WOMEN ARE DOING ALL THEY CAN TO HELP OUT

By ED. L. KEEN.

(London Correspondent for the United Press.)

London, Feb. 24.—"We women are doing all we can, in every possible way, to help the 100,000 men whom Ulster has armed and drilled in order to remain an integral part of the united kingdom. Just as the American Civil war was fought to keep the states together, so we are striving against separation."

In a statement made today to the Belfast correspondent of the United Press, the Marchioness of Londonderry, president of the Ulster Women's Unionist council, thus summed up the feminine attitude in the North of Ireland on the home rule question. Her husband, Sir Edward Carson, was one of the organizers of the Ulster provisional government, is president of the men's Ulster Unionist council.

Would Not Pass Muster.

"Such a change in the constitution of these islands as is proposed in the home rule bill," said Lady Londonderry, "would not be allowed to be passed in other civilized countries unless by a two-thirds majority, or some other definite and unquestioned expression of the popular will had been shown in support of the alteration. Why, then, should this bill be smuggled through without an appeal to the people? It which professes to believe in democracy is a curious fact, that the radical party, which professes to believe in democracy, should decline to consult the democracy. The question of the separation of Ireland from Great Britain is one that concerns Ireland as well as much as it concerns Great Britain, and we will not allow this crime to be perpetrated. That his Majesty's army should be sent against the most loyal of loyal populations in Great Britain at the bidding of the Irish Nationalist party is unthinkable. Ulster is more determined than she has ever been that she will not consent to be dominated by, or even to acknowledge in any way, a parliament and an executive in Dublin. The government seems to forget that it is up against not merely a political organization but a whole population. If the radical party holds to the belief that country cannot be governed without the consent of the governed, the men of Ulster and we women backing them up, will show how."

In 40 towns of the province "post-standfast is our resolve to continue to house," distinct from government be governed as new, within the union, post-offices have already been established. The head "post-house," at the Unionist headquarters in Belfast, is doing business regularly, and so are these in some of the other larger towns, but for the present the smaller "post-houses" are used only for occasional testing purposes. The entire staff in these houses is composed of women—twelve in the larger towns and six in the smaller. Boy bicycle cadets make local deliveries, and the country messengers or letters are delivered by motorcyclists attached to the Ulster Despatch Riding corps, who are pledged to turn out at any time of day or night when called upon.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends Indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in Five Minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation. This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

WOMEN TO POLLS FOR FIRST TIME IN CHICAGO

Anti-Spitting and Anti-Smoking Crusade Involved in Fight Waged By Women There.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Chicago, Feb. 24.—The first actual test of strength of the woman vote in the largest equal suffrage city in the world was made here today. Chicago women cast their ballots for the first time since the Illinois suffrage law was enacted and participated in the primaries to choose candidates for the board of aldermen. Eight woman candidates for council seats were on the ballots today—three progressives, three socialists and two democrats. Four of them have opposition in the primaries but the names of the other four are certain to be placed on the ballots for April 7.

Around these four women candidates who must fight for party endorsements most of the interest in the outcome of today's primaries centered, but the suffrage vote played an even more important part in the other twenty-seven wards that offered no women candidates. In these wards male candidates astonished at the size of the suffragist registration on February 3, bid against each other for the support of women's organizations in one of the liveliest campaigns in the city's history. For three weeks the play to the suffrage section of the galleries on the part of aldermanic candidates, city officials and opposing party factions has been one of the most important and significant developments in the political history of Chicago. Aldermen who discarded quids of tobacco and squirted streams of juice recklessly, suddenly discovered that the spitting evil was the one great crime of the age, when women's organizations urged action upon them. Council committees got very busy and Mayor Harrison and his police department even busier. The official word that 158,026 women had registered at their first opportunity had scarcely been given out when the police began making wholesale arrests of persons who expectorated on the sidewalks.

The anti-spitting campaign was scarcely under way when the anti-smoking campaign got under way with a boom. It was directed at the practice of permitting smoking in the front platform of street cars. Various women's organizations supported by street car motormen, called the practice disgusting, pointed out that the smoke permeated the cars, and descended upon the council health committee. The members of the committee courteously laid aside their cigars, listened to the arguments and promised to recommend an anti-smoking ordinance for passage.

Politicians Get in Line.
The haste with which politicians of both "low brow" and "high brow" type have come to the support of measures advocated by women voters encouraged suffrage leaders today to predict that not only all the four women candidates with opposition will be nominated at the primaries, but in several wards known opponents to woman suffrage probably will find themselves eliminated from the race. Miss Marion H. Drake, stenographer suffragist, who is a candidate for the progressive nomination in the First ward, is believed to be almost certain of obtaining the nomination over Karl N. Wehle, her male opponent, who counts his strength among the negro population of the First, but Miss Drake will have the backing of influential male progressives. If she wins the nomination she will oppose the notorious "Bathhouse John" Coughlin, democrat in the April 7 election.

In the Second ward Miss Sarah M. Hopkins, candidate for the democratic nomination for the council is opposed by Thomas T. Hoynes. The suffragist registration in the Second totaled 6,164. Miss Hopkins counts upon the votes of at least two-thirds of the women in the democratic primaries and upon the votes of independent democrats. She has been making an active campaign in that ward, including speech-making all over the district. Mrs. Raymond Robins, wife of a prominent progressive leader, filed at the last minute as a candidate for the progressive nomination in the Seventeenth ward. Her opponent is Albert F. Senger. The suffragist registration in the Seventeenth is light, but backers of Mrs. Robins count upon support for her from the union labor elements, because of her efforts in behalf of the working girls' unions.

Persuaded to Run.
Mrs. Marie Gerhardt was a late entrant for the democratic nomination in the Twenty-third, one of the wards where the women vote is expected to be unusually heavy. Her friends persuaded her to run by arguing that the presence of two male candidates in the fight for the democratic nomination made a suffrage victory probable if a majority of the 6,000 registered women voters get behind a woman candidate.

Mrs. Julia Agnew, progressive candidate in the Twenty-first, has no opposition for the nomination. Her husband a Hearst-Harrison candidate, is a county employe, but promised her at least his vote if not his influence.

Mrs. Josephine C. Kanoeko, socialist writer; Mrs. Lida E. McDermott and Miss Maude J. Doll, socialist candidates, are not opposed by other members of their party and are certain of places on the April 7 ballot.
