

SOCIAL EVENTS

The delightful weather of the past week has induced society maids and matrons to spend much time motoring or walking, and there have been fewer indoor affairs than usual, the largest of the week being the series of parties given by Mrs. J. C. Pettyjohn. St. Patrick has been much honored, regardless of creed, all nature apparently endeavoring to robe the earth in green. The meeting of the editorial association today has brought a number of distinguished visitors to the city who are being entertained by the Salem association and business men, with automobile rides and a banquet this evening at the Marion.

At a brilliant reception given yesterday at the Breyman home by Mrs. W. H. Eldridge, the announcement of Miss Althea Moores' engagement to Robert Kinney of Astoria, was announced. Jonquils and trilliums decorated the rooms. Mrs. Eldridge and Miss Moores received at the door, the bride-elect being very charming in white. Mrs. Chester Moores of Portland and Mrs. William Brown poured, and served teas.

Master Chandler Brown, Robert Bishop, Jr., and Louise Patterson gave each guest a blossom to which was attached a card announcing the engagement. Miss Robertson and Miss Veda Cross assisted. Relatives of Miss Moores living in Portland were present, also Mrs. Ward, of Portland, and Mrs. Mary Stronk Kinney of Astoria, the mother of Miss Moores' fiancé. About 50 guests were entertained.

Miss Moores is one of the most prominent young women of the Capital City. She was graduated from Mills' college, Oakland, California, last year, when she was a general favorite. Mr. Kinney is a son of the late William Kinney and a grandson of Robert C. Kinney, for many years engaged in the milling business in this city and now a resident of Astoria. The mothers of Miss Moores and Mr. Kinney were schoolmates at Willamette college, and the families long have been intimate.

It is probable that the wedding will be solemnized this spring, although no announcement was made regarding the time.

Mrs. J. C. Pettyjohn has been hostess at three large affairs this week, Wednesday, yesterday and this afternoon. Eight tables of auction bridge being played each afternoon, except today, when the ladies met informally with their sewing. Mrs. Kazmarok secured high score Wednesday, while card honors went to Miss Zoe Stockton Thursday. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. Roy Burton, Mrs. Roy Mills, Mrs. Harry E. Clay, and Mrs. Robert Benham. Dainty refreshments were served, and the affair pronounced most enjoyable. The rooms were beautifully decorated with Oregon grape foliage and yellow daffodils, and the beautiful spring weather made it possible for the doors and windows to be open, revealing glimpses of the green lawn. One hundred and fifty invitations were issued, and response was very general. Very many handsome gowns were worn, the balmy day giving a charming effect to the dainty laces and shimmering silks.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollin K. Page will entertain their 500 club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Charles L. McNary entertained the Thursday afternoon bridge club this week, card honors going to Mrs. William C. Knighton. Other guests of the club were Mrs. Fred S. Stewart and Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr. Four tables were played. Dainty refreshments were served.

April 5th is the date selected by the Cherrians for their Society Circus, and coming after a long season of quiet in social circles it promises to be one of the big affairs of the year. Interest is especially centering around the Yama Yama girls, who will appear under the direction of Mrs. W. Carleton Smith. The Cherrians are also laying plans for active participation in the Rose Carnival in Portland and a few bold spirits are agitating the inauguration of a Cherry Blossom festival, such as is annually observed in Japan when the trees are in full flower.

Ending the membership contest that has been going on for the past two months between the "Reds" and the "Greens" of the Artisans lodge, the losing side, the "Greens" led by Mrs. J. M. Godfrey, banqueted the "Reds" in royal style at a meeting held by the lodge Wednesday evening. Nearly 150 guests were present to enjoy the festivities.

The French club met Tuesday evening, with President Gillis presiding, and considerable headway having been made with this beautiful but difficult language, the instructor took up the subject of "The proper place of adjectives." The topic of conversation (a French of course), was "Clothing and Attire." The program committee for the next meeting is composed of Miss E. M. Roche, Miss Emilie Becht and A. A. Graber. The meetings of the club are proving to be very pleasing to all who attend, and the wish of the members is to see a greater number join the club, promising to all present an equal chance to learn the beautiful French language, a knowledge of which is a kind of Masonic password—an "open sesame" to the ranks of culture, art and literature.

CLUBS

Following the usual business session of the Salem Woman's club, last Saturday afternoon, an enjoyable program was presented, consisting of a reading from "The Piper" by Mrs. Arthur Fish, and musical numbers by Miss Mary Schultz and Miss Nauelle Bloom. The meeting was well attended, as interest in the club has been well sustained throughout the winter months.

The Thought and Work club met with Mrs. Mary E. Newton last Friday, papers being read by the hostess and Mrs. W. F. Fargo. Dr. W. B. Morse, who is the author of a very able article on "Fly Swatting", which has been republished twice in the Salem papers, was present—and gave an instructive address on the fly question and house sanitation. Musical numbers were contributed by Miss Flora Cone and Mrs. Theodore Roth.

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church met with Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner yesterday afternoon. An enjoyable afternoon was spent, an interesting number being the paper read by Mrs. E. F. Carlton on the subject of "Arianism".

Mrs. LaMoine Raymond Clark, state patriotic instructor of the Woman's Relief Corps, presented a beautiful silk flag and standard to Willamette University, Thursday morning. As Mrs. Clark is a teacher in the Salem school, it was impossible for her to make the presentation in person, so Dr. Homan in a few well chosen words gave this beautiful gift into the keeping of the students for whom it was especially intended. A patriotic song, for use on Memorial Day, and written by Mrs. Clark, was accepted by the recent National convention of the Grand Army of the Republic, from among several
