The Markets

The wheat market for some reason remains unchanged, in spite of reports from all the great wheat growing countries showing unusually fine prospects. Russia alone, it is estimated, will have 60,000,000 bushels more than the estimates two weeks ago gave her, and 200,000,000 bushels more than last year. Similarly flattering reports come from practically all the wheat sections of the world. Shearing has begun in Eastern Oregon, and there is much life in the wool market. But little shearing has been done in the valley due to the unsettled weather, and such sales as are reported are at from 16 to 18 cents. Vegetables are in good supply and poultry in demand at good prices. Eggs are still at 19 cents.

PROMOTORS OF CHERRINGO MAKE MANY PROMISES

Among the many things promised for the Cherringo are the following:

In tent No. 1 will be seen a great array of all the world's greatest freaks. Among them may be mentioned Allababa, the man of mystery; Madame Tilly, mind reader; Bertha, the bearded lady; Major Mite, midget; Samson, the strong man; Zorello, tattooed man; Hoxey, marionett; Hoofty Goofty, the canibal, and last, but not least, "Zip," the most dangerous wild man in captivity. This attraction is under the management of E. C. Patton, and the speilers will be Walter Winnslow and Carl Hinges.

Tent No. 2 will contain plantation days, depicting colored life in the cotton fields. In fact a regular high-class minstrel show that will appeal to all lovers of comedy, and high-class music. This attraction is under the able management of Dr. H. C. Eppley, and his assistants, comprising the best musical talent in the city.

Tent No. 3 will house Illusion Hall, introducing the latest illusion, "La Verne," the living head. This is bound to create a good deal of excitement during the Cherringo. This attraction is under the stage direction of Cummings, who is well known in the city for his clever illusions and window displays.

Tent No. 4 will be occupied by two of the world's greatest curiosities, Anaconda, who will introduce her very latest dance in all colors, entitled the "Worm Wiggle." This will create a most wonderful sensation, as this is the first time that a stunt of this character has been given in Salem. "Fliringo," another wonderous being; what it is is hard to tell. N. D. Elliott has charge of this attraction, and believes that it wall draw larger houses than other attractions at the Cherringo.

Tent No. 5 will be known as the home of the famous Cliff Dwellers, and is an attraction that is worth many times the price asked. In addition to the Cliff Dwellers, one will see a "Double-Headed Boy" and a pig face child. August Huckestein will have charge of this attraction, and promises his patrons an unusually good showing of these famos people.

Tent No. 6 will be known as the "Hall of Death." It will contain many very interesting novelties, which have been procured at great expense.

Ferris wheel, merry-go-rond and Cherrian tented circus with Barton's trained animals and acrobats, all will be there.

OFFICERS SEARCH FOR BANDIT WHO ROBBED S. P. TRAIN

Los Angeles, Cal., April 21.—Several squads of officers are searching today for a masked bandit who held up the clerks aboard a mail car attached to a northbound Southern Pacific train last night, and escaped with 20 packages of registered mail.

With a blue bandana handkerchief tied over his face, the man stepped into the mail car soon after the train pulled out of the Arcade station here, bound for San Francisco. He covered the clerks with a revolver and compelled them to point out the registered mail. He dropped from the train at Tropico, near the Los Angeles city limits.

Not a Hero.

"Yes, my brother died where the shells were thickest."

"Did he die in the war?"

"No; in an oyster saloon."—Philadelphia Press.

Case of Swelled Head.

Playwright—I want a hat—size 8.

Hatter—Mr. Penem, you always wear a 6¼.

Playwright—Sir, I know what I want; my comedy was a success last night.—Chicago News.

Hospitality.

Whizwire—Do you mean to say that your father-in-law has invited you to visit him?

Blanke—Same thing. When I suggested it over the telephone he dared me to.—New York Globe.

CLUB WORK INTERESTING

FIELD WORKER N. C. MARIS SAYS RURAL SCHOOL PUPILS ARE EAGER TO AID MOVEMENT.

Reporting his week's work in Umatilla county to Superintendent J. A. Churchill, Field Worker N. C. Maris says he found greater interest in the club work in the little rural schools than in the larger schools of the country towns. Much of his time was spent in the small schools of the wheat belt, where every boy and girl seemed eager to get into the club, and all of eligible age joined.

The bonanza wheat farming of that country has worked a great hardship on the schools, decreasing the population, and causing most of the children to go long distances in order to reach and maintain schools of six to 12 pupils. But while they lack the numbers necessary to inspire a good degree of enthusiasm and to make keen competition, they have the snap and ambition engendered by effort and self-reliance which is sometimes less apparent where the goal is easier of access. There is plenty of wealth in those large districts and the patrons generally seem willing to pay the price adn employ good teachers, so they have good schools, despite the sparse population.

But a note never falls due at the proper time.

MARKET DAY WELL ATTENDED

The Market Day sale held in Hubbard last Saturday proved to be quite a popular and successful affair. The auteion in the afternoon was well attended and the goods sold all brought good prices, while the merchants at the stores report an unusually large day's business. Hubbard's merchants and business men are gaining a reputation among the farmers of the surrounding country for honesty and fair dealing and this place is becoming the shopping center of a larger district every day.—Hubbard Enterprise.

FERMAN HURTEL RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Ferman Hurtel, son of "Grandma" Hurtel of this city, and brother of Mrs. W. F. Tucker, who lives at the corner of Winter and Chemeketa streets, was run down by an automobile on the Wednesday before Easter in Mobile, Alabama. He was badly injured about the arms and knees and had one foot crushed. At last reports he was unable to stand on his feet. He is a lumber inspector and has a wife and five children.

A professor protests that women were not burned at Salem, Mass., for alleged witchraft; only hanged. So the Salemites' ancestors are vindicated.

"PEG O'MY HEART" SCORES A BIG HIT

BREEZY COMEDY OF THE SIMPLE LITTLE IRISH GIRL KEEP AUDIENCE IN GOOD HUMOR.

"Peg O' My Heart" was at the Grand last night, with her red hair, sunny smile, wholesome philosophy, and brilliant and cutting repartee. Her delicious frankness, her power to grasp the significance of a situation, and her winsomeness made the whole performance a delight from the rise of the curtain until its final drop.

There was no one who did not like "Peg" from the first glimpse of her as she entered the living room of Regal Villa, Mrs. Chichester's house in Scarboro, England, with her suit case in her hand and her dog Michael under her arm. She was fresh from New York, and the comedy of the production hinges on the situations that arose in the attempt of Peg to adapt her free American nature to the stiff, formal atmosphere of this English household. But "Peg" would not fit in, she was a square "Peg" in a round hole, and "the original sin" in her, as she expresed it, was the cause of constant conflict between her and her aunt, who was undertaking to make a lady out of her.

The artistocratic English atmosphere was well typified in the personnel of the Chichester household. Repression instead of expression of the feelings was the rule. The mother was frozen in her own formality, the daughter was ultra-sophisticated in her love affairs, the son was dull and insane as a beef-eater could be expected to be, but the butler was the picture of stodility.

The play was built from a technical point of view, acted in an artistic manner, and given an elaborate setting for its one scene. The gales of laughter were suddenly hushed by moments of keen insight into th hearts of the people of the play.

Miss Peggy O'Neil, as "Peg O' My Heart," was supported by a well-balanced cast. She was the center of attraction, however all the time and her sallies, her flashes of wit brought the house tiine after time. She was pretty, unassuming, but filled with bold, daredevil spirit that made the comedy pleasing.

There is a bubbling vivaciousness about the play that makes it irresistable. And the people of Salem thoroughly enjoyed it. The house was crowded and was kept in convulsions of laughter all the evening.

MANY CANDIDATES AFIELD.

There is a total of 87 republicans, 27 democrats and 17 progressive candidates on the state and county tickets that will be voted upon at the primary election May 15. The list shows more progressives than was expected. The total of republicans is larger than ever before. There is only one democrat out for county office. The list of names requires a total of 16 typewritten pages.

Optimism is a good thing when not overworked.

LACK OF CARE WILL RUIN THE MOST BEAUTIFUL HAIR

SAVE IT WITH HERPICIDE

Aside from combing it when they think necessary many people give no attention whatever to their hair. Then when the hair begins to fall out it never occurs to them that their trouble is the result of personal carelessness.

An occasional application of Newbro's Herpicide will not only prevent loss of hair but permits a luxuriant growth. Hair losses are attributable to dandruff and the germ that causes it. The results following the intelligent use of Herpicide are frequently of a surprising nature. It removes the scale-like accumulations, leaving the scalp clean and free of dirt and thus allowing the hair to grow unhampered by dandruff.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications may be obtained at good barber shops.

Send 10c in postage for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. E., Detroit, Mich.

VETERAN'S FUNERAL.

Veterans of the Civil war are requested to attend the funeral of our late Comrade C. D. McCoy from the undertaking parlors of Rigdon & Richardson at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, April 22, 1914. Interment in City cemetery.

R. C. HALLEY, Commander.
D. WEBSTER, Adjutant.

Sulzer has started a new party; he had to do something to get into the limelight.

Raising Food Standards

Advertising is playing a wonderful part in the raising of food standards because it has opened the way for distributing standard brands of assured quality.

Article for article, the advertised food products are of better character than the unknown kind.

They are kept to a fixed standard all the time.

Food products advertised in this newspaper are deserving of confidence; and the stores which specilize on these brands and co-operate with the manufacturers in giving them distribution are well worthy of your confidence.

In a sense the advertising columns of a reliable newspaper are a guide to good health.
