SAYS PEARING GIRL SMOKED CIGARETTES

Testimony Introduced to Show That Plaintiff Was 20 Years Old.

ALSO DRANK HIGHBALLS AND A FEW COCKTAILS

Fischer Says That Girl and Her Mother Knew Identity of Diggs.

San Francisco, May 5.—Testimony intended to show that the complaining witness was 21 years old and drank highballs and cocktails and smoked cigarettes with the knowledge and consent of her mother, was introduced today at the trial of Maury I. Diggs, former state architect, charged with criminally assaulting Miss Ida May Peering.

Walter E. Fischer swore that both Miss Peering and her mother knew Diggs' identity and had known for months before the alleged assault occurred. George Carter, of San Diego, also proved a strong defense witness. He testified that he had known the Peering family in his home town and swore that Miss Peering had admitted to him on December 9, 1913, that she was then 22 years old.

Mrs. Belestine Stevens was the next witness. She declared that when she had called on a Mrs. Sullivan the Peering girls were invited to meet her.

"Miss Peering and her mother were smoking cigarettes when they came into the room," said Mrs. Stevens. "Ida lay down on a sofa and smoke one cigarette after another. When something was said about young girls smoking, Mrs. Peering remarked that Ida was 20 years of age and could do as she pleased."

L. Griffin, a real estate dealer, testified to meeting Mrs. Peering and Ida and Vivian Peering at the Alamo hotel. He said Mrs. Peering told him that Ida was 21 years old and Vivian 19.

Benjamin F. Green was the next witness. He testified that in November, 1913, he had served several drinks to Mrs. Peering and her sister Vivian in a room at the Alamo hotel, occupied by a man named Eigenbaum, at 11 o'clock at night.

"Another time," said Green, "I served drinks to Ida May Peering in a room with a man named Webb. Later, at the direction of the proprietor of the hotel, I told the Peering girls not to come to the hotel again."

SPECIAL PRIZES OFFERED FOR ESSAYS BY STUDENTS

Four prizes, ranging from $1,000 to $200 have been offered to students of economics and of commercial subjects for the production of the best essays on a number of timely topics. The details of the contest were announced yesterday by Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, who is the chairman of the committee in charge of the contest. The prizes are given by Hart Schaffner & Marx.

One of the subjects, which is now of particular interest because of the question of canal tolls is, "Ship Subsidies by Indirectness"; another is "Price Maintenance", which is being very widely discussed by commercial experts. Other subjects suggested are:

Legal Study of the Immigration Problem.

A Study of the Protocol in the Needle-Trade Industry.

The Economic Validity of the Single Tax.

Reciprocity and Retaliation in Foreign Trade.

The Development of trade with Latin America.

The papers are to be completed by June 1, 1915. Competitors are divided into two classes. Undergraduates of any American college may compete for a first prize of $300 and a second prize of $200. Any other American, without restriction, may compete for first prize of $1,000 and a second prize of $500. The committee retains the right to award all prizes to undergraduates if the merits of the papers demand it.

Similar contests have been conducted for ten years. The University of Chicago has thus far had the most winners with a total of five. Northwestern, Cornell and Washington & Lee are tied for second place with four winners each; Oberlin College has had three. The University of Illinois two, and one each have come from Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

FOREST NOTES.

In preparation for the coming fire season in California, 110 miles of fire lines have been built on the Sierra national forest.

The imports of matches into China greatly exceed in value any other wood product. Most of the matches come from Japan.

Redwood sawdust is being used by vineyardists in California for packing fresh table grapes. It takes the place of the ground cork used for imported Spanish grapes.

Hyndman Peak, Idaho, the highest named peak in the state, is more than 12,000 feet high. Several unnamed peaks near it are of about the same elevation. All are on the divide between the Sawtooth and Lemhi national forests.

SUMMER CLOTHES.

With the coming of May every mother begins to think of the clothes that must soon be ready for the summer wear for herself and her daughters and the hunt for a competent seamstress at once begins.

Sometimes several are tried before the "right" one is found and only too often that "right" one is never discovered and the summer dressmaking becomes a veritable scourge.

The really wise housewives turn to the Want Ad columns and always find there the very seamstress they want and the result is peace and comfort all during the month.
