Daddy's Bedtime Story

Billy Porcupine Saved by His Brother's Quills.

ONCE upon a time," began daddy, "there lived way off in the woods--the dense, black woods where people never go--a family of porcupines. Now, you know, children, porcupines have long, sharp quills."

"They must be very cruel," suggested Evelyn.

"Oh, no," said daddy; "they really are very mild and most kindly by nature. They must have those quills in order to protect themselves. All animals need some means of protection. They must have sharp claws or sharp teeth or be very strong and big--something to save them from harm in the animal world. So the porcupines have their quills, and they just have to spread themselves out with these sharp pointed quills in the air when they see any unfriendly animal, and the creature usually runs in fear."

"One time a mother and daddy porcupine had six beautiful little porcupine children--at least they thought they were beautiful--and were very proud of them. But the youngest was not very strong; neither were his quills very sharp pointed. So his mother and daddy and his other little brothers and sisters made a great pet of little Billy Porcupine, as he was called. Whenever Billy wanted to go anywhere one of his brothers or sisters always went along with him to see that no harm came to him."

"One day Billy Porcupine was invited to a porcupine children's party. Only very young porcupines were invited, so Billy was the only one invited out of his family. His mother fixed him all up nicely for the party and brushed his quills to make them look as well as possible, and off he started with his biggest brother. Billy Porcupine was awfully excited, as he loved parties. But they had not gone very far when a great rumble was heard through the woods. "Oh, what is that?" cried Billy Porcupine, and before his brother had time to answer what should they see coming toward them but a great big lion. The lion sped Billy first, and seeing his quills weren't very strong, he thought to himself, "I'll soon do away with that delicate little morsel." But he hadn't seen Billy's brother, who quickly shoved Billy back of him and stood in front of the lion, with his quills sticking straight out.

"Then the big lion began to tremble as he looked at the sharp, long quills of Billy's brother. He saw he couldn't get at Billy without attacking Billy's brother, and so the great big lion turned away from the little porcupine, shivering with fear at the mere thought of those awful quills of Billy's brother, and ran."

"So through his sharp quills he saved his brother's life, and how happy the porcupine family felt at Billy's rescue I needn't tell you."

COUNCIL VOTES TO DROP OFFICER SANDERS

Resolution Provides for Payment to Date of Patrolman Who is Ineligible to Hold Office.

READING OF WHISKEY MISSIVE I SUNFINISHED

Sign Ordinance Killed, Lord Playground Proposition Declined and Budget Suggestion Heard.

The city council last evening passed a resolution decreasing that the office of George Sanders as policeman be declared vacant for the reason that he lacked the three years' residence requirement. The resolution was introduced by the health and police committee and provided that he receive pay to date. Motion voted against the resolution. The salaries of Gaines, Fisher and Sanders were fixed up some time ago by an injunction because of alleged ineligibility.

Mayor Steeves halted the reading of a communication calling for the arrest on a charge of violating the liquor laws of the Salem Water company's officers on the ground that drinking water polluted by several pints of whiskey had been pumped through the mains here after being emptied into the river at Albany. The mayor sent the communication to the waste basket. That two clerks would be unnecessary and had decided to dispense with the services of Miss Wilson was reported by Reverend Elgin. The matter went over to the next meeting, on recommendation of Milton.

Councilman Jones introduced a resolution providing that meetings of the council be held the first and third Mondays of each month, instead of weekly, being the belief that the work can be transacted with fewer meetings than have been held since a year ago last January. The council will vote on the proposition April 13.

Ordinances relating to recent bond issues were given first and second reading. The ordinance relating to signs was indefinitely postponed.

Do Not Favor Changes.

The ordinance committee's report in definitely postponing the ordinance relating to signs created some discussion. Macy, author of the ordinance, said a lot of people wanted it and that it reduced the area regulated to the illuminated section of the city. This feature had the approval of the secretary of the commercial club, he said. Spaulding, of the ordinance committee, explained that the committee did not favor making drastic changes.

The petition of Vick Bros. for permission to install an overhead bridge between 260 North High and 267 North Church was favorably reported.

The building committee reported that the city treasurer said he could get along for a while with the safe and consideration of a communication regarding new devices to safeguard records was indefinitely postponed.

The sewer committee recommended a petition for a sewer in the alley block 3 be taken care of in making up the next budget.

Block Not Desired.

The playground site in South Salem, offered by William P. Lord, is not desired at this time, the park committee reported. The committee stated that the city was not in a position to buy it, it was believed, that the D. J. Fry site was enough and the city was not interested in the Lord proposition.

City Treasurer Crossan reported that he had received the money from the sale of $60,000 refunding bonds, totaling $60,007, and had refunded bonds due January 1, 1914.

The city engineer reported that the contract for the improvement of South High, Mill to Bush, had been completed six months and recommended payment of a balance of $180,489 to the contractor, the Montague-O'Reilly company. The contract totaled $18,049.94. The report had been signed by the chairman of the street committee but was ordered re-referred.

The engineer's estimate favoring the payment of a balance due on the sewer in the alley in block 70, totaling $69.89, to D. E. Gross, was referred to the street committee.

The engineer's estimate of a balance of $47.67, due E. W. Atchison, for constructing a sewer in block 66 was approved and payment ordered.

There was some discussion as to the status of the incinerator matter and it was finally decided to introduce a resolution and fix it up properly in the records. It was also decided to have a new contract with the tile people to take care of garbage until it would be possible to use the new location owned by the city.

Pulmotor Accepted.

A resolution accepting the offer of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company to place the machine in the fire department for use in reviving victims of asphyxiation, drowning or other mishaps in which it might be necessary, was accepted. The fire department will report to calls at any time, day or night.

Hunt Bros. were given permission to install a platform on Division street for use in unloading products.

The claim of the Salem Tile Works for a check deposited with the city was allowed.

New Budget Suggestion.

The charter committee reported that in drafting the commission form charter it had provided that present officers of the city should serve until January 1, 1915. It was desired, however, that if the commission form should be adopted the new officers should have an opportunity to prepare the budget for 1915 and it was suggested that the council express its sentiment on the matter. The communication was referred. Macy suggested that a vote of thanks be extended to the committee for providing that the present council should serve until the first of the year.

A STRANGER.

Mr. Stranger-in-the-City, if you are a single man and have money in your pocket, you can take time to look around and learn for yourself the best means of securing a position, but if you are married, with some one dependent on you--or if your finances are limited--you will do well to get acquainted with the shortest route to employment in the shortest time possible.

The shorter route is through the Journal Want Ads, and you'll be sure to find something to which you are fully suited in a day or two by reading them carefully daily. If you don't, why run a Want Ad of your own, telling just what you can do best. This latter means will be sure to work at once if the other fails at first.

SCOTT ACCUSED BY GIRL

WEST SALEM RESIDENT ALLEGED TO HAVE ATTACKED LENA KREBS, AGED 13 YEARS

Joseph Scott, a North Salem resident, was arrested yesterday afternoon by James Imhah, constable for the West Salem district, Polk county, on a warrant charging him with attacking Lena Krebs, a 13-year-old girl who resides at 666 Belmont street.

According to the arresting officer, Scott committed the crime in Polk county several days ago while in that vicinity with the Krebs girl on a flower picking excursion. The girl's parents are the prosecuting witnesses besides the young girl herself.

Scott made several efforts to secure bail following his arrest yesterday. Failing to find anyone who would guarantee for him, Constable Imhah took the man to the city jail where he was locked up pending his hearing in the justice of the peace court in West Salem this morning.

Scott is well known here, while his alleged victim comes of prominent people of North Salem.
