ALL AROUND TOWN

The students in the salesmanship class of the high school yesterday afternoon were addressed by Max O. Harou. Mr. Harou's talk on salesmanship was to the point and the students were advised along many lines in regard to what is necessary to the making of a good salesman.

Local members of the National Association of Stationary Engineers No. 2 entertained members of the Portland Branch here yesterday. A fine banquet was held in the Hotel Marion after which the engine drivers went to Hurst Hall where a general good time was had. The Portland and Salem engineers visit back and forth regularly and the orders always have a high time.

Watches for repair may be sent up by mail. We guarantee their safe return. Barr's Jewelry store.

Some section hands working on the Southern Pacific track near the state fairgrounds yesterday afternoon discovered three hand saws and several other tools hid in a tie pile. The tools were brought to the police station and were found to be a part of the property stolen from W. H. Dalrymple, the carpenter, recently. Mr. Dalrymple identified the saws as being the ones which

It will be up to the citizens of Salem to decide whether or not a Cherry fair will be held here this year and if so, upon what date. The meeting to be held in the promotion department auditorium this evening will be largely for that purpose and everyone interested in the cherry festival is asked to come out and make their desires known. The cherry festival is an annual event in Salem, as everybody here knows and the commercial club is anxious to have the people make a quick decision.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mason, of 627 North Capitol street, left this morning for Condon, where Mrs. Mason's niece, Miss Gertrude Hightes, lost her life in a fire that destroyed the Oregon Hotel early yesterday morning. The young woman was employed as a waitress.

The registration of voters continues slow and with nearly half still to register. The showing will be light unless voters get a sudden move on. There are, according to estimates, about 8,000 yet to register, and only 19 days for it to be done in time to vote at the primaries. They will have to get on the books now at the rate of 420 a day and the registration is hardly one-fourth that.

W. D. McFadden, an old-time miner, who has lived here for a couple of years, making his home at the White House restaurant, was stricken with paralysis Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock. He was in his room at the time. The secretary of the local lodge of Elks was notified, Mr. McFadden being a life member of Denver lodge, and he was sent to the Willamette sanatorium. This is his second attack, the first coming about two months ago, and he is in a very dangerous condition. He is a bachelor, and has no relatives in this part of the country.

There were but two lonesome filings for nomination for office this morning. W. W. Carlwell, Republican, of Douglas county, wants a seat in the lower house of the legislature. C. M. Hurt, Republican, files for representation for Multnomah and Clackamas counties.

Walt Thompson, the well-known penitentiary guard and ex-officer of this city, went fishing yesterday out along Battle creek, six miles south of this city. Thompson succeeded in capturing an even dozen trout, but declared this morning that he would not work so hard again as he did to catch the measly little handful of fish.
