NOTHING TO THEFT CASE

COUNTY JUDGE THINKS EVIDENCE INSUFFICIENT TO SEND BOY TO STATE BASTILE.

County Judge Bushey stated this morning that T. L. Buckley, a minor, who was brought before him last week to answer to the charge of stealing articles from Salem stores, but, as current rumor has it, there was no evidence of "tear showers" when the lad was questioned. The county judge, stated this morning that Tom Kay, Governor West's special "cushion-foot" agent, "worked" the case up, and that Mrs. Lynch, Salem's police matron, took an active part in the case, with the result that the lad was brought before the court and turned loose for the reason of insufficient evidence to send him to the reformatory. Councilman Minton was a witness in the affair, testifying that the little lad in question hid the stolen articles in his barn in North Salem. Judge Bushey stated that there was nothing to the case, and that considerable gossip had been circulated over practically nothing.

NEGRO BOY ADMITS HE MURDERED AGED JANITOR

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.) Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 24.--Carl Duun, alias Ray Smith, a 19-year-old negro boy was arrested in Seattle yesterday by Detective William Fackler and confessed to the officer that he murdered Arthur H. Warden, aged school janitor, who was found dead near his home here more than eight months ago. Under a cross-examination conducted by Fackler, the boy is alleged to have broken down and begged to be given a speedy trial.

Warden was head janitor for the school board. On the evening of June 28 he left the downtown section, where had been visiting with another janitor Later Warden's body, with a bullet in the neck, was found by a pedestrian. His pockets had been rifled of their contents.
