NEW IMMIGRATION POLICY.

FRESH from twenty-six years of life in Japan, Professor Sidney L. Gulick has proposed a new immigration policy for the United States. His suggestion has already been laid before the senate, and has also been put in the hands of President Wilson and Viscount Chinda, ambassador from Japan, at their request. His plan, at least, has the merit of originality.

Professor Gulick in The Survey's March magazine issue, explains his policy. He was the first exponent of the principle of regulating the influx of immigration according to the rate of its assimilation. This proposal is that the annual inflow from any country be limited to a percentage—not of those already in the country—but of those who have become naturalized, and their American-born children.

He contends that all differential Asiatic treatment must be abandoned, and points out that the danger of an overwhelming Oriental immigration can be obviated by this percentage plan. He says:

"Applied to Germany this 5 per cent rate would admit as many as 405,000 immigrants, whereas only 27,788 entered in 1912. From Great Britain 363,500 might enter, whereas 82,979 came in that year. Russian immigration would be diminished from 162,395 in 1912 to a possible maximum of 94,000; while immigration from Italy would fall from 157,134 to 54,850. From Japan 220 immigrants would be admitted, and from China 738.

"If American can permanently hold the friendship and trust of Japan and China through just, courteous and kindly treatment, she will thereby destroy the anti-white Asiatic solidarity. If America proves to Asia that one white people at least does not despise the Asiatics as such, nor seek to exploit them, but rather on a basis of mutual respect and justice seeks their real prosperity, Asia will discover that the "white peril" is in fact an inestimable benefit. And that change of feeling will bring to naught the yellow peril now dreaded by the whites."

The house of representatives has again refused to abolish the free seed graft. In other words, the congressman still desire to retain for themselves the distribution of government seeds among their constituents who appreciate these small remembrances from the national capital, instead of turning the work over to the department of agriculture, where it more properly belongs. Then the seeds might be placed in the hands of the growers, who would thus receive the direct benefit of the labors of the government experts, instead of going all too frequently to those who have no use for them and do not use them to good advantage, many of them never being planted at all.

Governor West is convinced that war with Mexico will ultimately come, basing his opinion on an investigation of conditions along the border. This is the opinion of almost every one who knows the Mexican people, and has had the opportunity to study the situation at close range. Still the policy of President Wilson in doing everything possible to avert a clash at arms should not be too harshly criticised, because intervention means war, and that should always come only when every effort to maintain peace has hopelessly failed.

Almost every progressive who returns to the Republican fold expects to be received like the prodigal son of Biblical times. As an example, Chas. W. Ackerson, erstwhile Bull Moose leader, makes the double-barreled announcement that he is back in the Republican fold again and expects to be elected national committeeman from Oregon in the coming primaries.

A plumber made a plea of poverty in a Kansas City court the other day, asserting his inability to pay the costs of a suit. In denying the petition the judge remarked: "In fifteen years of practice, I have known of only one bankrupt plumber, but there were hundreds of bankrupt lawyers in that time." Evidently plumbers are alike the country over.

Quite frequently the businessmen who complain most about the activity of the mail order houses make no effort themselves to get the trade. The mail order houses and city department store go out after and spend their money freely for advertising.

A governor and two ex-governors of Idaho worked on the country roads Monday. That is they donned overalls, shouldered picks and shovels—and had their pictures taken.

Huerta is said to be running short of money again and is reported seeking John Lind. We may be mistaken, but are inclined to think that John will not stand for a touch.

The state tax commission was the author of the present tax-paying law. Just for that, if nothing else, it might be abolished by the next legislature.

THE ROUND-UP.

Hill officials say the Oregon Electric does not pay. Maybe the trouble was that Hill undertook to build an empire on top of one already built.

Mrs. Rachael Neet, aged 84, and for 40 years a resident of Dexter, on the middle fork of the Willamette, above Eugene, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lina Howard, Tuesday.

Ed Rand, sheriff of Baker county, who came into the lime light through the "Copperfield" incident has surprised the other candidates for the office of sheriff, by announcing his determination to make the race to succeed himself.

Will R. King, national democratic committeeman announces that he will not be an applicant for the place his official duties taking all of his time.

The Pacific Livestock company, successors to Millar & Lux recently shipped 6,000 head of cattle from Harney county and will abandon the range there on account of it having become so badly cut up by land locators.

Mrs. Leroy Smith, of Loraine, who was seriously burned by her clothing coming in contact with a red-hot stove last December, died last Friday at her home in Cottage Grove from the effects of her injuries.

There is an indication of the get-together movement of the republicans and progressives getting a move on. Charles W. Ackerson who broke out of the fold has returned to the old party and wants to manage it.

Wasco county has six candidates for the office of sheriff, three democrats and three republicans.

A wireless club of 10 boys has been organized at Baker under a capable instructor. Seven of the boys already own wireless outfits.

A. S. Coutant of Mount Pleasant, Mich., has purchased the Weekly Grants Pass Observer, it is reported, and will take active charge April 1.

Noting the great quantities of piling all along the new railroad between Canby and Molalla, the irrigator says the past year has been one of the busiest ever known for that class of timber.

"Never again will there be an ice famine in Fossil, such as has often happened in past years, due to our mild winters," says the Fossil Journal, speaking of an ice factory of 1000 pounds daily capacity that is soon to be established there.

Promising that Eugene has already made an excellent beginning in the warfare against the fly, the Register says if the campaign is kept up intelligently the time is not far distant when the city will be comparatively free of the pests. The Register advocates less late sweating and more early cleaning up of breeding places.

CORN COB PIPE FREE WITH DIXIE QUEEN

Every Purchaser of a 10c Pouch of Dixie Queen Will Receive a Corn Cob Pipe Free.

Local dealers have a limited supply of "Panama" corn cob pipes, and during the next few days, or until their supply is exhausted, they will give one, free, to each purchaser of a 10c pouch of Dixie Queen Plug Cut Tobacco.

The "Panama" has a natural finish corn cob bowl that seasons richly and absorbs all the nicotine, thus insuring a mild, sweet smoke. The stem of imported German Weichsel wood, with Amberine bit adds its own aromatic perfume, and is neat and serviceable.

Dixie Queen is what the local dealers call "a man's tobacco" and they state that its great popularity is due to the careful aging process, which takes from three to five years, and gives to Dixie Queen a flavor and sweetness, that is exceptional. Several seasons' crops are kept stored away by the manufacturers of this tobacco, so that the quality of Dixie Queen never varies and the lovers of this famous tobacco never switch.

The popularity of the corn cob pipe seems to be greater than ever and all local dealers say their limited supply of "Panama" will diminish very quickly, and lovers of a good old corn cob pipe should take advantage of this free offer at once.

FOOD FOR REFLECTION.

We are united in this movement," said a physiologist, apropos of a fight against the drug habit. "Yes, a single thought possess us, and in that respect we're like Mr. and Mrs. Smith. At 3 a. m. of a bitter cold morning, Mrs. Smith in her tain night gown was pacing the floor with her colic-tormented babe in her arms. The babe's squawks of pain were terrible, yet they were easily drowned by the ear-splitting roars of young Smith, Jr., who tossed about his crib with a toothache. Mr. Smith, shivering in his pajamas, bent over the washstand, trying to prepare a cotton filling for his son, and a mustard plaster for his babe, when his wife's voice, scarcely audible above the uproar, reached him.

"John," she said, "if, seven years ago, I could have looked forward and beheld this scene do you know what I'd have done?"

"Yes, love," Smith answered. "You would have done just what I wish I'd done."

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You—Drink Lots of Water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

FORGET-ME-NOTS.

"Yes," said Brown, "I have a wonderful dog. Only this morning when I came down to breakfast, after a sleepless night and forgot to give him his usual tit-bit, he went out into the garden, pulled up a bunch of flowers, and laid them at my feet."

"And what were they?" inquired his friend.

"Forget-me-nots," answered Brown, as he hurriedly left the room.

A CRAFTY APPROACH.

"That man must be an insidious lobbyist," declared Congressman Grum.

"What has he done?" inquired Congressman Wayback.

"He invited me to share a bottle of grape juice with him."—Pittsburg Post.

REMARKABLE FUNERAL.

A remarkable funeral took place recently at Queensburg, a little mining town in England, where three men were killed by a fire-damp explosion. Thousands of people attended the funeral, at which the service was read by the pastor over three empty coffins, as the bodies of the three victims had been blown to pieces.

By purifying and enriching the blood and giving vitality, vigor and tone, it is wonderfully successful in the treatment of loss of appetite and the other ailments that are so prevalent at this time. DELIVERED GOODS.

George Augustus Sala, the famous leader writer on the Daily Telegraph, shares the opinion of Sir Walter Scott, who said that he did not care a hang about what he had written. In regard to this there is a characteristic story told of Mr. Sala.

He had supplied an editor with an article, and the editor asked him if he would object to a few alterations being made in it. Mr. Sala wrote in reply:

"I have fulfilled my contract in delivering to you the required weight of raw meat. How you cook it, whether you roast it, or boil it, or hash it, or mince it, I neither care nor want to know."

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Color, Luster and Thickness to Hair When Faded, Stroked or Gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and shaggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended on to bring back the natural color, thickness and luster of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. Local agent, J. C. Perry.
