NITRATE OF SILVER IS GURE FOR CIGARETTES

Superintendent of Training School Says It Has Been in Use During the Past Six Weeks.

HAVE NOT SLIGHTEST DESIRE FOR TOBACCO, THEY NOW SAY

Nearly All Boys Received at School Smoke Cigarettes and They Get Treatment on Arrival.

After giving it a thorough trial for six weeks on boys sent to the institution, W. F. Hale, superintendent of the state training school for boys, stated last night that nitrate of silver was a positive cure for the cigarette habit. He said one treatment put an end to the smoking for the time being, and treatment for several days ended the craving.

"Almost all boys sent here are cigarette smokers," declared the superintendent, "and, of course, it has been our practice to break them of the habit as soon as possible. In some instances the boys were so addicted to tobacco that it would have been unwise to take it away from them at once, so they were allowed to smoke in moderation for two or three days. However, when a smoker arrives now we give him the nitrate of silver treatment and that ends the habit. They simply cannot smoke after their mouths and throats have been swabbed with the drug.

"One of our physicians heard of the treatment several months ago, and we began its use about six weeks ago. We said nothing about it for awhile, because we thought it best to await results, but now that we have found it efficacious we do not care who knows it. The boys who have finished the treatment say they have not the slightest desire for tobacco. I am certain the treatment would be as efficacious for adults as for boys and that the tobacco habit in all forms would yield to it."

JABS AND JOLTS

Ed Walsh says he never felt better in his life. But have you ever heard of a ball player in spring who ever felt better in his life?

Jimmy Clabby made Sailor Petrovsky look like a hitching post, but none of them is fast enough to stall with Bunting Barleycorn.

Still, we fear that if the said J. Clabby starts for Australia Eddie McGorty will develop a sudden longing for Oshkosh, Wis.

The ancient team is but a dream, Its glory all departed, The Cubs are canned and gone And I am broken-hearted.

Come On, You Spring.

The sport page reeks with baseball politics, And tells of magnates throwing mud and bricks, Of legal suits and double-crossing stunts, Until the public hoilers: Nix! Aw nix!

But soon will gentle spring be on the job, And to the sunny south the baseball mob

Will wend its way, and scribes will rave about The new-found youth who hit like Tyrus Cobb.

And even Charlie Murphy will be dumb— A stunt which, by the way is going some— And we shall read in large and glaring type "Ed Walsh Comes Back" or "Heine Sprains a Thumb."

O gentle spring, with all your mud and rain, We yearn to see your tear-stained face again, For then will athletes fill the sporting page

And baseball magnates raise their howls again.

LIKES TRAINING SCHOOL

BOY WHO IS PAROLED RETURNS AND BRINGS LITTLE BROTHER WITH HIM.

It is not often that boys break into reform schools and houses of refuge, but that is what Ernest and Richard Minty, of Dallas, virtually have done today.

Ernest, who is 13 years old, was sent to the state training school for boys about 18 months ago because he persisted in playing truant from school. Superintendent Hale found him to be a good lad and about six months ago the boy was paroled and sent home.

Nothing more was heard of the lad at the institution until last Friday, when he arrived, leading his little brother. They were spattered with mud from head to foot and looked as though they might have been "hiking" through the country for the purpose of creating sentiment for good roads.

"I decided to come back," said Ernest to Superintendent Hale, "and Dick said he wanted to come with me, so he caught hold of my hand and we started out. The roads are pretty muddy, but we kept coming and now we are here. I liked it here and brother thought he would too."

Mr. Hale took the lads in and has been caring for them since. He has written to their parents to come for them, but has received no reply. "It would be impossible for us to keep the younger boy," said the superintendent today, "because he has not been committed, and the older one has been paroled. I expect their parents to come for them in a day or two."
