mission Government," and gave a most excellent presentation of the subject. Mrs. Alexander Thompson reviewed the workings of the system in Kansas City, Missouri, where it is pronounced successful.

The regular meeting of the Forest Grove Chapter P. E. O. Sisterhood was held March 10, at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Seymour. The annual election of officers was held and the following officers were elected and installed: President, Mrs. Annie A. Burlingham; vice-president, Mrs. Florence M. Bean; recording secretary, Mrs. Jessie M. Scott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Nettie White; treasurer, Mrs. Ella Dalley; chaplain, Mrs. Rose Olmstead; guard, Mrs. Henrietta Goff.

The Woman's Literary club of Sheridan was entertained March 17 by Mrs. Akin. Saint Patrick's day features were successfully carried out, the decorations being in green. The afternoon was spent in a progressive game.

The College Women's club joined the Medford branch of the Drama League last week as an organization and the required 100 membership is now assured. Several of the Drama League committees have been formed. Mrs. George H. Daggert, chairman of the press committee has selected the following members: Mrs. Brockmeier, Miss Austin Mrs. John Horney, Mrs. A. Couro Piero, and B. W. Ruhl.

Oregon will be represented at the great biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs to be held at Chicago, June 9 to 19, by Mrs. J. A. Pettit, Mrs. J. W. Tift, Mrs. W. H. Fear, Mrs. E. K. Coover, Mrs. J. C. Hare and Mrs. G. J. Frankel, of Portland; Mrs. J. F. Mundy of Medford; Mrs. Ada Milligan, of Prineville, and Mrs. Miller of Aurora. Oregon is entitled to about 30 delegates, and it is a matter of regret that only one third of her strength will be there. This is particularly unfortunate as Portland is to make a bid for the next biennial council meeting.

Mrs. George H. Rodgers entertained the Thursday afternoon Bridge club at her home this week, card honors going to Mrs. W. H. Dancy. Three tables were played, and light refreshments served. The club meets weekly, and quite informally at the homes of members.

At the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Laffar, 1190 South Liberty street, on Tuesday evening, March 24 Chapter G of the national organization of P. E. O. observed guest night. About 6 o'clock the guests began to arrive, for the culinary fame of their hostess had long been known to many of the men, the dinner having become an annual affair. Dainty little green and white place cards bore the likeness of Ireland's patron saint and clever Irish condiments as place favors soon took away all formality. The green and white color scheme was also carried out quite cleverly in the elaborate four-course dinner which fully justified all expectations. After the dinner the B. I. L.'s as the men are popularly termed, who enjoyed this treat, were noticed quietly departing from the parlors. Presently a bell was rung and the sliding doors between the library and back parlor were pushed back and lo, Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. Before them the ladies saw not husbands, brothers, friends in usual costumes, but decked in all colors, styles and garb feminine. The stunt was a complete surprise and the opening remarks of the official-looking president could not be heard for laughter. However, a croquet mallet, the official gavel, soon brought a semblance of order and a week program of P. E. O. was carried out. The roll call when the P. E. O.'s found who was representing them, the balloting on new members by means of croquet balls and a big tub for a ballot box were only a few of the many amusing things, the collection which was taken up in an empty fruit can and was real money, consisting of several dollars, was tendered the real treasurer of the P. E. O. chapter and was very much appreciated by them. At the close of the evening Mr. B. J. Miles gave an informal talk that was appreciated; he told of his acquaintance with the members of Chapter A and paid a high tribute to womanhood of the P. E. O.

The reception given last evening at Willamette University to the visiting delegates of the Y. W. C. A. was a most enjoyable affair. Those in the receiving line were members of the Salem cabinet. At the luncheon today at the First Methodist church members of the summer conference enjoyed the affair with their experiences and impressions gained at the annual meeting.

ing at the coast. Of much interest to Salem friends of the Metchan's was the joint birthday celebration of the Hon. Phil Metchan, Sr., aged 74 years and Phil Metchan Jr., aged 38, at the Imperial hotel in Portland, Tuesday. The Elizabethan room was used, its beauty being further enhanced by tallies, genistas and the shaded candles. There were 49 guests in addition to many grand children. Covers were laid for the following: Mr. and Mrs. Phil Metchan, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Metchan, Jr.; Frank Metchan of Grants Pass; Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Metchan, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Metchan and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Metchan of Portland; Mr. George H. Cattinach, of Canyon City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meredith and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Griffith, of Salem; and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Evan Flinders, of Washington, D. C., children of Mr. Metchan; Miss Anna Metchan, of Tacoma; Mrs. G. A. Biesen, of Portland; sisters of Mr. Metchan; Misses Anna and Valeria Biesen, nieces; Mr. and Mrs. K. M. C. Neill, of Grants Pass; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, of Salem, and M. V. Sutherland. The following grand children were present: Miss Marie Metchan, of Grants Pass; Miss Jeanette Meredith and John Philip Meredith, of Salem; Misses Margaret and Ruth Griffith, of Salem; Misses Dorothy and Phyllis Jane Metchan, Max Metchan, Phillip Metchan III, and Susan Elizabeth Metchan, of Portland.

The Thought and Work club met Thursday with Mrs. Theodore Bell with Mrs. F. L. Purvine presiding. The playground project was discussed, and "Civic Improvement" the regular topic taken up. Superintendent Knutz was present and spoke on the subject of playgrounds and flower beds. Reports on the good work of fly extermination were made, this being one of the laudable activities of the club. Mrs. Fred Brewer gave "The Last Hope" as an instrumental solo, and the Misses Edith Young and Alice Putnam appeared in a duet. Mrs. Ray Burton and Mrs. Newton were selected as topic leaders for the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Purvine, 1009 Rose avenue, April 3. At this time plans for Arbor Day will be discussed among other things. Mrs. W. A. Copley, Mrs. Ernest Anderson and Mrs. E. J. Roth are new members just received into the club.

A Parent-Teachers meeting was held at Grant school Thursday evening, the meeting taking place in the basement as the school is without electric lights elsewhere in the building; but the plan being repairs the proposed

CAMBRIDGE DEFEATS OXFORD IN BIG RACE

Seventy-first Aquatic Battle of Teams and Oxford Now Has 38 Victories to Cambridge's 31.

CAMBRIDGE FAVORITE ALTHOUGH NOT WINNER SINCE YEAR 1908

Oxford Had Not Shown Last Year's Form in Practice, While Cambridge Had Improved.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] London, March 28.—Cambridge defeated Oxford today in the annual inter-variety boat race on the Thames. A large platform on the Thames river collapsed during the race and 150 persons were thrown into the water. Fourteen were seriously injured and many others narrowly escaped drowning. Today's contest was the first aquatic "battle of the blues," Oxford having previously won 39 and Cambridge 30, the race in 1877 resulting in a dead heat. Although it had not tasted the joys of victory since 1908, Cambridge was the favorite. Its crew had been working together for some time whereas the Oxford captain had considerable difficulty in filling his boat, owing to illness of candidates.

It was just before 2:30 that Cambridge, as the challengers, took the water, amid a roar of cheers and the waving of light blue favors. Oxford followed a few minutes later and the supporters of the dark blues contributed their share of the general enthusiasm. The eight as the faced Starter F. I. Pitman, were lined up as follows:

Oxford—R. W. Fletcher, bow; E. D. Horsfall, 2; R. Baidekin, 3; F. A. H. Pitman, 4; J. D. Kundersley, 5; H. K. Ward, 6; G. W. Titherington, 7; A. F. Wiggins, stroke; H. B. Wells, cox.

Cambridge—D. L. Day, bow; S. E. Swann, 2; P. C. Livingston, 3; J. A. Ritson, 4; K. C. Garnett, 5; C. S. Clark, 6; C. E. V. Buxton, 7; G. E. Tower, stroke; L. E. Rodley, cox.

Each variety had five old "blues" but the Oxonians had been unable to row regularly together, and in the practice they had scarcely reproduced last year's form, whereas the Cantabs had shown considerable improvement. The new "blues" were Fletcher, Taylor, Kundersley and Titherington of Oxford and Day, Livingston, Ritson and Garnett of Cambridge. There were three Rhodes scholars in the boats, two being Canadian, Livingston, Cambridge, of Vancouver, B. C., and Taylor, Oxford, of Toronto, while the old Oxonian Warhalls from New South Wales. The average weight of the oarsmen was 172 pounds. The fastest time on record was Oxford's 18 minutes, 29 seconds, in 1911.

You can sometimes judge the character of a man by the welcome he receives from his dog.

CAMBRIDGE WINS MEET

DEFEATS OXFORD SIX EVENTS TO FOUR IN ANNUAL ATHLETIC CONTEST.

London, March 28.—Cambridge defeated Oxford here today by six events to four in the annual athletic meeting between track and field teams representing the two universities. Several Americans participated.

H. M. Mackintosh won the 100-yard dash in 10 1-5 seconds. V. B. Havens, a Rhodes scholar from Rutgers college, was third.

E. T. Adams, also a Rhodes student from Baylor university, Texas, won the hammer throw with a mark of 127 feet, 7 inches.

Havens, the American, won the 120-yard hurdles in 17 1-5 seconds.

It was expected the half mile race would be close but R. E. Atkinson of Cambridge, easily defeated Norman B. Taylor, another Rhodes scholar, from Brown University. His lead at the finish was 12 yards.

JABS AND JOLTS

We have it on the word of Governor John K. Tener the best little perpetrator of the dear old pastime elected president of the National League this year, that there is no demand for a third league. He ought to know. Mr. Tener is about to sacrifice all of his interests in a $6000 job that he may be free to perpetuate the grand old game to the American people by way of the National league receiving for this public service only a beggarly $25,000 per year for four years. Naturally, Mr. Tener could have no selfish interest in believing that there is no demand for a second rival to the National league, but it's just possible he is honestly mistaken. We have not talked it over with Mr. Tener's pals so we don't know how they feel about it; but elsewhere there seems to be considerable interest in a third league. About the Fourth of July even Mr. Tener is likely to feel it. We are able to make this prophecy by observing the activities of the outlaws. If there is anything in the paper value of ball players these ludicrous Feds have just ruined the race for the pennant in both leagues. The Giants and the Athletics ought to be far enough in front to quit by July 1.

Take the American league, the Red Sox have only lost a few unimportant players, but they were an unimportant team last year. With another pitcher like Groom to back up Walter Johnson the Senators could have given the Athletics a desperate tussle. The Feds grabbed Groom, leaving Johnson to hold the bag. Cleveland is practically eliminated by the loss of Blanding and Falkenberg. If this doesn't put the American league race in the frits we will go out of the prophecy business.

The one chance for a row in the National league procession is Boston. With evers in the infield and a prospect of holding on to Pedue, Stallings may make a contest of it; but the outlook isn't shiny. The Pirates lose Hendrix, who shared the heavy work in the box with Babe Adams and won about half his games. The Phillies, always one of the strongest contenders, are absolutely destroyed. Doolin will be remarkably well to finish in the first four. It certainly looks like a romp for the Giants. You will also notice that few Giants and Athletics have been seriously approached and the playing strength of these teams is practically unimpaired by Federal raids. Mr. Gilmore and his pals may be woody, but they don't show it much.

When a man appetite has not been adjusted to his stomach the doctor is going to have a job.

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB MAKES HIT AT JEFFERSON

Audience Is Large and First Performance on Trip Proves to be Successful in Every Way.

TWO AUTO TRUCKS HAVE STRENUOUS TRIP ON HIGHWAY

Songsters and Ladies Accompanying Them Frequently Have to Alight and Travel Through Sea of Mud.

The first appearance of the Willamette University Glee Club at Jefferson last evening was successful from every point of view. The audience was large and was well satisfied with the program and the club did themselves proud for quality and variety of music.

The sketch "La Mascot" which constitutes the second half of the program was exceptionally well received, the boys proving that they possessed ability in the acting as well as the singing line.

The most interesting thing in connection with the trip from the glee club members point of view was the trip to and from Jefferson in two auto trucks. True to its definition, "The only piece of bottomless road this side of the Rockies", Salem and Jefferson, made numerous and various attempts at engulfing the two auto trucks and their contents. The result was that repeatedly during the ride the songsters and the ladies accompanying them found it necessary to alight in some lake of mud and wade 34 or 40 feet, the boys all burdened with precious freight, to a more substantial stretch of terra firma. The party arrived home at 3 o'clock this morning. The program as given last evening follows:

Part I.
(a) Funleeli, Funleela Denza
(b) Ding, Dong Solman

THE GLEE CLUB.
Duet, Es Hal Nisht Solten Seia Nessler
Mr. Sineclair, Cornet;
Mr. Irvine, Clarinet.

Toreador, Hoi! Trotter
THE GLEE CLUB.
Vocal Solo, The Jolly Friar Shield
Mr. Harold Jory.

Rock-a-bye, Baby Ganning
THE GLEE CLUB.
Duet, Hear Me, Norma Bellini
Messrs. Shisler and Irvine.

(a) Ode to Willamette.
(b) Our Old Willamette.
(c) Then Take Me Back
Mendenhall
THE GLEE CLUB.

Part II.
La Mascotte
Comic Opera in One Act.
Cast.

Bettina the Mascot Mr. Gilkey
Pippo a Shepherd Mr. Hall
Francesca, a Peasant Mr. Steeves
