State Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill said today that more interest was being taken in spelling in the public schools in Oregon than ever before. In many of the counties, notably Lane, Jackson, Slackamas, Polk and Yamhill, the county superintendents are insisting upon improved spelling methods and are accomplishing encouraging results. H. C. Seymour, superintendent of Polk county has written that at a recent contest there were 1553 third grade pupils, 936 of whom made 100 per cent.

Dr. F. L. Utter, dentist, Masonic bldg

Beginning with the first of March the old J. M. Lawrence grocery on the corner of Commercial and Ferry streets will be under the ownership of L. M. Boggs & Co., who have purchased the business from Baldwin & Curtis, the present owners. The latter will retire from commercial affairs for a time and have not decided what they will engage in later. Mr. Boggs is a traveling salesman and is well liked in Salem where he has a large acquaintance.

The lad's parents are well known in this city. Mrs. Bishop being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Clough. The boy sustained a severe shock recently by falling down stairs in the family home in Portland and it is believed that his present illness is the result.

With no snow in the mountains and the rain fall reduced down to the minimum, the Willamette river at this point is going down to the summer stage at rapid strides at present. The looked-for freshets did not materialize and several of the river bottom farmers south of this city are fearful that unless the old stream gets busy soon they will be compelled to burn the drift wood and brush which was thrown on their lands by the last high water, instead of passing it along with the first big raise of the Willamette his season.

County Fruit Inspector Constable predicts that Marion county will break all records for fruit crops this year, in the event the weather does not turn off exceptionally cold. He states that despite the fact that the trees are coming out in spring clothes rather early, they will not suffer unless a hard freezing spells come on. Mr. Constable declares that it is not likely that extreme cold weather will prevail in the valley for months to come, due to the fact that the mountains are practically free of snow and that from all indications, the future climatic conditions will be ideal for the fruit. Spraying is being done all over the county at the present time and the inspector declares that fruit growers are showing a willingness to get everything ready for the coming annual inspections.

The Elks had a most enjoyable session last evening. Several candidates were initiated, and the festivities continued until a late hour.

The K. P. hall was the scene of a most enjoyable celebration last evening, the occasion being the golden jubilee of the organization. Pythian Sisters aided the members of the K. P. Lodge in the celebration, and the program was most enjoyable and appropriate. It was carried out in full, as published by The Capital Journal last evening.
