This is the last day in which refusal to come under the operation of the state industrial accident law, commonly known as the workmen's compensation law, can be filed, and within the past week more than 400 refusals that had been filed with the commission were withdrawn. It is estimated that fully 82 per cent of the employers in the state will come under the operation of the law and that 90 per cent of the employees will do so. Most of the departments of the state will be under the law, and the state will cancel all insurance contracts now held in this connection on July 1, when the law goes into effect.

Professor Bullock, of Harvard, who was here Saturday, came by way of Vancouver, B. An old man wandered into one of these places and was immediately grabbed by a booster who began to tell him the immense profits to be made in the wells for which he had stock for sale. "This is a big one, best in the world," said the booster. "Why, it's a whale." "A whale is it?" said the old man; "well the whole thing looks fishy to me. The well is a whale, you and your gang are sharks, and the sidewalk is full of skeletons, so I guess I won't bite."

Some 27 farmers of Gilliam county stand to have the loans made them by the state land board cancelled. It seems that when Jay Bowerman was acting as agent for the board at Condon, he made the abstracts of title to the lands on which the money was loaned. The abstracts have not been filed and the board has notified the borrowers that they must file the abstracts at once. The farmers say they would Mr. Bowerman for making the abstracts and the board has written him but so far has received no reply. The farmers have been notified that they must look to Mr. Bowerman for any redress as he did the work, and it is between them to settle their own

At the meeting of the precinct committee of the Republican party held at the court house Saturday afternoon, J. C. Seigmond, of Salem, G. Keech, of Stayton, and C. Hartman of Silverton, were appointed on the committee to act in case of vacancies. M. L. Jones of Brooks, G. Brown, of Salem, E. M. LaFare, of Salem, F. S. Lamport of Salem, and L. Reynolds of Chenawa were appointed on the committee on platform resolutions. B. E. Robertson was elected chairman and A. D. Elliott secretary. Much old time oratory and enthusiasm was manifested and the members present expressed the desire for a thorough organization of their party on a good canvass of the voters before the election next fall. The committee will meet again on June 27 to hear the report of the various committees and to complete the organization of the party.

Piano recital—Miss Margaret Fisher will present her pupils in recital at the First Methodist church, Monday evening, June 15, at 8:15 o'clock. Public cordially invited.

The "African Dip", the concession during the recent Woodman carnival where a colored man was dropped into a shallow tank of water when a baseball hit a small target in front and released a spring controlling the perch occupied by the bather, was closed down at 6 o'clock Saturday night by the police of this city on the ground of inhumanity. C. E. Sutton, of this city, is the owner of the concession and plays the part of the victim but on Friday night happened to be suffering from a cold and hired a local man to act as the "dip". The local man, being unused to the repeated plunges and as there was a breeze blowing at the time, shivered as he sat on his perch and the matter was brought to the attention of the police by people who complained that it was inhuman, with the result that the show was closed down. Mr. Sutton says that he has been running his show for three weeks and has held forth in several towns of the valley and in no case before has he been obliged to close down.

Do you wear men's clothes? Then it's like to The Toggery for you, for there's where you can get your summer wear at from a third to a half what you have been paying. Hasten.

That Valley real estate is in demand was proven this morning when Walter L. Toose, one of the proprietors of the pool hall on State street, sold five acres located near Woodburn for $200 per acre. The part sold is that of a portion of a big farm situated in one of the richest farming belts in the Valley about a mile from Woodburn. W. A. Yorke bought the property.

Governor West left this afternoon at 4 o'clock for Portland. He will leave there at 7 for the east. He expects to be away some six or seven weeks, visiting many of the institutions of the east for the purpose of getting pointers on the management of those in Oregon.

Among the medical practitioners who attended the banquet of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, held at the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, Cal., on Thursday last was Dr. Clyde V. Nelson, of Salem, Oregon.

Rudy Butte, the young man who sustained a severely cut thumb while working with some bottles at the Salem brewery last Friday, is able to be about his duties again despite the fact that the member was split clean to the bone by the glass. With the exception of a few sleepless nights, Mr. Butte declares that he is getting along nicely.

If you want to see Dr. Mendelsohn the eyesight specialist, about your eyes or your glasses, call on him as soon as you possibly can, as he will leave on the evening of July 3 for his vacation and will be gone a full month. Dr. M. P. Mendelsohn, rooms 210-211 U. S. National Bank building.

The Girls' Willamette club held special exercises at the university chapel this morning in commemoration of Jason Lee, the founder of Willamette university. Just eight years ago today his body was moved to this city and placed in the Jason Lee cemetery and today the club is raising a big flag on the grave. The flag and the pole were secured by the Girls' Willamette club.

The Salem Cherrians have received a special invitation to attend the Frontier day exercises to be held at Walla Walla in September. The Frontier day celebration is a rival for the Pendleton round up and the promoters are making great efforts to make their show a success. The Cherrians have also been urged to attend the Fourth of July celebration at Vancouver this year.

Announcement—We want to extend a hearty invitation to the public to make use of our reception room while waiting for cars. Salem Electric Co., Masonic Temple, 127 North High street.

The city council will hold its annual meeting in the city hall this evening. Just the general gist of business will be up for consideration.

Owing to Governor West being out of the state, it will be "Governor Olcott" for a month or two.

The necessity of prompt action is urged and the clerks asked to send in the corrected abstracts of the votes as soon as possible.

As the date of the Cherry fair nears it is necessary that all of the members of the committees make a special effort to bring their plans to a close and begin to line up things for the big celebration.

A member of the local humane society this afternoon delivered a lecture and also a warning to a certain individual who came racing through the streets with a poor little mare which was covered with foam and lashed the blood out of his horse and the unfortunate animal was almost on her last legs when the humane society member stopped the outfit. The unreasonable driver promised that he would be less energetic with the whip and was allowed to proceed on his way with a warning that if he repeated the whipping stunt he would be nailed up before the justice of the peace.

Sheriff William Esch returned yesterday from a month's trip to his former home in Minnesota, where he visited his mother and other relatives at St. Paul. On his way back he came over the Canadian Pacific and visited a brother in Alberta for a few days. He says he found the weather in Minnesota about like the last two days here but that the eastern heat is more oppressive and muggy and seems to settle around one and make comfort impossible. He says that though he was born in Minnesota and raised there, he is mighty glad to get back to Oregon and thinks that this state is good enough for him. He says he kept on the lookout for his former townsman, Cook, but did not have the pleasure of meeting him, and thinks from the equipment that the fugitive secured before leaving here that the man is now in the wilds of the Rocky mountains, where he will remain for some time.

MERCURY CLIMBS UP AND UP, UP, UP, YET

The mercury went up to 87 degrees in the shade at the Oregon City Transportation Company's dock at the foot of Trade street yesterday afternoon about 2:30. This is the record for warmth in this district so far this season. The warmest day heretofore this year was only 84 degrees above.

Thanks to the cool waters of the Willamette, about two hundred young men and women evaled Old Sol yesterday afternoon by keeping under. Several of the more daring chaps are going about their respective businesses today, however, with mighty sore backs, having failed to keep beneath the water far enough so the sun could not blister the skin.

Today the tar oozed out of the pavement on State and Commercial streets and the silver-colored thread mounted up to the 86 degree mark on its crystal container at 2 o'clock. According to the best weather guessers, it is believed that today will prove another record breaker. It was predicted by many shortly after 2 o'clock that the high mark today will be at least 88 and possibly 89.

WILSON SIGNS CANAL TOLLS
REPEAL BILL TODAY.
Washington, June 15.—President Wilson signed the canal tolls repeal bill at 11 o'clock today.

The bill was signed without ceremony. In affixing his signature to the bill, Wilson used several different pens, and these will be kept as souvenirs.
There are 40 of these, and as each contributed $25 for the examination an even $1,000 was turned over to the state. The examination will last over Tuesday, and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will be devoted to practical work, which will be done at the penitentiary for the state's charges free of cost to them. This has been the practice for some years, and the coming deal is looked forward to with great deal of interest by the prisoners, nearly all of whom need work done on their teeth. A year ago this desire was so strong that the two gangs of 20 men each, working in the brick yard, struck, and insisted on being given a chance to have work done. It will be seen from this that the advertised coming of the class was not accountable for the recent attempts to escape.

"WET GOODS" PEDDLER HAS TRIAL TODAY

Accused of peddling "wet goods", Charles Edmunson, a well known local man, was arrested last Saturday evening by Day Officer White. Edmunson is held in the city jail until some time this afternoon when his trial will be held in the police court.

A stool pigeon was largely responsible for the capture of the alleged bootlegger according to the arresting officer. Officer White gave the stool pigeon a marked dollar piece and told him to go and buy some booze. The man approached Edmunson and offered him the dollar for a pint of whiskey. Edmunson, it is said, produced the booze and Patrolman White, who was stationed in a position where he could see the transaction, stepped out and placed the deliverer of intoxicants under arrest.

Edmunson pleaded not guilty this morning when arraigned before Judge Elgin in the police court and his trial will be held at a late hour this afternoon.

FLASHES OF FLAME

ever, until all had been heard from but Dr. Erlow of Chico and an automobile party of three and Hiram Blodgett and Hugh Adlington, members of another party of eight with which Graham and Tipples left Phelps' sawmill to visit the crater.

For these six the gravest anxiety was felt until late last night. At length word was received that the Enlow party had escaped and still later Blodgett and Adlington were found, almost dead from exhaustion but otherwise unharmed.

The entire party to which Graham and Tipple belonged were dangerously close to the crater when the first of yesterday's eruptions began, at 9:45 a. m. A preliminary rumble warned them of their danger and they ran for safety.

Hot Stones Fall Thickly.
As they started Graham's hat blew off and he stopped to chase it. By this time the outburst had begun and hot stones were falling thickly. One of them struck Graham and he fell. A moment later Tipple went down.

Thinking him dead, their companions continued their flight. In the confusion Blodgett and Adlington lost the others and were believed to have perished.

The other four finally reached a spot where a jutting rock protected them from the shower of stones, and plunging into the snow to save their lungs from the sulphuric fumes which filled the air, waited until the eruption subsided. Its duration was about 20 minutes, which seems to be the crater's schedule.

Went After Help.
As soon as it was over the party descended the mountain and made for Mazanita Lake to get help. Guided by the quartet, a searching party immediately started back toward the crater, having meantime sent word for the coroner and an undertaker.

These two were turned back toward Redding, however, at Mill Valley, when it was learned that Graham and Tipple had been found alive but badly injured, and a doctor was asked for instead.
