SOCIETY WOMEN ATTEND TRIAL OF PICKERS ON MURDER CHARGE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Marysville, Cal., Jan. 27.—Rubbing elbows with the worn, pinched, weather-beaten women workers from the hop-fields, many society women, both of Marysville and from other towns all through the state, were conspicuous in the audience at the resumption today of the murder trial of Richard Ford, Herman Suhr, Harry Bagand and William Beck.

Delayed By Flood. Today's session was the first since Friday. The case was adjourned until Monday afternoon but when Monday came Juror C. E. Shogren was marooned in his home at Arboga by the flood, a boat had to be brought to ferry him to the courtroom and by the time he arrived it was too late in the day to make a start.

The defense had a long list of witnesses in readiness to testify to sanitary and other conditions on the Durst hop ranch and to the circumstances of the fatal riot, with responsibility for which the four prisoners are charged. It was expected the defendants themselves would take the stand in their own behalf Friday.

FEDERAL JUDGE SETS ASIDE SECRETARY OF LABOR

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Seattle, Wash., Jan. 27.—In a sweeping decision in which he overruled the order of Secretary of Labor Wilson, Commissioner General of Immigration Caminetti and the Seattle immigration authorities, Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer today granted freedom to K. Gregory and seven other Russian aliens held at the Seattle station for deportation as undesirable citizens.

Pelicans and Their Pouches. The pelican is not an attractive bird. He offends both the eye and the nose. But he is commendably regular in his habits. The parent birds catch fish and after eating their fill deposit the others in their pouches under their bills and carry them to their young.

The Actress Retort. Georgette Leblanc, the actress, wife of Maurice Maeterlinck, was on tour in a French town, where the local company "supported" her in one of her husband's plays.

Anything to Please. Speaking of accommodating hotel clerks, the best I ever saw was in a certain small town. I reached the hotel late in the evening. Just before I retired I heard a scampering under the bed and saw a couple of large rats just escaping. I complained at the office. The clerk was as serene as a summer breeze.

Expensive. "No, I've decided never to accept friendly advice any more."

OREGON, the first state to select and dedicate a site at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, was also the first to accept designs for her state building. This very interesting structure, neighbor to New York's great building, has been designed in the chaste spirit of the golden age of Greece's architecture.

FINDELL CONFIRMED.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Washington, Jan. 27.—The senate confirmed this afternoon the nomination of Henry M. Findell, of Peoria, Illinois, to be ambassador to Russia.

MEETS INSTANT DEATH.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Paris, Jan. 27.—Oliver Montague, a member of a rich family of Buffalo, New York, met instant death today when he fell 300 feet while climbing Mount Jungfrau in the Swiss Alps. He lost his balance while attempting to take kodak pictures.

NOT HIMSELF.

Bridegroom—Didn't I look like a fool when I was at the altar rail? Best Man—No; but one could see that you were not yourself.

EASY.

Mac—Where are you working, Bill? Bill—I ain't working; I got a city job.—Judge.

GOOD THINGS.

"Old Rockybilt is a great benefactor," said the Boob. "He has done a lot of good things."

THE FIRST THING.

"What would you do if you had a million dollars?" "I'd quit associating with people who ask such foolish questions."—Detroit Free Press.

WRONG AGAIN.

"A man can't live on air," observed the Sage. "Oh, I don't know," replied the Fool. "I know an aviator who made $50,000 last year."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CLATSOP DECISION SAID TO FORESHADOW DRY DECISION HERE

That the supreme court decision in Clatsop county case today forecasted a decision favorable to the drys in the cases of Salem and other cities now pending in the supreme court was the opinion expressed by attorneys and others here this afternoon. It was contended that the court decided several points involved in the liquor elections. There was some disappointment over the fact that a decision in the liquor cases was not handed down this morning.

MANY SUGGESTIONS.

The Commercial club is receiving many suggestions for a Salem slogan in accordance with the plan outlined Saturday by The Capital Journal. Many good suggestions have been made. Some are inclined to get humorous. One person offered this: "Come to Salem and Get Thirsty," it being evident that is a "wet." There are so many suggestions that the greatest difficulty will be in picking the best, it is believed.

"MOVIE" OPERATOR KILLED.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Nairobi, Africa, Jan. 27.—Fritz Schiessler, an American moving picture actor, horribly clawed by a lion, died of his injuries here today. The beast attacked Schiessler while he was taking motion pictures.

MUCH DAMAGE AT VENTURA.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Ventura, Cal., Jan. 27.—With thousands of acres of orchard and ranch lands inundated, half a dozen steel bridges demolished, irrigation systems ruined and a half dozen towns partially inundated as the result of a three-days' storm, Ventura county was helpless today, with another deluge expected tonight.

PAVLOWA IS LOST.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Diego, Cal., Jan. 27.—Anna Pavlova, the Russian dancer, and her company were "lost" on a special train somewhere in the vicinity of Riverside or Fullerton late today, according to the best information obtainable here by the managers of a local theatre, where she is billed to appear tonight. Wabbeuts on the Santa Fe railroad near San Juan Capistrano have prevented any trains from running between this city and Los Angeles since early yesterday.

TWO FACED RONCONI.

He Could Delect Tragedy on One Side and Comedy on the Other. In "The Memoirs of an American Prima Donna," by Clara Louise Kellogg, there is a good story of Ronconi, who played second cobbler in "Christina in Comare." We are told that he was one of the finest Italian baritones that ever lived and succeeded in getting a degree of genuine high comedy out of the part that has never been surpassed.

AVALANCHE KILLS 3 AND INJURES OTHERS

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Stoves, Utah, Jan. 27.—With a roar heard for miles, an avalanche, sweeping down the mountain side here late yesterday instantly killed three persons and seriously injured three others. Four houses were ground to splinters.

Every tree in the path of the avalanche was snapped off at the roots. The bodies of Mrs. Anna Packovitch and of two Greek miners were recovered. All had been trapped in their homes, where they had been crushed beyond recognition.

An hour after the slide E. T. Thorne was rescued from under six feet of snow. Shortly before his rescue two Greek miners were recovered. All were badly injured and nearly suffocated. The avalanche descended only half a mile, and stopped at the edge of the coal camp.

The slide was 300 feet wide. People here fear further disaster, as the unusual thaw has loosened the snow packed from six to ten feet deep.

ROAD VOTE

formed to its every exactment and in the absence of irregularities, alleged and proved, sufficient in magnitude to have effected the result, we think the election held thereunder is not illegal inasmuch as those voting were legally qualified under the old statute, as well as the one declared unconstitutional. Guernsey vs. McHaley, 52 Or. 555; Roesch vs. Henry, 54 Or.244; Tazwell vs. Davis, 64 Or. 325.

Hours Not Error.

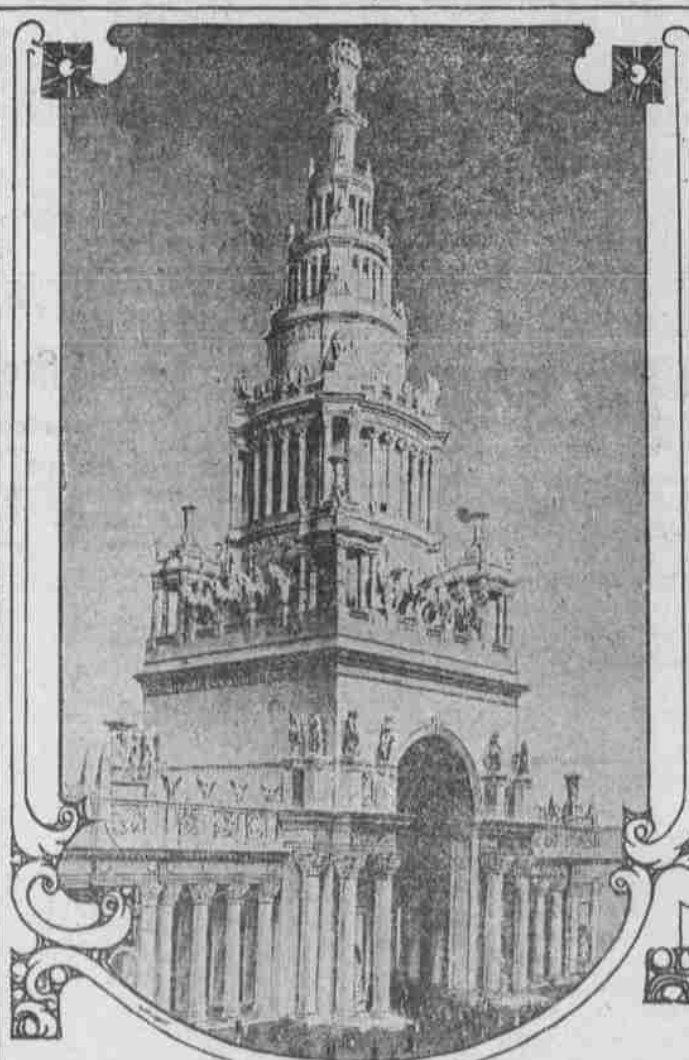

No error can be predicted upon the time allotted the voters to express their preference. It is shortening, rather than the lengthening of the hours that will impair the rights of a voter, and for that account vitiate an election otherwise legal.

While criticizing the action of the county clerk in closing the registration books fifteen days before the election in pursuance of the statute later overturned by this court, no showing is made that any qualified voter was denied his or her right of suffrage, while, it is admitted unregistered voters were privileged to exercise their prerogative to vote upon the affidavit of six freeholders. Under such conditions the law leans against the annulment of an election and the consequent subversion of the public will.

Petitions for rehearing were denied in the following cases: Simpson vs. Durbin, Hunter vs. Clark & Henry, Johnson vs. Seaborg, Edlerson vs. Portland, Railway Light & Power company, Cartwright vs. Moffett, and West Oregon Lumber Company vs. Brady.

Other Opinions.

Other opinions were handed down as follows: Johnson & Dippold vs. Jennings-McRae Logging company, appellant; ap-

THE dominating architectural feature of the exposition, the superb Tower of Jewels, which will command the south entrance of the Court of Sun and Stars at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco in 1915. This tower, 430 feet in height, will have a base one acre in extent. The tower will rise upward in terraces, giving way at last to a group of figures supporting a globe, typifying the world. The repeated figures of armored horsemen and of explorers of the ocean will be used on the tower, which, with its statuary, mural paintings and mosaics, will be indescribably beautiful. Messrs. pealed from Columbia; suit to recover damages for injury to timber, affirmed. Frank Cawfield, appellant vs. D. A. Smyth; appealed from Harney; action of ejectment, reversed.

G. W. Waterbury, appellant vs. The United Telephone company; appealed from Marion; suit on two promissory notes, reversed.

C. R. Templeton vs. W. E. Coog et al, appellants; appealed from Multnomah; creditor's suit to reach property in the hands of a third party, modified.

Charles Clough, et al vs. Hugh McGovern et al, appellants; appealed from Multnomah; suit to rescind a contract, affirmed.

State vs. John B. Goddard, appellant; appealed from Multnomah; convicted of statutory rape, affirmed.

IMMENSE EGG IS LAID BY THOMPSON'S HEN

What is believed by local experts to be the largest egg ever laid by an ordinary hen, was produced yesterday by a Rhode Island Red pullet owned by Walter Thompson, formerly of the police force. The egg measured 8 3/4 by 6 1/2 inches.
