MURPHY NOT CLASSED AS CHAMPION THERE

New York Fight Fans Consider Leach Cross far Better Scraper Than Little Harlemite.

CANNOT BE JUDGED BY HIS BOUTS WITH AD WOLGAST.

Former Champion Out of Condition and Too Azevedo, Third Rate Fighter, Also Beat Him.

(BY HAL SHERIDAN.)

New York, April 4.—Eight fans of little old New York are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the Willie Ritchie-Murphy fight to be staged in San Francisco on the evening of April 17. They want to know whether they have underestimated the little Harlemite all these years and whether he really is of championship calibre.

Around the metropolis Leach Cross is considered a far better fighter than Murphy, while quite the reverse is true in San Francisco.

"We want to find out," said a prominent fight promoter, "whether our judgment is rotten or not. Out in San Francisco they say Murphy is one of the best lightweights in the game. Here in his home town we take this statement with a grain of salt. San Franciscoans point to Harlem Tommy's easy victories over Ad Wolgast. They say he proved his worth in those two bouts.

"We in New York don't think Murphy can be judged by the bouts with Wolgast. The former champion was out of condition. Joe Azevedo won all the way from Wolgast in a 10-round bout in Oakland but we don't think much of Azevedo here. Charlie White beat him all the way with one hand in a 10-round bout. If both of White's hands had been in working order it's a cinch he would have put Azevedo to sleep.

Ritchie Real Champion.

"Those who saw Ritchie in his 10-round bout with Leach Cross here were forced to admit that the Californian is a real champion, no matter what his enemies may say. He is one of the bravest men in the game, picks a good wallop in either mitt and is fairly clever. He flouted Cross twice and it was the consensus of opinion that had the bout gone five rounds further Ritchie would have won by a knockout.

"If, however, Murphy should win from Ritchie, we will be forced to admit that we have misjudged Murphy all these years and will be willing to accord him all the honors due a champion. In other words, we will make up for lost time. But at the same time it's true that we don't figure Murphy is a chance. Ritchie will be a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting so far as New York is concerned. Ritchie is as brainy a fighter as Murphy, is cleverer and hits twice as hard. Ritchie also has youth on his side. We cannot see where Murphy has a chance."

RESERVE CLAUSE CASE ON

VALIDITY IS QUESTION IN KILLIFER SUIT, BEING TRIED IN GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 4.—With the validity of the reserve clause involved, the suit instituted by the Federal league to restrain Catcher William Killifer from playing with the Philadelphia club of the National league opened here today before United States Judge Session. The outlaw organization claims that Killifer signed a binding contract with the Chicago club. Edward Galt, representing Federal league officials, filed affidavits from James A. Gilmore, Charles Woodhouse and Joe Tinker to the effect that Killifer, before signing, has asserted that he was not hampered by any other contract. The catcher was accompanied here by Probate Judge William Killifer, of Paw Paw, his father, Wegman and Gilmore and President Baker of the Philadelphia club also were present. Killifer was represented by Attorneys Samuel and George Pepper of Philadelphia and Judge William Carpenter of Detroit.

EUGENE FARMER HELD FOR MURDERING HIS WIFE

Eugene, Or., April 4.—Charged with administering poison to his wife from the alleged effects of which she recently died, Andrew Bosson, a farmer, is bound over to the grand jury today, following a preliminary hearing.

Perhaps the most incriminating testimony given at the hearing was by Miss Dolly Leavin, a sister of the dead woman, and with whom Bosson was alleged to be infatuated, who declared that Mrs. Bosson's last words were: "Dolly, I am dying. Andrew has poisoned me. He gave me whiskey, and it was so bitter—oh, so bitter. Take good care of little Stanley."

This testimony was corroborated by Marie Hendricks, a 14-year-old girl.

CLABBY HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEFEAT

Murray Nearly Stows Away Indiana Man With Terrific Right to Jaw in Fifteenth Round.

CLABBY'S EXPERIENCE AND WITS SAVE HIM FROM DEFEAT

Hold on Throughout Remainder of the Round and His Opponent is Unable to Send in Knockout.

San Francisco, April 4.—Inexperience coupled with the ability of his opponent to protect himself in rough going were the two things which kept "Fighting Billy" Murray from holding a clear cut victory over Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Indiana, today. At the end of their 30 round contest at Daly City last night, Referee Jim Griffin called the affair a draw and his verdict seemed to satisfy the big crowd.

Judging the fight strictly on points, Clabby was entitled to the decision but the Californian almost stowed Jimmy away in the fifteenth round. A terrific right to the jaw sent the Indian staggering to the ropes. The blow was delivered straight from the shoulder and Murray was on top of his man like a flash.

Then was the Californian's chance and although he tried hard to get in a clean blow, Clabby's experience and wits prevented him from sending over the finishing wallop. Clabby held on throughout the remainder of the round and the tap of the gong was a welcome sound.

Fight Slow to Fifteenth. Up to the fifteenth round the fight from a spectator's point of view was slow. One round was a repetition of the preceding session, with Clabby filling up a lead on points. When the fighters squared off in the opening round it was obvious to those at the ringside that Murray was a trifle nervous. After the first clinch he found that he could hold his own with the Indian in the infighting and his confidence returned.

Murray, however, lacked the vim and dash that characterized his work in his bout with Leo Rineck. Up until the fifteenth round his blows lacked steam. When he found that he could hurt Jimmy he waded right in and more than held his own in the rough going. Had Murray started to rough it in the earlier rounds and kept to his work he might have stowed the Indian away with a knockout.

Murray's advisers explained today the Sacramento's failure to hit harder with his left hand with the announcement that he sprained his wrist in the early rounds. This may be true but many thought Murray was poorly handled inasmuch as his advisers held him back instead of sending him in with orders to rush his opponent off his feet. Instead Murray tried to box with Clabby until the fifteenth and then he awoke to the fact that he had been fighting a losing fight. From that time there was always a prospect of a knockout. Murray had shown Clabby that he had earned a stiff wallop and the easterner was careful.

Better Showing Than Others. In justice to Murray it must be said that he made a much better showing against the Indiana speed marvel than any of the others who have faced him in California. It is certain that the pair will be re-matched and it is equally certain that Clabby will not be a 19 to 1 favorite next time.

The preliminaries resulted as follows: Chet Neff stopped Fred Wharton in the sixth round; Eddie James and Kid Sabino boxed a six round draw, and Sammy Goo and Eddie Beatty fought a six round draw.

A record breaking crowd was in attendance despite threatening weather. Every seat in the vast arena was occupied. Promoter Gaffroth announcing today that the receipts exceeded $11,000.

CITY TO FURNISH DIAMOND.

Portland, Or., April 4.—To encourage clean and healthful sport among the boys and young men, the city will soon establish a system of municipally owned and operated baseball diamonds, according to Commissioner Brewster today. The tracts will be plowed, steam rolled and converted into first-class ball fields, one of which will be located in each district of the city.

FEARS EFFECTS OF STRIKE IMMINENT IN ITALY AND SPAIN

Paris, April 4.—Threats of general railroad strikes in Italy and Spain were causing much uneasiness in business circles here today. Since both systems connect with the French lines there inevitably will be a serious dislocation of traffic in the event of Italian and Spanish tie-ups. There were some hopes that the Spanish authorities would succeed in staying off trouble, at least for a time, but the outlook in Italy was considered very dark.

FEDERAL MAN IS ENJOINED

CANNOT DICKER WITH PLAYERS UNDER CONTRACT WITH PITTSBURGH NATIONAL CLUB.

Hot Springs, Ark., April 4.—Chancellor Henderson issued today a permanent injunction against Howard Cannitz, a Federal league scout, preventing him from dickering with baseball players now under contract with the Pittsburgh National league club.

In rendering his decision, Judge Henderson said that had any member of the Pirates requested the local chancery court to decide the validity of the contracts he would have declared them void because they lacked mutuality. He denied, however, that Cannitz had the right to raise the question. The injunction prevents Cannitz from conversing with any of the Pirates.

MANY WOULD SERVE TERM IN LEGISLATURE

The number of candidates filing for nomination for the various offices shows no sign of the timber for that purpose being exhausted. This morning the following filings, besides that of Fred S. Byrnes, were made: Harvey G. Starkweather, democrat, wants the nomination for state senator from Clackamas county.

Wilbur Henderson, progressive, wants to represent Multnomah county in the lower house of the legislature.

Andrew C. Smith republican files for the nomination for representative in the legislature from Multnomah.

George A. Johnston, republican would be the member of the lower house from Multnomah.

Plowden Stall, republican is also a candidate for the lower house from Multnomah. Marion B. Towne, democrat files for the nomination for representative in the legislature from Jackson county.

E. V. Littlefield and Ben Selling both republicans, are out for representatives from Multnomah county.

James P. Clarke of Arkansas has the distinction of being the only member of the senate who has taken the oath of office without being escorted thither by another senator. Usually the sitting state colleague performs the service for the new man.

Clarke was elected to succeed the late James K. Jones. The struggle was of the character that leaves scars. The late Senator James H. Berry had served for many years with Mr. Jones and in the campaign between Jones and Clarke was so partial to the former that when Mr. Clarke came into the senate to begin his service he did not ask to allow Berry to introduce him.

When some one suggested that he accept the escort of some other senator he refused, saying: "No. If I cannot go down with my colleague I will not ask any one else to go with me. I will go alone."

And he did.

"Representative James W. Collier of Mississippi is the best swimmer in the house," asserted Herbert Lyons, a recent visitor to Washington. "Not long ago," said the Vicksburg man, "when it was suggested that there might be a swimming match between two United States senators, Senator Vardaman of my state made the suggestion that his protegee, Representative Collier, should be permitted to enter the contest, and, if I remember correctly, the senators, getting a hint of Collier's prowess, called the match off."

Secretary Garrison, speaking of his movement to interfere with the custom of christening ships with champagne, said at a luncheon: "You see, this matter can be looked at from two absolutely opposite points of view. A temperance orator, for example, once said to a shipowner: 'I was glad to see that at the recent launching you christened your new boat with water instead of wine.' The shipowner, ruddy and fat, chuckled and answered in rich, husky tones: 'Yes, indeed. It was full time to inaugurate this reform. With the present scarcity of vintage wine I'll waste no more of it on foolishness.'"

Nothing like proving things for yourself, Mr. Dealer. Suppose you determine for yourself whether it really pays to push goods that are advertised in your home newspapers. Take an equal number of advertised goods and of goods which are not advertised—and display them on the counters. Do nothing to push one against the other, but keep careful note of the sales and the inquiries. See if you do not find that the largest percentage of calls is for the articles with which the newspaper readers of your town are familiar. Once you have proved this to your own satisfaction, no one will have to urge you to co-operate with the manufacturers who are helping you to make customers for your store.
