A Woman's Don'ts for Young Girls

BY NAN W. SPERRY. (Assistant Labor Commissioner of the State of Missouri.)

With spring there will be a migration of young girls, leaving their homes in country or small town, to come to the city to go to work. They come so fresh and eager, so full of hope for a "career." They come spring and fall, a lovely, hopeful, helpless army, as the birds fly north, fly south. Who can explain the psychology of it?

But for these little "fly-by-nights" who leave the country in the dewy stillness of the evening and wake in the grime and clang of the city I say a little, hoping, hopeless prayer, for I know the path so well.

The straight path is for the most of them, but it leads through the valley of loneliness and homesickness, and cold and hunger and shabbiness are its frequenters.

And the path that is not straight is full of sorrow and shame and suffering, and leads to but one door, and that is marked death.

So to the girl who answers "the call of the city" I can only say, "Go home, little friend, go home." It's the safest, sanest you can do. But if you must have your fling, if come you will, remember this, for it comes from the depths of experience of hundreds of little girls like you:

Don't seek information from strangers—man or woman.

Don't leave home without knowing just where and with whom you are going to live.

Don't work for a man who calls you by your first name. The day your employer puts his hand on your shoulder and starts to tell you that his wife doesn't appreciate him, get the paper and look at the "help wanted" ads. There may be a decent man wanting to employ you.

Don't come to the city looking for the bright lights—you'll find them, but they are not for you.

Don't overlook the fact that there are no elevators in the house of success. You'll have to toil up, a step at a time, through cold and hunger and loneliness, and only a few in a thousand ever get half way up.

Don't forget that you can be a thousand times more lonely in the heart of a great city than in the heart of a great forest, for you know the birds and trees and flowers.

Just Right for Backache and Rheumatism.

Foley Kidney Pills are so thoroughly effective for backache, rheumatism, swollen, aching, joints, kidney and bladder ailments that they are recommended everywhere. A. A. Jeffords, McGraw, Neb., says: "For the last few months I was troubled with pains in my back and the druggist recommended Foley Kidney Pills for my ailment. I have not yet taken all of one bottle and my old trouble has entirely disappeared." J. C. Perry, druggist.

An all-women church has been founded in Liverpool; the members, it is supposed, do not consider mere men's souls worth saving.

Disordered Kidneys Cause of Much Misery.

With pain and misery by day, sleep-disturbing bladder weakness at night, tired, nervous run-down men and women everywhere are glad to know that Foley Kidney Pills restore health and strength, and the regular action of kidneys and bladder. Mrs. Sola Barnes, Bowdon, Ga., R. L., says: "I suffered with terrible headaches, backache and hearing down pains, so bad I was hardly able to get around. I took three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and since then I have been entirely well." J. C. Perry, druggist.
