Dr. Henke, a professor at Willamette university, was elected president of the Six O'clock club at the meeting held last Tuesday night.

The remains of the late Mrs. Almira Jakes will be buried in I. O. O. F. cemetery tomorrow morning, the funeral to be held at 10:30 a. m., from the residence. Rev. F. T. Porter will conduct the services.

Luther J. Chapin, the government farm expert, has returned from Pullman, Washington, where he attended the conference of the northwest County Agricultural association. Mr. Chapin reports a very favorable meeting.

The Websterian Literary society of the university last evening elected the following officers to serve the coming term: President, Paul Homan; vice-president, Leland R. Sackott; treasurer, Leland Bond; recording secretary, Timon Torkelson; corresponding secretary, Earl Flegel; marshal, Benjamin Neustel; critic, Harold Jory.

Try Scott's 15c meals, 179 South Commercial.

The different university classes are going through the annual picture taking for the Wallajah, the year-book which is published each year by the junior class. The editors experience no little difficulty in getting all the members of the different classes and organizations in front of the camera.

For the convention of the Oregon Development League meeting at Eugene, the Oregon Electric has announced a rate and allied lines effective February 18 and 19. The rate will be in effect as far west as Rainier and eastward on the S. P. & S. to Goldendale and Plymouth, Washington, and to all Central Oregon towns on the Oregon trunk. Indications are for a big attendance at the Eugene convention.

Mrs. A. M. Clough has gone to Portland where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Rex Bishop. Mrs. Clough is making the visit in response to the news received by her that the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop had the misfortune to sustain serious injuries by falling down the stairs at the family home in Portland. The little fellow's leg was painfully bruised as the result of the long fall.

Under the arrangements of Mrs. Hiram Bross, the noonday lunch given by the Women's Union of the First Congregational church yesterday, proved to be a great success. One hundred local men and women partook of the feast and the union realized $25 clear.

News has been received here of the death of Hon. Walter Campbell, state representative from Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler counties. Mr. Campbell passed away at his home in Portland yesterday. He was well known in this city, and was one of the most popular representatives in the house.

A fair sample of the "thorough" manner in which the courts deal with petty offenders is aptly illustrated by the court records in Junction City, Portland and Salem. Two hoboes, Patrick McGee and J. J. Coffey, were arrested in Junction City for being caught within the confines of an S. P. boxcar. They were turned over to the federal authorities in Portland, the Junction City people evidently believing the men should be sent to McNeil's Island for ten years. The federal grand jury took its time about acting on the case, and finally, after a month's delay, turned McGee and Coffey loose. The local officers thought they had something on the men, and Contable yesterday took them in charge. Again the courts found that prosecution was impossible, and the unfortunate fellows were turned over to the sheriff of Lane county. Just what idea the Lane county officers have remains to be seen, but, nevertheless, the state of Oregon has been put to considerable expense all because McGee and Coffey used an old boxcar for a temporary bed.

County Clerk Gehlar yesterday issued marriage licenses to O. H. Brougher and Lida E. Thomas, of Scotts Mills, and G. V. M. Stenstrom and Jessie May Williams, of Salem.

The remains of Mrs. Mary Shipp were laid to rest in City View cemetery yesterday afternoon beside those of her only daughter, who died several years ago. The services were conducted by Professor James T. Matthews, assisted by Rev. Mr. Spencer, pastor of the Leslie M. E. church, and Rev. Harry E. Marshall, pastor of the First Baptist church. Mrs. Theo. Roth sang an old favorite hymn of the deceased. The pall bearers were: Chauncey Sanders, Everett Anderson, Reuben Saunders, Sam R. Vail, H. H. Vestch, A. S. Hussey, Leonard Hixon and A. H. Wilson.

Judge Galloway yesterday granted a divorce to Mrs. Mary R. Wood from N. S. Wood. The plaintiff, on the witness stand yesterday, told the court that, besides being guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment, Wood has eloped with a local woman by the name of Mrs. Ida Wright, a former waitress here, and is now in San Francisco with his new mate. The plaintiff further advised the court that, shortly after her marriage to the defendant, he threw her down on the floor of a public dance hall in this city and used coarse and brutal language toward her. There were no property rights involved in the suit.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Cowles, of Albany, are in the city today visiting friends, and incidentally Mr. Cowles is looking after a few little matters of business.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Bittner left this morning for their home in Billings, Montana, after visiting with friends and relatives in Salem and Portland for the past month. Mr. Bittner, before leaving today, said he did not want to go but that he must for the reason he had about 1500 head of cattle near Billings which need his personal attention. When asked whether he owned any blooded stock in Montana or not, Mr. Bittner said that all of his cattle are blooded—"run a mile in any old time."

An informal dance was given at the Hotel Marion last evening by the ladies of the Episcopal church. About 200 persons responded to invitations, some entire families being present. Punch was served and dancing enjoyed until a late hour. Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. H. B. Thielgen and Mrs. George Wood were patronesses. This is the second annual dance of St. Paul's Guild.

TINKER DENIES HE IS TO RETURN TO NATIONAL

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Chicago, Feb. 5.—Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federal league club, was silent today regarding reports that he is dickering for the services of Tris Speaker and Sam Crawford, both American league stars. He denounced as false, however, the report that he intended to return to the National league. "That report is baseless," he said. "I have had enough of the National league."

Bush leaguers flooded Federal league headquarters here today with applications for jobs.
