MELBOURNE SPORT WRITER AT BALL GAME

Tells About Contest of White Sox and Giants in an Interesting and Unusual Contribution.

GAVE SOMEWHAT LIKE THAT OF PRIZE FIGHTER, HE SAYS

That of Catcher Particularly Impresses Australian and He Marvels at Hitter's Record.

BY HAL SHERIDAN.

(Written for the United Press.)

New York, Feb. 19.—The Australians, having seen the Giants and White Sox in action are inclined to scoff at our national game. At least one writer in the antipodes has gone on record as finding it hard to decide whether the Giants going into action look like "a band of Arctic explorers, braced for a march due south, or a contingent of prize fighters getting ready for the ring." Unless they appear for fights in Melbourne in different garb from that displayed in this country, we blush to think what the Giants must have looked like and shiver for the Arctic explorers. The writer in the Melbourne Age, however, explains. In describing the appearance of the American ball players, the story says:

"It was the novelty of the thing that chiefly appealed to the spectators. To see an American baseball team taking the field is vastly impressive at the outset. There are nine men on a side and the New Yorkers as they stepped onto the field, looked a formidable and rather fearsome contingent. In size they are above the average; one or two of them would easily turn the scale at fourteen stone, and they add to their bulky appearance by wearing loose and baggy garments, surmounted by white hats pulled down well over the eyes. The man who acts as catcher—a position corresponding to that of wicket keeper at cricket—is fearfully and wonderfully arrayed against all possible mischances of the game. He carries a heavy glove in one hand; he has his legs incased in pads of considerable size and thickness, and wears around his body a sort of leather buckler that would be a fair protection against a Macedonian phalanx. One would not be surprised to see him mount a charger and gallop three times around the ground defying all and sundry to mortal combat. It rather a disappointment to find that he intends to do nothing more than stand immediately behind the striker and catch the occasional balls that come his way."

How They Play.

There is almost a snicker in the Age story's reference to pitching as "bowling." But to go ahead, the story continues:

"Someone stands in the base with a wooden bat in his hand; some one bowls or 'pitches' at him; if he hits the ball hard enough or far enough he will get around the ring—in other words he will get what baseballers call a run, and what children call a rounder; if he is caught off the bat he is out—just as he is in rounders; and if he is not fast enough to get to a base before the ball gets there he is out also."

Considering the noise a world's series crowd is able to make and the near cases of nervous prostration that develop, what must we be falling for when an outsider sees the game as the Australians see it? Continuing as follows:

"But the game, as a game, seems to lack intensity and continuous interest. It is rather suggestive of a garden party. It reminds the Australian on-looker of his first open air picnic." Rawhah zippy is our choice of sports evidently, in the opinion of Australians. Umpire Klem came in for almost the only praise that was handed out. "The deep sepulchral tones of his voice were greatly admired," says the Melbourne scribe.

"The umpire, who stands just behind the striker, combines the duties of judge with those of herald; every time a player went to bat the umpire turned to the crowd and in strident tones, with a voice that could be heard all over the grounds, announced to the listening multitude who the distinguished batsman was. Thus it was: 'Ladies and gentlemen (cheers) the striker is Jim Thorpe, (renewed cheers), the undoubted champion athlete of the world.' (Tremendous cheering.) If the striker happened to be caught or otherwise disposed of the umpire sang his dirge in this fashion: 'He's out!'

Describes White Sox.

Some space was given to a description of the White Sox, and on this the Age delivered itself as follows:

"The Chicago players were garbed in blue. Apart from the difference in colors, there was not much to choose between the teams in the matter of physique or skill. The New Yorkers looked slightly the heavier, but the Chicago players were almost, if not quite as substantial. The New York team started batting, and in their first inning—the word has to be carefully spelled without any—made three.

"The Chicagoites in their first venture failed to score. The manner in which the striker hit the ball, sometimes aloft, sometimes along the ground but often hard enough to hit the fence—no slight feat, seeing that the bat is not like the cricket bat, but shaped like a thick walking stick—compelled admiration. In catching the visitors are highly expert; to put a ball anywhere near a fieldman is certain death. After they had seven innings each the New Yorkers were leading by 8 runs to 6. Each side added a run in its eighth attempt and at the finish the game was: Giants, 12; White Sox, 8. Giants thus won by four runs." They even subtract for 'em over in Melbourne.

COMPETITION IS NEEDED

WOMAN TELLS HOUSE COMMITTEE SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE IN TRUST MEASURE.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Christine Frederick, of Philadelphia, representing the Housewives League of America, demanded and secured yesterday afternoon a hearing before the house judiciary committee on the trust bill. She pleaded with its members to urge congress to consider women buyers in small stores in framing the proposed legislation.

Mrs. Frederick said women studying business methods demanded that the trust bill abolish "ent throat and cut price" competition. She bitterly denounced "bargain counter scrambles," adding: "Once I crowded around a bargain counter and suffered a twisted plexus torus; had a sleeve torn from my waist and had my heat hat wrecked. Finally I secured three yards of lace, for which I paid 78 cents. Competition and not price cutting will work the salvation of business with Uncle Sam as the umpire."

RADIUM LAND WITHDRAWAL DISCUSSED IN COLORADO

Denver, Feb. 19.—Secretary Lane's recent advocacy of the withdrawal from public entry of all radium bearing mines in this country, is expected to be one of the principal topics of discussion during the Colorado mining convention which began here today. Thos. R. Hencham, state mining commissioner, called the convention "to form a permanent and state-wide organization to promote the metalliferous mining interests of Colorado." Representatives are present from Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico.

Mine taxation, home leasing pools and government aid in solving low grade ore problems also will be discussed. One hundred and fifty delegates are in attendance.

CINCY SEEKS REGIONAL BANK

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 19.—Cincinnati bankers merged with civic organizations today to tell the organization committee under the new currency law why Cincinnati should be favored over Cleveland for the regional reserve bank in Ohio's district. The committee composed of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary of Agriculture Houston will hold hearings here tomorrow and will hear Cleveland's side of the argument on February 21, in that city. The fight between the two Ohio cities waxed warm. The committee returns to Washington February 22.

FOR ILLINOIS BUILDING.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—The plans for the Illinois building at the San Francisco 1915 exposition were agreed upon here yesterday at a conference between Governor Duane and the members of the state Panama-Pacific commission. The building is to cost $100,000 exclusive of the furnishings.

INSISTS ON SAFE ZONE

PRESIDENT WILSON WANTS THE NEUTRALS PROTECTED DURING FIGHT AT TORREON.

Mexico City, Feb. 19.—President Wilson, through Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, is insisting that President Huerta and General Villa, the rebel leader agree upon maintenance of a neutral zone at Torreon in which foreigners and other non-combatants may have some degree of safety in the event of a battle.

President Huerta has agreed to the plan conditional upon General Villa's acquiescence to it. It is understood that generals of the United States have asked for the neutral zone. There is nothing here to indicate that there will be serious fighting at Torreon for several days.

Salvador Diaz Miron, editor of El Imperial, has been placed under police surveillance as a result of his threats to kill Mr. O'Shaughnessy, who recently protested to President Huerta concerning the character of a series of anti-Wilson editorials appearing in El Imperial. It appears, however, that the most serious threat made by Miron was that he would repeat to Mr. O'Shaughnessy's face what he had written in editorials.

The charge takes the editor seriously and has reported the incident to Washington. The state department has assured him that it approves of his protest and that the American government intends to give him and his family protection.

OHIO STATE CO-EDS DECIDE ON SIMPLE LIFE

Columbus, Feb. 19.—The co-eds of Ohio State University have returned to the simple life. After today the first year girls will no longer have their heads in a whirl as the result of "rushing" parties. Acting under the direction of the newly established board of censorship, the Woman's Pan-Hellenic Association, a university organization, adopted these resolutions: "We will accept only the moderated form of the standard dances, barring all conspicuous forms. We approve of simplicity of dress for formal functions and greater simplicity in rushing. There shall be one week of rushing, each sorority giving one party, the cost of which shall not in any case exceed $50. We are resolved to do away with the expense and fuss of former years."

SMITH OF BELLEVUE CHEER MAKER FOR SICK

Bellevue, O., Feb. 19.—When Thomas A. Edison invented the phonograph he had no idea what a part it would play in cheering up sick folks in Bellevue, Ohio. If Edison were to see Frank W. Smith, of Bellevue, pushing a wheelbarrow containing a phograph down the street he'd ask what Smith was doing. Here is the answer: Smith cheers up sick folks with his phonograph. Wherever he hears of a "shut-in" he starts out. "Flowers aren't just the thing for sick folk," declared Smith. "A phonograph record does them much more good." Sickness in any family is a sure sign that Smith will read it in the paper and be on his way with his phonograph.

GENERAL CARRANZA IS CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS

Nogales, Ariz., Feb. 19.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late yesterday from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He went to Naco by train late yesterday and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile. Carranza was given a rousing welcome at Hermosillo early yesterday when he returned from a tour of the state with Governor Maytorena. He delivered an address at the governor's palace predicting the early success of the constitutionalist forces before Mexico City.

WEST VIRGINIA FACES DEFICIT DUE TO STRIKE AND DROUGHT

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 19.—A deficit facing the state treasury is the reason the $75,000 appropriated for West Virginia's building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco next year is not available now, according to declaration here today of Governor Hatfield.

"The Paint Creek strike cost $500,000," said the governor, "and prohibition will result in a decrease in state revenues of more than $612,000 annually."

A CURT REPLY.

The proofreader on a certain western daily was a woman of great precision and extreme propriety. One day a reporter succeeded in getting into type an item about Willie Brown, the boy who was burned in the West End by a live wire. The next day the reporter found on his desk a frigid note asking, "Which is the west end of a boy?" It took only an instant to reply, "The end the son sets on, of course."—Ex.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunate ones, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "wind-downs" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optoma, fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Optoma tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eye-lids, weak eyes, conjunctives and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of those victims of neglect. Eye-glasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasingly weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.
