Four expert watchmakers. Best of work. No delays. Barr's.

The pupils of Miss Laura Grant, assisted by Rieta Reed, soloist, will appear in a "Butterfly" recital at the Christian church, June 17th.

During your spare time, visit the Mecca Billiard Parlors, basement Masonic building.

The county officers, with the exception of the sheriff's force and the county assessor, all took a holiday today. The sheriff's office was kept open as a precaution against any stray hurly call that might be sent in and Ben West's force will be busy for the next week getting moved into their new quarters. The new office is nearly finished with the exception of a few coats of paint and kalsomine, and the workweek is practically completed.

in stamps of all denominations and a book of money order blanks. The U. S. marshals are working on the case with slender clues, but the county sheriff's force is inclined to think that the robbers will be caught in time, as the government is getting peaceful about so many of these postoffice robberies which have been pulled off during the last few months.

Piano tuning, first-class work. Phone 1465, leave orders with G. C. Will or R. F. Peters, J. E. Heckett.

The Salem fire department made runs to three fires yesterday. One in the morning on Market street, another on the Willamette bridge and last evening made a run to Fairmount park, where a chimney was smoking dangerously. None of the fires were of much moment, but they would probably have done some damage had not the big auto chemical been on the job. J. P. Rogers, of this city, was the man who doused the fire on the bridge, having passed along in his auto shortly after the fire department was called, and kicked the flames to smithereens. As an individual fire department, J. P. has everything skinned.

Ask for Zinn's ice cream when you want the best.

A. E. Watson, of this city, this morning brought to the Journal office samples of oil taken from the wells just opened in the newly discovered oil district at Calgary, Alberta. The oil is a beautiful amber in color and is said to be equal to the best ever found. It is so pure that it is used in autos just as it comes from the wells, and is said to equal gasoline for this purpose. The bottle shows Mr. Watson says, was taken from a lot hauled from the wells to Calgary in an auto truck which was driven by one of the same oil. The district gives promise of being a great one, and capitalists are already rushing there to get the first grab at the big properties.

We guarantee safe return of watches for repair sent us by mail. Quality counts in jewelry. Barr's.

The alley behind the city hall has every appearance of "Old Doc Yak's" garage. The objects causing this similarity consist of axles, belts, springs and other parts of Ray Cooper's delapidated automobile. The machine had a conspicuous fit over in Polk county recently, turned turtle and skidded about the public highway in grand style with the result that it had to be shoved up in a pile, placed in a drape and hauled back to Salem. Cooper states that his machine is not broken up very badly, but that it is a whole lot apart at present. No one who has passed by the city hall can deny this last statement.

Billiards and pool, a fascinating pastime. Paul Marnech invites his friends to visit him at his new place of business, the Mecca Billiard Parlors, basement Masonic building.

H. D. St. Helen, piano and organ tuning. Main 1005; 236 Court.

Geo. Smith, of Portland, was a visitor yesterday at the home of P. W. Brown, 1399 State street.

The coolest place in town. Enjoy a game of billiards or pool at Paul Marnech's Mecca Billiard Parlors, Masonic building.

Mrs. Blalard, of Eugene, has been the guest for several days of Miss Edith Brown of 1399 State street.

Dr. E. F. Reamer, eye, ear, nose and throat. Masonic Temple.

Rev. D. N. McInturff will preach at the Salem Mission, corner Center and Commercial streets, Sunday afternoon and evening.

Dr. Asseln, Zahnartz, Steeves Bldg.

Mrs. Cooper, of Independence, was a recent visitor of her niece, Mrs. Bibby, at 205 Lincoln street.

Go to Dr. Stone's for trusses.

The Salvation Army will hold a special memorial service in their hall in the Steeves building Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, in memory of the dead who perished in the Empress of Ireland disaster. The services will be held under the charge of the Revival Brigade, which is conducting a series of services in this city.

Dr. F. L. Utter, dentist, Masonic oldg.

The Chemawa boys in full regalia arrived in the city this afternoon on the 1 o'clock Oregon Electric and marched through the streets. The students carried Springfield rifles and the fine Chemawa band furnished excellent music for the appreciative Salemites.

H. D. St. Helen, piano and organ tuning. Main 1005; 236 Court.

The Russell Catlins are home from a six weeks' tour through southern and eastern states, going as far east as Chicago.

Mrs. H. E. Clay will leave Sunday for Portland, where she will be joined by her sister, Mrs. John Snyder, and together they will leave for a one month's tour through eastern states, principal stops being made in Kansas City, Topeka, Emporia and Denver, Colorado.

CIRCULATION MANAGER TO BECOME LAWYER

J. W. McInturff, for two years with the Capital Journal, to take up the practice of law.

J. W. McInturff, who for more than two years has had charge of the circulation department of the Capital Journal, severs his connection with the paper today. He has conducted the department to the entire satisfaction of the management, and retires only to take up the practice of law. "Mac" delved into the musty tomes of the profession between times of herding the obstreperous and unquenchable newbies and straightening out circulation tangles, and was admitted to the bar about a year ago. During his time in the circulation department, that branch showed splendid development.

The circulation of the Capital Journal increased at least three-fold in those two years, and the routes, of which there were six when he assumed charge, now number 24, and arrangements were perfected by which Journal subscribers were furnished their papers over the rural delivery routes for a distance of two or three miles from the city the same evening the paper was issued. The territory reached by the Journal has been greatly increased, due largely to his energetic efforts, and there is hardly a newspaper on the coast whose subscription list is as nearly composed of a legitimate home patronage. Just where he will locate he has not decided, but wherever it may be, the best wishes of all connected with the Journal from management to newboys will go with him.

CHEMAWA WINS MEET

Readskins Take Field Events and Break Even With Salem Y. M. C. A. in the Distances.

The Chemawa Indian training school track men showed such a burst of speed yesterday afternoon that the Salem Y. M. C. A. was taken into camp to the tune of 89 to 53. The readskins had things their own way in the field events and broke even in the distances. Ford was able to win the sprints, and outside the middle distances the Y. M. C. A. saw red ahead all of the way.

While the Y. M. C. A. did not expect to win the meet, the men are satisfied with the showing made and feel confident that they have received great benefit from the performance, and say they will make a better showing in the Salem-Portland relay race.

Broad jump—Adams (C), first; McNiel (C), second; Ford (S), third; distance, 29 feet, 6 inches.

The mile relay was taken by Chemawa. Those running were Chemawa Sellen, Crawford, Chamberlain, Johnson. For Salem—Palchen, Kellis, Huggins, Fruit.

The four-mile relay was also won by Chemawa. Those running for Chemawa were Gange, Service, Sellen, Kintus, Jim. For Salem—Minton, Simmeral, Dulton and Huggins.

The Salem team has had practically no training up to now, but it is expected that they will take several meets after the team has been whipped into shape by Conches Compton and Gingrich of the Y. M. C. A.

MOUNT CREST ABBEY MAUSOLEUM DEDICATED

Fitting Exercises Mark Completion of Beautiful House of the Silent Sleepers—Built to Stand for Centuries.

The Mount Crest Abbey Mausoleum, which has been under construction for the past eight months in the City View cemetery, was dedicated this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Hon. B. L. Steeves, mayor of Salem, acted as chairman of the day and made the introductory remarks. After outlining the idea and purpose of the community mausoleum, Mr. Steeves went on to say that many people had a horror of the damp mouldering grave and that as a result modern people had come from the ancient and yearly more mausoleums were being dedicated in all of the principal cities of the United States.

The famous mausoleums of antiquity are standing in a good state of preservation today, and though in these days their use was limited to royalty, the remains of the ancient kings were consigned to a much more sanitary resting place than the great majority of the present day dead. Modern mausoleums, however, are constructed to last as well as did the mausoleums of the ancients, and the prices charged for crypts are within the reach of the common peoples' pocketbooks. As a result the popularity of the community mausoleum has grown throughout the country. The mausoleum for the most part are constructed of reinforced concrete and finished in bronze or marble. Ample room is provided for funeral and memorial services and the entire structure is rendered as sanitary as modern science can make it.

The exercises this afternoon were opened by a song, "Cavalry," by the quartet consisting of Misses Grace Smith and Ava McMahon and Messrs. A. A. Schramm and R. R. Jones.

The following program was carried out in order:

Invocation—Rev. P. S. Knight.
 Introductory Remarks—Hon. B. L. Steeves.
 Solo—"And God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," by Sullivan—Miss Ava McMahon.
 Address—"Mausoleums, Ancient and Modern"—John S. Bradley.
 Tricentenary Address—Rev. E. V. Aylson.
 Duets—"The Lord is My Shepherd," by Smart—Miss Grace Smith, Miss Ava McMahon.
 Depositing of Documents in Columbarium—Rev. Robt. S. Gill.
 Benediction—Rev. Harry E. Marshall.
