

WHERE BIG ROAD FUND IS TO GO

County Judge Bushey Announces Pacific Highway Will Get $300,000. TOTAL OF $550,000 WILL GO ELSEWHERE. Description of Roads on Which Money Will Be Spent If Bonds Carry.

County Judge Bushey has today completed the work of selecting the roads on which the money raised from the sale of the $550,000 bonds is to be expended if the bonds are voted. The summary shows that of the total amount $550,000 is to be expended on roads other than the Salem-Oregon City road, otherwise known as the Pacific Highway. The Pacific Highway will get the balance of $300,000.

This matter has been pretty thoroughly threshed out, and it is now up to the voters. The election will be held at the same time as the primaries, or on May 15 from 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock at night.

The bonds if voted, will be issued on the order of the county judge, will run for 20 years and will bear 5 per cent interest. The money as the law states it "is to be expended in building permanent roads."

The notices for the election have been prepared by County Clerk Gehlhar and will be sent out at once to the precinct officers and posted in each precinct. The following is a description of the roads on which the money is to be expended:

1. The road commonly known as the Silverton-Salem road, more definitely described as follows: Beginning at a point where the road leading from Salem to Silverton from the Fair Grounds intersects the east boundary of the city of Salem and running thence north-easterly following as near as practical the main county road toward Silverton via the Central Howell school house and Bethany to the point where said road intersects the westerly boundary of the city of Silverton. The minimum amount to be expended on said road is $80,000.

2. The road commonly known as the Hubbard-St. Paul road, more definitely described as follows: Beginning at a point where the county road leading from Hubbard to Broadacres intersects the westerly boundary of the City of Hubbard; thence westerly following as near as practical the main traveled county road toward St. Paul via Broadacres, the Stute place, and the Sarah Kennedy four corners and thence westerly to the point where said road intersects the east boundary of the city of St. Paul. The minimum amount to be expended on said road is $80,000.

3. The road commonly known as the Silverton-Woodburn road, more definitely described as follows: Beginning at a point where the Silverton-Mt. Angel road intersects the Salem-Silverton road near Bethany; thence northerly following as near as practical the main county road via Tucker Steel Bridge to the south boundary of the city of Mt. Angel, where it is intersected by the Mt. Angel-Woodburn county road; thence northerly following as near as practical the main county road toward Woodburn via the Grassy Point school house to the intersection with the Woodburn-Monitor county road and from thence westerly to where said road intersects the east boundary of the city of Woodburn. The minimum amount to be expended on said road is $80,000.

4. The road commonly known as the Salem-Macleay-Whitaker road more definitely described as follows: Beginning at a point where the Salem-Macleay road intersects the east boundary of the city of Salem near the penitentiary and running thence easterly via Macleay and following as near as practical the main county road leading to Whitaker via the Taylor Corner and thence southerly to the southeast corner of the Waldo farm; thence easterly via the Rocky Point school house to the intersection of said road with the road leading north from Sublimity as the termination of said road. The minimum amount to be expended on said road is $45,000.

5. The road commonly known as the Jefferson-Turner road, more definitely described as follows: Beginning at a point where the Jefferson-Turner road intersects the northeast boundary of the city of Jefferson; thence northerly following as near as practical the main county road leading to Turner via Marion to the intersection of said road with the corporate limits of the city of Turner. The minimum amount to be expended on said road is $40,000.

Some Think it is Rodent While Others Call it Bird

Mannas, Brazil, April 11.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, former President Roosevelt, is a burrowing rodent living underground. Its scientific name is spalacopus poeppigi.

It is nothing more or less than a bird, comments the New York Herald. "It has a dentate bill and its first and second toes are reversed."

The cablegram indicated that the animal, or whatever it may be, is one of the rarest of specimens. An official of the American museum of natural history said he never had heard of a curieui.

Discussion Created.

New York, April 11.—A cablegram from Brazil to the effect that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt "shot a curieui" caused quite a discussion today among New York newspapers.

SAYS MISS ARNOLD IS NOW DYING

Pittsburg's Prosecutor Insists She Has Been at Home Four Months. NEVER RECOVERED FROM HER ILLNESS. Despite Denials of Father of Girl, He Claims to Have Positive Proof.

Pittsburg, April 11.—Dorothy Arnold is not dead, according to a declaration by District Attorney Jackson here today. She is dying at her home in New York, he asserted. He added that he had positive information she was a patient at Dr. C. C. Meredith's maternity hospital here.

"Dorothy came to Pittsburg soon after her disappearance from home in 1910 and entered the Meredith hospital as a patient," said Jackson. "She never recovered from her illness and is now dying in New York, where she has been for four months."

The district attorney, although positive in what he said, did not make public the information on which he based his statement. He did say, however, that he knew from the confession by Dr. Lutz, Meredith's assistant, that many women, possibly a score, entered the hospital and disappeared.

"Evidence is coming in hourly," said the district attorney, "by telephone and by mail. This afternoon I'll show you Mrs. Myrtle Allison's body. Unlike most of the others, it was buried instead of being burned. Mrs. Allison died in Meredith's place and was buried in the United cemetery under the name of Daisy Davis."

"One of the nurses also told me of another woman, whose name has not hitherto been mentioned in connection with the case who was operated on at the hospital and died from the effects."

Examination of the monster twin furnaces in the hospital basement revealed the fact that they were connected like those in a crematory and so arranged that the odor from the burning bodies would not be noticed.

Missing Four Years.

Miss Arnold disappeared from the home of her father Francis Arnold, about four years ago. The search for her was country-wide. At first the family welcomed the newspapers' aid. Then, a few weeks after the disappearance, they suddenly became reticent, refusing to discuss the case and expressing the opinion that the girl was dead.

Jackson's assertion that for many months she has been back with her parents, the public meanwhile assuming that she was still missing, created a tremendous sensation. She never recovered from her illness at the Meredith hospital, said Jackson, and it was from its effects that he maintained she is dying now.

Her Jewels Missing.

A tan fur coat and a black hand bag found by the police at the hospital, or the "house of mystery," as it is beginning to be called were identified by four persons today, according to Jackson, as those of Miss Myrtle Allison, the girl supposed to have died in the hospital from the effects of an illegal operation a year ago.

But her jewels were missing.

Chief of Detectives Clark was investigating today the death at the hospital the day after Miss Allison was taken there of a Mrs. Davis, one of the patients mentioned by Dr. H. E. Lutz, Meredith's assistant, in his confession. G. J. Goetz, the undertaker who buried the body, was questioned by the district attorney and it was thought likely the corpse would be exhumed for examination.

Dr. Meredith's hearing was set for next Tuesday. He was charged with performing an illegal operation on Miss Allison and with the theft of her belongings. Meredith and Nurse Lucy Orr were out on bail.

Arnold Denies It.

New York, April 11.—Francis Arnold today denied positively the assertion by District Attorney Jackson of Pittsburg that Arnold's daughter Dorothy is dying at his home of an illness with which she was a patient in Dr. C. C. Meredith's maternity hospital in the Pittsburg suburb of Bellevue some time ago. Arnold reiterated his belief that his daughter is dead.

Arnold was especially infuriated at Jackson's statement that Dorothy was in his own home. "I say he's a liar," he exclaimed passionately. "What he says today isn't what he said yesterday and if he's wrong on one thing he's probably wrong on more than one."

WOMAN MIXED UP IN BLOODY HOLY ROLLER TRAGEDIES MARRIED

A recent dispatch from Newport said, "Miss Esther Mitchell, 27 years old, was married to James K. Berry, 32 years old, of Waldport, by Justice of the Peace Berry, in the Abbey-Town Tuesday night. W. B. Hartley, deputy collector of customs, and Mrs. Hartley were witnesses. She was the prettiest girl at Yachats, where she has lived for four years. The couple left for Waldport, where they will reside."

This another chapter is added to the never-to-be-forgotten history of the Holy Roller movement that rocked the state of Oregon a few years ago. It will be remembered that from Corvallis, the hotbed of the movement, Joshua Creffield, self styled Christ caused Esther Mitchell to take up with his fanatical teachings and follow him and his wife and a few others into the wilderness a few years ago, after having been driven from Corvallis by the father of Mrs. Creffield, Esther, selected by Creffield to be the virgin mother of a new Christ, was taken to the asylum along with the rest of the bunch who for a time "rolled" in Salem, Creffield however being taken to the penitentiary. Upon his release he again sought to secure control of the little band and was shot by the brother of Esther, who in turn shot and killed her brother.

The women, after believing for a time that Creffield would rise again, and being disappointed, gave up their illusions and were cared for by the parents of Mrs. Creffield, where Esther Mitchell took up a homestead and has lived quietly for the past four years.

REBEL BANDS LOOT SHIPS AND CITIES OF MUCH PLUNDER

San Diego, Cal., April 11.—War with all its terrors has struck the usually quiet and peaceful peninsula of Lower California, according to verified information that reached here today on the Mexican steamship Benito Juarez.

The capture, looting and final destruction of two ships—the Bonita and the Carmen, of the Compania Naviera Del Pacifico line—the pillaging of La Paz, capital of the southern portion of Lower California, and several battles are some of the incidents of the last two weeks, heretofore unreported because of lack of wire communication from the lower end peninsula that lead the passengers and office of the Monita Juarez to believe that a campaign for the complete capture of Lower California has been started by the rebel forces.

G. Osuna, former chief politico of the southern part of the peninsula of the Huerta government deserted his post, gathered a party of several hundred rebels and started the campaign more than a week ago by capturing the passenger steamer Bonita with a $200,000 cargo. The ship was taken across the Gulf of California, its cargo unloaded and distributed among rebel camps and the big steamer is now battering at the beach near Culiacan, according to the officers of the Benito Juarez. Captain Victor Ibaragan, a former San Diegoan, is a prisoner in a rebel camp near Culiacan.

The Carmen, a 100-ton gasoline schooner, was pirated, run on the beach and burned. No word had been received from her captain or crew by the officers of the Compania Naviera Del Pacifico at any of the federal ports when the Benito Juarez cleared for this port.

La Paz, known as a place of peace, was looted and about $150,000 Mexican was taken by Osuna and his band before sailing for the Mexican land on the ill-fated Bonita.

While the Benito Juarez was in the Mazatlan harbor on the main land, a wireless message from the United States gunboat New Orleans was received by the French trading ship Korrigan, saying that the rebel gunboat Tumpico, which deserted from the federal some weeks ago and has since been cornered in Topolobampo harbor, had sunk by the federal gunboats in the mouth of Topolobampo harbor.

LIKES OREGON AND WILL MAKE HIS HOME IN SALEM

G. C. Hoffman, a German gentleman of the good old industries class and a cousin of August Kehrberger, the well known Salem contractor, has come to this city to make his home. Mr. Hoffman, with his family, arrived from the eastern states but a short time ago and the first thing he did, or at least one of the first things, was to take out a building permit to erect a fine two-story frame dwelling to cost in the neighborhood of $1800 at 1610 Summer street.

Mr. Hoffman is a building contractor and states that there are several other families now on their way to Salem with the intention of making their home here. Every one knows August Kehrberger and when that genial German gentleman gets busy with his fellow Germans who reside in the east, it can be depended upon that the latter will sit up and take notice. The Salem contractor stated this morning that many of his eastern friends are looking toward this city now as a promising place in the west and are making preparations to visit the Capital of Oregon this summer.
