POVERTY NOT GROUND TO TAKE CHILD AWAY

Attorney-General Disagrees With Circuit Judge in His View of Taking Care of Children.

CAN CATCH FISH FOR PURPOSES OF PROPOGATION.

Closed Season Does Not Apply to Angling for Hatchery Purposes, Declares Crawford.

The attorney-general has advised Fish Commissioner Clanton the law prohibiting fishing in certain portions of the Eogue river does not apply to the state, which can catch fish for the purpose of propagation at any time and any place.

An opinion was also handed out in effect that poverty is not sufficient grounds for taking children away from a parent. It seems that one of the circuit judges has recently held that although the father showed he earned $700 a year, that he was not able to take care of his children, because on top of caring for them he had an aged mother to support.

FARMERS PROSPEROUS

BUY MORE PIANOS THAN DURING PREVIOUS YEARS, SAYS LOCAL DEALER.

"The farmers are rich," said George C. Will this morning. In the opinion of the old reliable music dealer, there has never been a spring when there was so much prosperity in the agricultural districts.

"I have sold three times as many pianos to farmers this season as I have ever sold before during the same portion of the year. And they were all high-grade pianos, too—the best there are," continued Mr. Will. "It proves that the people living out of town not only have discrimination and good judgment, but that they are making more money, and that with them, at least, times are good."

An automobile owned by G. H. Pool and driven by Harry Murphy met with an accident at the corner of High and Court streets this morning. The driver, in attempting to turn the corner, allowed his machine to skid with the result that a hind wheel crashed into the curbing with such force as to splinter it into several hundred pieces.

MEMPHIS GOES DRY.

[UNITED PRESS LEAD WIRE.] Memphis, Tenn., March 2.—Five hundred and seventy-six local saloonkeepers surrendered their licenses today to the county attorney-general, the "nolence law," which ended the day of open saloons in Tennessee, having gone into effect the first of the month. The places even of those who did not turn in their licenses were closed.

SPELLING.

"Spelling is a necessary evil," says a contemporary. Depends on how pretty the stenographer is.—Washington Herald.

I WONDER.

"I wonder who made the first umbrella?" "I don't know. I wonder who swiped it."—Houston Post.

TRAGIC.

"Well little boy, do you want to buy some candy?" "Sure I do, but I gotta buy soap."—Life.

Express companies have abandoned their attempt to increase fruit rates; they are far less independent and overbearing than they were awhile back.

One Seattle candidate for mayor in the primaries spent over $5000 in his campaign, and then came nowhere near getting the nomination—proof of his unfitness.

It was not in Saskatchewan, nor even in Minnesota, that an editor froze to death in a snowdrift near his house, but in a place called Garden City, Long Island, N. Y.
