DEMOCRATS PLANNING TO AVOID TROUBLE IN NOMINATING JUSTICES

ARRANGEMENT MADE BY WHICH NAMES OF SLATER AND CRAWFORD WILL BE WRITTEN IN ON BALLOT.

The Democrats having put candidates out for the office of justice of the supreme court, it makes a rather queer situation. It is pointed out that if no others are named there is a possibility of voters writing in the names of some of the Republican candidates, and this makes them the nominees of both Republicans and Democrats, as they would be Democratic candidates if the names of Democrats were not written in. To avoid any trouble over this condition it is suggested by Mr. Bert Heney, chairman of the state Democratic committee, that the names of two Democrats be written in. It is stated that arrangements have been made by which the Democratic vote will be asked to write in the names of W. T. Slater, of this city, and Thomas H. Crawford, of La Grande. These two gentlemen, it is stated, have consented to the arrangement, and will qualify and serve if elected. No doubt enough Democrats will write in these names to nominate them, and thus fill out the ticket. Tomorrow at 5 o'clock the time for filing petitions ends, and it appears most of the candidates have at least their declarations in, as the supply is falling off. Today there were only two. E. E. Blanchard filed for representative from Josephine county and is a Republican.

ADMINISTRATION PLANS TO STRIKE BACK AT NEWSPAPERS

Washington, April 9.—That the administration plans to strike back in a campaign waged by certain newspapers against President Wilson as a result of his stand on the Panama canal tolls question was indicated today. It was learned that a court attack at an alleged subsidized newspaper "Jobby," backed by the "shipping trust," was the big card held in reserve. Representative Barnhart was authority for the statement that such proceedings were contemplated. "Postmaster-General Burleson," he said, "has been informed that certain newspapers in some of the largest and most influential cities of the country are printing paid articles for the 'shipping trust' in agitation against the Panama canal tolls bill. These articles, the department has been informed, are being printed as bona fide news stories without being labeled as advertisements, as the law requires. Burleson is seriously considering the prosecution in the federal courts of the editors and owners of such newspapers. If it is found that they are accepting money for pseudo news, such papers can be barred as second-class mail, and the editors and owners fined."

ALL AROUND TOWN

An unfortunate accident occurred at the intersection of Ferry and High Sts. yesterday afternoon. James Jordan, a blind man who resides four miles east of here, attempted to cross the street in front of an auto driven by J. B. Milne, of Corvallis, and failed to reach the walk before the machine reached him. Jordan became confused when he heard the machine coming, it is said, and instead of getting out of the way, as he evidently thought he was doing, he ran directly in the path of the auto. The driver seeing that there was danger of a collision applied the brakes, but the momentum carried the machine far enough to strike the blind man in the back with such force as to throw him heavily to the street. He was picked up and given every assistance possible by F. J. Rice, a brother-in-law of the owner of the auto that did the damage, and an ambulance was finally called which took Mr. Jordan to the Willamette Sanitarium. From last reports Mr. Jordan is getting along nicely.

VIVIDLY DESCRIBES HOW WOMAN STRANGLED HERSELF.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 9.—Vividly describing how Mrs. Harriet Verdam, alleged murder victim of Manuel Cabral, attempted to strangle herself in a San Diego rooming house last July, Miss Maud Hungerford, a fellow lodger, created a sensation at Cabral's trial today.

Cabral is accused of choking Mrs. Verdam to death in an apartment house here last October. His defense is that the woman strangled herself.

Miss Hungerford swore that she entered Mrs. Verdam's room in the San Diego house and found the woman lying on her bed clutching her throat with both hands, her face black and her eyes staring. Cabral was wringing the floor bending his head with his fists. He ran for a doctor. That was the second time Miss Hungerford had seen the Verdam woman attempt to strangle herself, she said.

Cabral, who is a wealthy San Diego Portuguese, listened to the testimony with closed eyes, a slight smile on his lips.
