CLABBY WINS SECOND BOUT WITH PETROSKY

Sailor Keeps Up Even Fight Until Twelfth Round, Although Clabby Is Favorite.

DISTRESSED WHEN FIGHT REACHES TWENTIETH ROUND

Both Men Fight Viciously and Frequently Forget All Thought of Science and Defense.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 13.—Jimmy Clabby, Indiana middleweight, defeated Sailor Ed. Petrosky yesterday afternoon in 20 rounds of fighting at Vernon arena. It was Clabby's second victory over the ex-bluejacket, and he went into the ring a big favorite, but his chances were no more than even by the time the 12th round was reached. He could not stop the sailor, and stand off and box as he desired, and Petrosky, landing an occasional smash or swing, badly damaged Clabby's mouth and eyes.

Clabby regained the lead after the 12th, and seemed to have the sailor a trifle distressed in the 20th. Both men fought viciously, and frequently lost all thought of science or defense to clinch and whang away at each other. Clabby at the beginning removed his front teeth, to save a golden dental bridge from damage, and went into battle with his lower lip close up under his nose. Petrosky bore a few of the scars of battle out of the ring, but the decision went against him purely on points scored by his cleverer opponent.

Small Crowd Drawn. Even the lure of a perfect California winter day failed to draw a fair crowd. The higher priced seats were well filled but the gallery birds' attendance was slim. Only the shady side of the bleachers was filled. A hot sun blistered the canvas in the arena and coats were doffed generally throughout the house.

Steve Dalton and Ben Hart, lightweights, were the first preliminary boys to appear. Hart was a joke and went out early in the second round from a right to the jaw.

Jimmy Lastris then took a four round decision from Fighting Lee. They are bantams. Harry Atwood and Babe Sherman featherweights, then tried to entertain the crowd.

Betting Quickly Lengthens. Clabby's admirers offered to back their judgment to such an extent that the betting at ringside quickly lengthened to 10 to 4. A San Francisco delegation snapped up practically all that was offered at that figure.

It was announced before the fight that Promoter McCarey would give Clabby, if he won, a belt emblematic of the world's middleweight championship, a condition being attached that the holder must defend it against all comers at 148 pounds ring-side. If Petrosky wins, said McCarey, the belt will be withheld, said McCarey holding that the sailor is not a real middleweight, and therefore cannot hold the title.

CHURCHILL ENTHUSIASTIC OVER CHILDREN'S CONGRESS. Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill announced yesterday that he was urging a boys' and girls' industrial congress as one of the features of the Panama-Pacific exposition. Mr. Churchill has arranged to send ten winners of prizes in the children's industrial department of the state fair to the exposition, and he will urge other states which have industrial clubs to do likewise, the winners from the various states to be delegates to the congress. Mr. Churchill thinks the plan would be of benefit in stimulating interest in the work.

SENATOR BACON IMPROVING. [UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Washington, Feb. 13.—Senator Bacon, of Georgia, who is at the hospital suffering from serious kidney affections, was so much improved last night that his physicians decided an operation would not be necessary. One can't get the best of a citizen who hasn't any.

foolish. Within a year organized baseball will be on the mat begging us to come in. But we will not care whether we are 'out' or 'in.' ARRANGE HARNESS RACE DATES.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 13.—Programs, dates and purses for harness racing on the fair circuits in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and British Columbia this summer, are being arranged today by the directors of the North Pacific Fair Association, who began a two days' conference. It was believed that purses would be limited to $300 or $400 as it was said that last season various fair associations advertised larger purses than they were able to pay.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Paris, Feb. 13.—The Pommery Cup rules for this year today were changed so that the aviator making the longest flight in a straight line in 36 hours will be declared the winner instead of as last year the time being between sunup and sunset. The total prize amounts to $12,000 but is divided into six parts, one to be awarded every six months.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Newport, Feb. 12.—(Special).—Politics are beginning to simmer. Samuel G. Irvine has announced his candidacy for joint senator for Lincoln and Polk counties. Some of the most prominent republicans say, "Let's see who else comes out."

NEWPORT IS INTERESTED IN POLITICS BEGINNING TO SIMMER AND IRVINE SEEKS PLACE AS SENATOR.

Many new people are here and many pieces of property have changed hands. The protracted meetings started by the Presbyterians in their church seem likely to accelerate as the weeks go by. The Seventh Day Adventists have closed a fairly successful meeting, and will hold regular Sabbath meetings at the Commercial rooms, in the Odd Fellows' building on 6th and Harburt streets.

The Nye Beach Association continues to hold regular meetings on Tuesday evenings of each week. They are to be held in the parlor of the "Cliff House" where they were first started. The rest room is being pushed to completion and, the offer of Dr. Minthorn was accepted and permanent work will fulfill the part demanded by the whole-souled medical practitioner.

Edward Gallagher sold his house and two lots to Mrs. Olive H. D'Vaney and he left for San Francisco yesterday morning.

The salesmen who have charge of the sale of the Blakeley & Taft Co., are doing nicely, and the stock is perceptibly growing less every day.

ALLEGES BRIBE TO MARRY. [UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] London, Feb. 13.—William Smith, an English chauffeur, was sentenced today to ten months' hard work on a charge of bigamy in marrying Catherine Higgins, of New York, while his wife was alive in England. The prisoner voluntarily gave himself up and confessed the crime, saying he had been forced to marry the woman by his American employers, who offered him the management of a farm on condition that he did so.

It is a good thing that a few old-fashioned people believe that street cars are run for the benefit of the public instead of the stockholders.

ENGLISH BEAUTY TELLS COMPLEXION SECRETS ("Elise" in American Home.)

Through a fortunate meeting with an English lady, noted for her dazzling complexion, I recently learned the full meaning of that old adage, "Beauty is but skin deep." She taught me how to remove my muddy, old skin, revealing the young and beautiful skin underneath. The process is so simple, harmless and inexpensive, I'm sure you'll be glad to know about it. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercerized wax at any drugstore and apply nightly, like cold cream, for a week or so. Every morning in washing off the wax, tiny particles of worn-out cuticle come off, too. The action is so gentle and gradual, there's no discomfort. It's a wonderful treatment, as it not only peels off the faded or discolored skin, but all of its defects, as chaps, roughness, freckles, pimples, blotches, blackheads.

I am indebted to the same lady for a remarkable wrinkle-removing formula. One ounce powdered saxolite is dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Used as a face bath, this is so effective that just one application causes the finer lines to disappear, and soon even the deeper ones go.

BIG SURPRISE IS COMING

JOE TINKER SAYS EVERS IS NO POOL AND FEDERALS WILL PAY HIM WELL.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] New York, Feb. 13.—Organized baseball was promised the biggest surprise of its life within two days by Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals, here this afternoon. He refused to give out any information concerning his promise but did admit that the Federals would get Johnny Evers, deposed manager of the Chicago Cubs. "The Federals don't recognize that Evers is under contract," said Tinker, "and will pay him more money than the organized clubs. Evers is a sucker if he signs up with any organized club. I know him well. He's no sucker. Just take that from me. Says Big Leaguers Scared. "We did not come here to see the National or American league magnates. If there is any seeing to be done they must come to us. I will just bet $1,000 that the Federals start the season on scheduled time and another $1,000 that they go through the season. "The big league magnates don't know where they stand. They are badly scared. If any dying is done it will be the old boys. We are in a position to wreck every minor league club in the country and make the big boys look

OPEN FORUM.

CRITICIZES THE CRITIC.

Editor Capital Journal: In the "Daily Oregon Journal" of January 23, there appeared an editorial, in which it was stated that the estimated cost of present Oregon roads was twenty-four thousand dollars per mile. I wonder where such editor secured his information, and if such statistical estimates can be secured by the general public? Any person who would make such an estimate is a fit subject for either a lunatic asylum or "oney" membership in an Ananias club; and, any editor, who would consider such an absurd estimate worthy of favorable editorial mention, belongs to the same class.

Oregon seems to be afflicted with a bunch of disgruntled, road-knockers, mis-called road-booster, who apparently are ignorammuses, individually endowed with some mental vacuum that develops periodical brain storm fits, during the rainy season, making them mentally incapable of grasping any real conception of past road conditions, circumstances, expenditures, efforts and results; or they are unprincipled men, endeavoring to carry out their selfish aims and policies through deception, misrepresentation and hypocritical dishonesty.

For illustration, let us analyze the estimate that the roads of Oregon cost twenty-four thousand dollars per mile. According to estimates secured from the office of State Highway Engineer Bowly, there are about thirty-six thousand miles of roads in Oregon, taking the sum of twenty-four thousand dollars and multiplying it by thirty-six thousand, the result is the stupendous sum of eight hundred and sixty-four million dollars. The principal of such a sum would provide a fund of twenty-one million six hundred thousand dollars, annually for forty years; or it would provide a fund of two million five hundred thousand dollars annually which is the approximate amount expended upon Oregon roads during the year 1910, for over three hundred and forty five years. I wonder if the editor of the "Oregon Journal" intended to convey any quick ideas or did he presume that his readers were such numbskulls, that they would accept such Ananias dope, through dull, ignorant, blind-faith?

In the "Sunday Oregonian" of January 25, there appeared a special report of a road meeting held at Independence to consider bonds in Polk county for road improvement, and in such report Thomas McCusker is quoted as follows: "It is estimated that the roads of Oregon cost twenty-four thousand dollars per mile. Eighteen million dollars has been spent upon Oregon roads, and of this amount seventeen million dollars has been wasted."

A more absurd misstatement of actual past affairs and results could hardly be made. For proof let us analyze these figures. Taking eighteen million dollars as the total estimated expenditure, and dividing it by twenty-four thousand, the estimated cost per mile, we secure the sum of seven hundred and fifty, to represent the total road mileage of the state. Did Mr. McCusker presume that the people of Independence and Polk county were such numbskulls, that they could not analyze such figures, or were mentally too indolent to do so?

Without denying that Oregon needs better roads, and refraining from publicly taking sides in regard to issuing road bonds, I say most emphatically, that our state has more pressing need, of a better type of citizenship, that does not stoop to deception, misrepresentation and hypocritical dishonesty, in order to promote, develop and carry to completion, private or public aims and policies.

Paved roads are not worth the price of pursuing such a course of unprincipled manhood; and men of such character or type, should be publicly rebuked, even though it should prove necessary to travel over mud roads for generations to come, in order to effectively administer such a rebuke.

All good citizens should stand ever ready to denounce unprincipled men, who intentionally distort public facts, conditions, expenditures and results, in an effort to deceive and mislead the general public, regardless of their political faith, or their support or opposition to any public policy; for it is only through higher character development that our civilization can advance, and whenever the time comes that commercialized thought, continuously predominates in the minds of the masses, over higher character thought, then our civilization will be doomed to follow that of Rome and Greece. The value of roads is not comparable to that of character.
