaspoons Crescent baking powder.

Cream butter, and sugar, add one tablespoon of milk from measure, beat until it forms a spongy cream, add remainder of milk and extract; beat until sugar is dissolved in the bottom. Measure flour after sifting; add baking powder, sift four times, stir (not beat) the flour in until it is thoroughly mixed. Pour in pans and let stand ten minutes, bake in moderately hot oven. Use mapleine icing.

Strengthen Your Lungs Is Timely Advice

when consumption claims over 350 daily in the United States. Neglected colds, overwork, confining duties and chronic disorders exert the weakening influence which allows tubercular germs the mastery.

The greatest treatment that science affords is courage, rest, sunshine and Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil to clarify and enrich the blood, strengthen the lungs, rebuild wasted tissue and fortify the resistive forces to throw off disease germs.
