Special "Health Warning" for March.

March is a trying month for the very young and for elderly people. Croup, bronchial colds, la grippe and pneumonia are to be feared and avoided. Foley's Honey and Tar is a great family medicine that will quickly stop a cough, check the progress of a cold, and relieve inflamed and congested air passages. E. C. Rhodes, Middleton, Ga., says: "La grippe gave me a hacking cough for which I got no relief until I took Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and was soon well of both cough and cold." J. C. Perry, druggist.

A Word of Caution.

One should be exceptionally careful just now about taking cold, and when a cold is contracted get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy excellent. It is not only prompt and effectual but is pleasant and safe to take, and has a reputation of forty years back of it. For sale by all dealers.

Grounds for divorce—love's cemetery.

Disordered Kidneys Cause of Much Misery.

With pain and misery by day, sleep-disturbing bladder weakness at night, tired, nervous run-down men and women everywhere are glad to know that Foley Kidney Pills restore health and strength, and the regular action of kidneys and bladder. Mrs. Sula Barnee, Bowdon, Ga., R. 1, says: "I suffered with terrible headache, backache and bearing down pains, so bad I was hardly able to get around. I took three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and since then I have been entirely well." J. C. Perry, druggist.

No argument can discount genuine happiness.

Plain Truth That's Worth Money.

Using Foley's Honey and Tar for a cough and cold is just practical common sense. It is exactly made to stop a cough and check a cold and it prevents la grippe, bronchitis or pneumonia. F. F. Monahan, Monomonia, Wis., says: "I am exposed to all kinds of weather and I find Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always fixes me up in good shape when I catch cold or have a bad cough. I recommend it gladly." Refuse substitutes. J. C. Perry, Druggist.

Some men marry at leisure, then bustle for the divorce court.

Muddy Complexion.

When you see a woman with a muddy or sallow complexion and dull eyes, you may know that her liver is out of order. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets will correct it and make her look better and feel better. For sale by all dealers.

Just Right for Backache and Rheumatism.

Foley Kidney Pills are so thoroughly effective for backache, rheumatism, swollen, aching, joints, kidney and bladder ailments that they are recommended everywhere. A. A. Jeffords, McGraw, Neb., says: "For the last few months I was troubled with pains in my back and the druggist recommended Foley Kidney Pills for my ailment. I have not yet taken all of one bottle and my old trouble has entirely disappeared." J. C. Perry, druggist. Kickapoo Worm Killer Expels Worms.

HOW YOU CAN EXTERMINATE FLIES

eight of a cubic inch to a fly, this number would cover the earth 47 feet deep. Is it not a simple, common-sense proposition to catch this pair in April? The first community in which every member is intelligent enough to see this point will be flyless the first season the plan is tried, and will remain so as long as this level of civic common sense is maintained. I have tried to inject two ideas into the solution of the fly-problem. Get the fight out of doors. Exterminator.

With even one exterminator outside every kitchen door it does not seem unlikely every fly may be caught during the 14 days of preliminary feeding. This means no more eggs and the species will vanish. Innumerable questions have come to the writer as to the exact plan of an exterminator.

The principle of operation is that hungry flies will crawl in toward the smell of food through any dark crack and, after feeding, will fly out toward the light. They enter the garbage can or other receptacle by smell, and attempt to leave by sight. It is necessary to have the cover about half an inch in diameter. Three pieces of sheet-iron are soldered inside the rim, equidistant apart to hold it up, a crack, and keep it spaced out from the rim of the can about one-fourth of an inch all around. In a swill barrel, nails may be driven into the rim and bent over to hold the cover properly, but direct light must not enter this crack. Cut a hole in the cover at least three inches in diameter and fasten the trap over this opening according to plain directions sent out with each trap. With everything in the way of waste fecal material put into this receptacle, you establish a "focus," a "vacuum cleaner" for flies, and, properly managed, this will prove exterminative.

Attention to the breeding places will make assurance doubly sure. In the country, modern plans of home sanitation demand that all stable accumulations be put on or in the ground as fast as produced. This saves handling the material twice and more than doubles its value to the land. In cities where stable pits are necessary, so-called "fly-tight" construction which is beginning to be insisted upon by boards of health, is not only a logical absurdity, but the best possible scheme to breed a continuous supply of flies. The eggs will be laid before the material is deposited in the cellar, which forms a protected incubator. The flies will swarm out whenever the trapdoor is opened, as it must be daily.

A screen-covered window to such a pit will provide the means for capturing all the flies that hatch. They will naturally swarm to the windows. A hole in the screens near the top, with an exterminator attached to the inside, with a hole leading to it, would catch all flies attempting to enter the pit to deposit eggs. Thus they may be caught "going and coming." Guide strips made of tin or this wood lead the flies to the holes in the screens— as shown in the figure.

This constitutes practically my plan of outdoor fly extermination. There are two other lines of attack with which we may make assurance twice doubly sure. If a window of a kitchen, bakery, or dairy is persistently attractive to flies, we may cover the entire window with a screen, and on the outside fasten the guide strips in the form of an "A," open a fly space of the point, and over this place a wire cage. No hole through the screen is required and every fly attracted by the contents of the room will be caught. This device is so easily made a home that it is not on the market, so far as the writer knows.

Finally, indoor poisoning methods have long been in vogue, and since flies are thirsty creatures, it is quite possible, that used consistently out of doors, this line of attack may prove the easiest solution of the whole problem. The common gericide, formalin, is now recommended as the safest poison to use, and for ease of application a bottle filled with a 2 per cent solution (eight teaspoonfuls to a quart of water) may be inverted over a saucer and stood on a shelf or hung on a bracket in any sunny corner about a stable or back porch. It should be set out of reach of dogs, and birds may be protected from drinking it by surrounding it with coarse-meshed wire netting. A nick is broken in the mouth of the bottle so that the liquid will partially fill the saucer, and a slice of bread covered with sugar placed in the saucer, will add attraction to the flies; milk may also be used for this purpose.

The whole problem and its solution is summed up in the accompanying poster—the only one the writer ever resigned. The time-old, weary fight shown in the upper figure will go on until doomsday unless we change our methods and tactics. Why not change them and have some peace in our lives?

June 17, the plan is being worked in my home, purposed limited to a single exterminator on the garbage can. It has caught practically every fly that has come near the house so far—less than two quarts in all. We have used six gallons of oil in catch-basins and stagnant pools and have practically no mosquitoes. We have not put up a screen door or window, and do not intend to. The flies are in jail and we are out, and we intend to stay out.

The plan is working better than even I dared to hope. As soon as every household learns to use it there will be no fifth fly problem and no more typhoid flies in the land.
