WEST RAPS GODWIN IN TELEGRAM

Charges District Attorney is Trying to Get Service for Partner.

SAYS IT IS IN LINE WITH PAST CONDUCT

Asserts Office Was Used to Aid Aid Attorney for Pimps and Gamblers.

That District Attorney Godwin of Baker county is endeavoring to summon Col. E. K. Lawson warden of the state penitentiary, before the grand jury in order that Attorney Nichols, Godwin's former law partner, may serve him with papers in civil suits brought by Nichols against the governor and Lawson, was the charge made today by Governor West in a telegram to the foreman of the grand jury.

Several months ago the executive forwarded to Circuit Judge Anderson, of Baker, obscene pictures, alleged to have been found in a Copperfield saloon by Col Lawson when he put Copperfield under martial law. Godwin summoned Lawson as a witness, and when he failed to appear telegraphed the executive yesterday for an explanation. The governor replied that Frank Snodgrass, a member of the military squad which raided the saloons would appear and testify. This brought back a wire from Bird Spaulding, foreman of the grand jury, reading: "Grand jury does not want Snodgrass. If Lawson cannot appear we will give your matter the consideration it deserves."

Warm Telegram Sent.

Today the governor sent a telegram charging that Godwin was co-operating with his former law partner in an attempt to obtain the service of civil papers on Lawson, and demanding to know why the evidence of Snodgrass would not be acceptable. The message was as follows:

"Why doesn't grand jury want hear testimony Snodgrass? He is witness through whom this office expects to prove exhibition obscene pictures by Copperfield saloons also fact that houses or prostitution were allowed to run wild open in Baker and that Godwin and Rand had full knowledge of fact. In line with his past conduct the using his office to aid Nichols attorney for pimps, gamblers and booze peddlers he wishes to have Lawson subpoenaed and brought to Baker at the expense of the tax payers of your county in order that Nichols may serve him with papers in civil action."

Suit Instituted.

Attorney Nichols, in behalf of the saloon men, has instituted suits against Governor West and Col. Lawson, in which he seeks to recover damages because the Colonel and his men raided the saloons, and confiscated the liquor in them. These suits were brought in Baker county, and according to the governor, if personal service cannot be obtained on Lawson in that county, the cases will have to be tried here. This, he contends, the saloon men's lawyer is seeking to avoid, as his chances for obtaining a judgment before a Baker jury would be better than one in Marion county. To obtain personal service, an attempt, he says is now being made to bring Lawson before the grand jury.

HOW UNCLE JOE CANNON FEELS ABOUT THE CASE

Washington, March 20.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon and Secretary of War Garrison met in the capitol a few days ago, and among other things, discussed Theodore Roosevelt's trip through South America and particularly his latest "stunt" of grabbing a huge reptile by the neck at a snake fight, and lecturing to the natives on the habits of that particular species.

"Yes," said Cannon, "I read about it. What's the matter with those snakes down there? Can't they poison anyone?"

Belmont's Bride of 8 Days Sues

WANTS COURT TO GIVE HER ALLOWANCE DUE TO WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE'S SON.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] New York, March 20.—Mrs. Ethel Lorraine Belmont, former chorus girl, and wife of Raymond Belmont, son of August Belmont, the millionaire, appeared in Justice Greenbaum's court here today. She charged that the elder Belmont caused Raymond to desert her eight days after their wedding here in November, 1912, and asked an allowance sufficient to maintain her "in the style she would have enjoyed had Raymond continued to live with her."

The plaintiff, August Belmont and his attorneys were in court. An attempt to settle the case yesterday out of court was futile. Belmont was expected to testify this afternoon.

ROBBERS WRECK OFFICE.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Irvington, Cal., March 20.—Completely wrecking the interior of the postoffice here, two dynamite explosions early today shattered the safe doors, the flying pieces of metal completing the destruction of the letter racks and furnishings of the office. The crackers escaped with $75 in coin. Stamps and registered mail were left untouched.

It is believed that the robbers escaped in an automobile, for the tracks where the machine was turned were discovered in front of the building.

That no more loss was sustained was due to the fact that the bulk of the money was banked late yesterday.

SENATE REJECTS SUFFRAGE.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Washington, March 20.—The senate rejected yesterday afternoon the woman's suffrage amendment to the constitution. The vote was 34 for rejection to 35 against it a majority for the amendment, but not the necessary two-thirds. The Vanderman proposition to kill the fifteenth amendment was rejected.

GAMBLERS HEAVILY FINED IN PENDLETON AND GIVEN ROAST

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Pendleton, Or., March 20.—Judge Phelps scored today in the anti-gambling crusade when a majority of the gamblers indicted by the grand jury appeared before him and pleaded guilty. He imposed a total of $1450 in fines upon them and warned them that if they appeared again before him he would without hesitation give them the maximum penalty. "Gambling will no longer be tolerated in this county," he said, "and I warn all of you to stop it or go some place else."

W. N. Matlock, son of the mayor, was given the heaviest sentence. He was fined $250 and Judge Phelps gave him a sound lecture. "The fact that you are a relative of the administrative officers, have been identified with gambling may have been an inducement to others to gamble and for this reason I make your sentence heavier," said the court.

Judge Phelps invited all of the gamblers to make statements as to why they had engaged so openly in gambling, his obvious intent being to determine whether or not they had been protected by the authorities. Each refused to make a statement whereupon the judge recommended to District Attorney Steiner that he subpoena them all before the grand jury and endeavor to ascertain the reason.

CONVICT FREED UPON WEDDING GIRL IS IN HUMBLE ILLINOIS HOME

Shouts With Joy as He Clasps Tiny Figure of Child in Cradle.

SAYS BABY WON FIGHT

Wife Declares Sympathy for Offspring Responsible for Mercy to Kinzey, and Kinzey Talks.

By a United Press Staff Correspondent.

Sand Ridge, Ill., March 20.—A stalwart man, his face only slightly touched by prison pallor, entered a rough log house not far from the banks of the Mississippi river early today, and with a shout of joy clasped a tiny figure that lay sleeping peacefully in a cheaply built cradle.

Baby Vallie, whose chubby features have become known to countless thousands of newspaper readers throughout America had met his father, Charles Kinzey, for the first time since he was a month-old infant. Kinzey, who until yesterday was Convict A915 at the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Chester, turned to his wife, Cora, with a chuckle of glee and gently returned Vallie to his little bed.

"Baby is sick now," she whispered, "but he will be all right when he knows he has his daddy."

Mother Dangerously Ill.

Back from Chester, where Kinzey yesterday afternoon married the girl he had wronged and received a commutation of his 30 year prison sentence, that set him free, the reunited couple today were in seclusion. Kinzey's aged mother lies in one room of the little cottage, too weak to speak to her son, but praying that she may live a few days longer.

A simple, yet intensely dramatic wedding in the warden's parlor at the Chester penitentiary made Charles Kinzey and Cora Calvert man and wife. And then an engraved document, bearing a golden seal, was put in Kinzey's hands. It was the official acknowledgment of the great state of Illinois that Baby Vallie has the best claims upon Charles Kinzey's love and services.

Shyly Greets Girl.

It was a little after noon yesterday when Convict A915 walked into the parlor where the bride-to-be had been waiting all night. He had only heard a moment before of the commutation of his sentence.

Shyly he went up to the pale girl mother, who rose with a happy but embarrassed smile.

"Cora!" he cried, and in a moment the couple were closed in each other's arms. Then, "and—our boy!"

Cora's eyes grew grave when she told how baby Vallie, all the time the people were voting for him throughout the land in a movement to set his papa free, had lain ill in bed, almost at the point of death from pneumonia.

"But he is better now," she said.

"It will make him well, I think, when his daddy tells him to come to him."

Strange Bridal Party.

The marriage was a brief ceremony, performed by Prison Chaplain J. R. McDuffy, in the presence of Cora's relatives and the prison authorities. A few moments later the strange little bridal party left the prison, Charles Kinzey with his bride on his arm.

There never was a stranger honeymoon trip than that which Baby Vallie's mamma and papa took. It was late at night when they reached Grimsby Junction. Then they took a midnight carriage ride of fifteen miles, over snow clogged roads, reaching the Kinzey farm house at an early morning hour today.

"I am going to make a farmer out of him—a real man," Kinzey exclaimed today, while baby Vallie slept in an adjoining room.

Farmer's Life is Best.

"You might say," he added, "that I first learned about the world and about life when I was shut up away from it here in prison. I had the time to think about it and I met men from all classes from city and country. The farmer's life is the most free and happy and useful."

"Valley will be brought up on our own farm to be a farmer. He will go to an agricultural college too, if Cora and I can arrange it and when I leave our few acres to him I will leave it in

COUNTIES MUST STAND BACK OF EXPENSE OF RETURNING CRIMINALS

Governor Announces No Requisition Will Be Granted Otherwise.

CRAWFORD NOSES ABOUT

Said to Be Looking for Something on Governor and West Says He is Taking No Chances.

By a United Press Staff Correspondent.

Stating that the appropriation made by the last legislature for the return of fugitives from justice has been exhausted, Governor West today announced that he will issue no further requisitions unless requests for them by district attorneys are accompanied with a statement from the county courts guaranteeing the payment of all expenses.

The governor in making the announcement charged that Attorney General Crawford has been "nosing around" to find evidence that the executive has violated the deficiency law, and have him prosecuted, and declared that he would take no chances. The fugitive from justice appropriation was $8,500.

The executive's statement with relation to the subject was as follows:

"Under the deficiency law passed at the last session of the legislature, it is made a misdemeanor to incur indebtedness after the exhaustion of an appropriation. In view of this and the fact that Attorney General Crawford has been nosing around to find some deficiency claim incurred by this office in order that he might place it in the hands of a certain unfriendly prosecuting attorney in this state, and with the hope of having me indicted, I do not propose to take any chances in this matter."

It will be necessary, therefore, for all requests from district attorneys for requisitions for the return of criminals from other states, to be accompanied by a statement from the county court guaranteeing the payment of all expenses incurred."

OLDEST MAYOR.

Belle Center, Ohio, March 20.—This little Logan county village is governed by the oldest mayor in the United States, Joseph F. Dennis, who recently celebrated his 87th birthday. His administrations have been so satisfactory to the people that he has been re-elected several times.

Mayor Dennis enjoys also the distinction of being the oldest resident of the county. He moved to Belle Center 70 years ago when there were only log cabins here.

the hands of a finer farmer and a better man than I have ever been."

"It's been a long fight," said Cora. "I thought it was a losing fight for a long time but it turned out splendidly. My baby has won, and I want to thank all the people who voted for him and helped free his father, for their loving sympathy."

The commutation that set Kinzey free yesterday ended a prison term that might have been prolonged for more than 20 years. Kinzey won Cora Calvert nearly four years ago, when she was living in his mother's home. Then baby Vallie was born. Feeling against Kinzey was so strong that he received the maximum penalty of 30 years.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Belfast, March 20.—The activity displayed by the troops in the county today indicated military preparations on a large scale. Heavy detachments arrived today at Newry, Omagh, Armagh and Eniskillen, points where the garrisons ordinarily are small.

Benton, a wealthy English ranchman, in Mexico. Benton visited General Villa Jparez and met his death. Whether he was deliberately murdered or executed for attempting the life of Villa remained officially unsolved. The attempted investigation of the case by British Consul Charles A. S. Perceval, stationed at Galveston, Texas, was blocked by Carranza.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Mexico City, March 20.—Not only did he approve of the execution of the 140 mutineers put to death at Juchitán, but he approved of it so strongly, President Huerta said today, that he intended to reward General Castro, who ordered it. It was understood he planned to give Castro an important post in the north.

MUNICIPAL RAILWAY PAYS.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] San Francisco, March 20.—The Geary street municipal railway is one of San Francisco's best paying investments. Its accumulated earnings now amount to $263,240, according to figures given out here today. The road began business in December 1912. The Union street line since it came into possession of city, shows earnings of just about one-half of that of the Geary street line. This is considered remarkable by city officials as the Union line is less than half the length of the Geary street line.

ROYALISTS ARE ROUTED BY POLICE

Disorders Occur, Following Funeral of Calumette, But Mob is Beaten.

FIGHT IS FIERCE AND SEVERAL INJURED

Huge Royalists Crowd Shouts, "Down With Calliaux! Down With Assassins."

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Paris, March 20.—Despite elaborate police precaution to prevent it, rioting followed the funeral here today of Editor Gaston Calumette, of the Figaro, who was shot to death by the wife of Finance Minister Joseph Calliaux, his political enemy.

The disorders occurred on the Mont-martre district, where, in defiance of every effort, the authorities could make to keep the people moving, a huge royalist crowd gathered, shouting "down with Calliaux! Down with the assassins!" In the midst of the excitement an unidentified man fired several pistol shots.

Finding the excitement steadily increasing, the police finally charged. The royalists resisted, and a fierce fight ensued, in which a number of persons were injured. The police at length, however, succeeded in dispersing the mob.

Editor Maurice Jujo, of the Action Francaise, took a leading part in the demonstration.

FLY MARKET SLUMPING

LARGE RECEIPTS AT COMMERCIAL CLUB CAUSE FALL TO 15 CENTS PER HUNDRED.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Commercial club market report today—quits a slump in fly sales. Market dropping from 25c per hundred to 15c per hundred. Buyers fearful that the market will be swamped before night and dealers very cautious. Sufficient finance on hand however, to meet large bulk of unloaded fly stock. Market price for flies on foot absolutely abolished. Dressed insects in great demand, however.

Over 1500 flies were unloaded on the market yesterday and Ralph Moores, the "reader" for Wall street of the commercial club, expects big business this afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock. It is understood that a few jobbers are intending to throw a few hundred specimens on the block this afternoon while two or three big professional dealers who have been swatting exceptionally strong since yesterday will be on hand with a handsome lot.

It is the general consensus of opinion that if the market continues to go downward for a few days more it will suddenly take an upward flight and remain there until extreme warm weather prevails. This deduction is made because flies will be scarce and demand all the greater in "the street."

Several youngsters are practicing now to swat a fly without so mutilating it that its market value will be destroyed. Several bugs have been brought in by the inexperienced swatters which resemble a couple of wings attached to a piece of dough and the teler could not decide whether they were flies or bed-bugs.
