AMERICAN FIGHTERS ARE IN BIG DEMAND

Many Have Foreign Enjoyments and Are in a Fair Way to Clean Up and Bring Home Good Money.

RITCHIE AND GUNBOAT SMITH BOTH MATCHED IN ENGLAND

Another Gang of Mitt Artists Is in Australia and Scheduled for Some Game Contests.

(By Hal Sheridan)

New York, July 2.—American fighters are in demand everywhere. Many of our best candidates for pugilistic honors have foreign engagements and are in a fair way to clean up small sized fortunes. Over in Australia, Eddie McGorty, who has been getting good prizes at every start, is apparently satisfied to stay in kangaroo land as long as the coin comes clicking in. Jimmy Clabby, Young Shugrue, Pal Brown, Young Saylor, Lee Johnson and a lot of other American boxers are also in the Antipodes getting rich. Harry Stone went to Australia flat broke. He left Sydney recently with $12,000 in cash and letters of credit. Just now Stone is cleaning up in England.

Besides Stone, Willie Ritchie and Gunboat Smith are in England. Ritchie is to fight Freddie Welsh, July 7 and Smith clashes with Georges Carpentier on July 16. Jim Savage has just returned to New York from England after defeating P. O. Curran. A score of less famous Americans are fighting in Paris, including Tom Kennedy, Tony Ross, Willie Lewis and others. The English critics like Savage's work against Curran and he is going back. They wrote columns describing his gameness.

"Curran," said one writer, "swung on Savage's eye while Savage was extending his right hand for the customary handshake at the opening of the bout. The eye was closed tight. In spite of this handicap and several bad cuts produced by Curran's butting, Savage begged Dick Burge, the referee, not to disqualify Curran and then went in and beat him."

A cablegram received here from Jim Conley, the "Dublin giant," who is in Ireland, stated that Richard Croker, former boss of Tammany, has openly declared that he stood ready to match Coffey with Jack Johnson for a side bet of $5,000.

Casey Went to Bat.
Tacoma, Wash., July 2.—After flooring Big Tom Cowler, champion heavyweight of Canada, with a hard left to the jaw in the first round of a smoker here last night, "Casey" Jones of South Tacoma was knocked out by the Englishman in the fourth round. He gave a game exhibition. Cowler's victory was due mostly to his greater height, weight and reach. Jones weighed 165 and Cowler 210.

Tex Vernon, featherweight champion of the northwest, fought a slashing four round draw with Jockey Bennett of Pendleton, Oregon. Vernon was in great shape and held his own with the veteran Bennett.

Frank Farmer beat Steve Reynolds, Seattle's best middleweight in all of the four rounds and had his man hanging on to save a knockout on several occasions.

WILLIE SURPRISED BEING A SHORT-ENDER

Lightweight Champion of World Has Odds of 5 to 4 Against Him by the Wise Ring Sports.

London, July 2.—Willie Ritchie, the lightweight champion of the world, was a surprised young man today when he awoke and found that British sportsmen had made Freddie Welsh a 5 to 4 favorite in the betting on the outcome of their scheduled 20-round battle at the Olympia next Tuesday night.

"I never heard of the like in all my life," said Ritchie. "The idea of making a challenger a favorite over the champion. I know that Kid Williams was made a favorite over Johnny Cullen in their recent fight in Los Angeles, when the bantamweight title changed hands, but Cullen had been sick and out of the game for a year. Those Britons will be a surprised lot when they wake up Wednesday morning."

"I am fast coming into shape for the contest. I have as sparring partners Willie Farrell and Dick Roberts, two of the best welterweights in England, and Manager Thirty has just added another good boy to the string, Kid Black, a featherweight."

The advance seat sale has been enormous, and all indications today point to a $1,000,000 house. The champion is training at Brighton, and Welsh at Port Cavel. Ritchie appears to be in splendid shape, and is confident of victory. Welsh was said to be in the best condition of his career.

CHIP-MURRAY MEET SATURDAY

San Francisco, July 2.—"Fighting Billy" Murray of Sacramento eased up in his training today for his scheduled 20-round bout at Daly City Saturday afternoon with George Chip of Newcastle, Pa. On the other hand, Chip continued at work and announced that he would go right on with his training up to and including Friday afternoon.

"Chip," said Manager Dime today, "could knock off work today so far as the weight is concerned. But George is of the aggressive type and might fret without plenty to occupy his attention. For that reason and because Chip likes to fight better than he does to eat, he will go right ahead with his training program."

Murray's poundage was announced today at 157 pounds, while Chip weighed 159 pounds after he had finished yesterday's work. The articles call for the men to make 158 pounds five hours before the contest. Chip will have an advantage of three pounds in weight,

Rube Oldring

By A. M. Corrigan.

Red McGhee says:

Baseball sure boasts a bunch o' "Rubes". That name is easy on the tubes we use to root an' yell. An' it ain't any handicap. I never knew a Reuben yep who couldn't ring the bell.

That Philadelphia champagne team has one sure a dream—a husky, blonde-haired lad. It's Oldring, outer garden guard—an' lemme tell you somethin', pard, Cobb can't make him look sad.

In Mr. Shibe's o' left field stands they yell an' stamp an' clap their hands each day when Rube trots out. They love him there. An' well they may. He's shown an Al brand o' play—the same year in, year out. He don't force any circus stuff nor play the grandstand—nix. That's rough. The Rube fields with his head. He picks the batter, picks the spot where that guy always drives the swat. Then, if he flies, it's dead.

The guys who tout Frank Baker's bat might give the Rube's a gentle pat—it's also quite some stick. It bangs its home-run now 'n' then an' scores a fair-sized bunch o' men. It ain't exactly sick. Give Rube the closest up-an'-down an' take his playin' all aroun'—you don't find nothin' slack. In case you doubt he's good, just try to borrow, buy or steal this guy from wise ol' Connie Mack.

hardly enough of a handicap to make any difference.

Murray confined his training yesterday to six rounds of boxing, taking on Soldier Fred Nelson, Eddie Moy and Eddie Burns for two rounds each. The Californian will work out in the gymnasium this afternoon but will do no boxing.

THE NAME NEEDS IT, TOO.

Henley, Eng., July 2.—Giuseppe Singaglia of Italy today eliminated James B. Ayer of Boston by three lengths in the preliminary heats for the Diamond sculls in the royal regatta. Robert Dible, the American amateur champion, wearing the colors of the Don Rowing club of Toronto, eliminated J. L. Tann of the Thames Rowing club by a boat's length.

In the first heat of the grand challenge club eliminations, the Winspex Rowing club defeated the Thames Rowing club, winning the heat by a length. The Union Boat club of Boston defeated the London Rowing club's crew by four lengths. The Harvard university's eight defeated the Leander Boat club by a length. This is the first time in years that the Leander crew will be unable to participate in the finals.

RIVERS READY FOR FIGHT

Los Angeles, Cal., July 2.—Joe Rivers practically concluded his training today for his scheduled 20-round match Saturday afternoon with Matty McCue. Rivers has forced catchweights upon McCue, and is no longer bothered by the poundage question. Therefore he regards the work done already as sufficient.

McCue, starting late with his active training, will work up to the day of the battle. He probably will enter the ring five pounds lighter than Rivers. McCue has been promised an important match if he defeats Rivers.

A NEWSPAPER CHAMPIONSHIP.

Chicago, July 2.—Chicago sports were worrying today over the possibility of Freddie Welsh winning the lightweight title from Willie Ritchie when they clash in London on July 7. In such an event local pugilistic followers intend to claim the title for Charlie White who was given a newspaper decision over Ritchie in their recent fight at Milwaukee. It was admitted that Welsh will have a decided advantage over the champion as a result of his knowledge of British fight rules.

TERRY OUT, GEDEON IN

Los Angeles, Cal., July 2.—Infielder Terry, former Stanford University star, will be released Saturday by the Angels to make room for Joe Gedeon, recent acquisition from the Washington Americans. Reports were current here that Terry will be signed by a Northwestern league club.

HAL HIBBARD CAMP GRATEFUL FOR HELP

In Strong Resolutions Expresses Gratitude to Salem Generally and to the Cherrians Especially.

At the regular meeting of Hal Hubbard Camp No. 5, department of Oregon, met in Salem June 29th and 27th, and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The sixth annual departmental encampment, department of Oregon, met in Salem June 29th and 27th, and

Whereas, Hal Hibbard camp, being small in number and weak, was unable to provide all the entertainment and accommodations for the hosts assembled, therefore the members of the camp feel deeply indebted to the numerous organizations for their splendid assistance and co-operation in making the encampment the greatest success of any yet held by the department of Oregon, and of causing the visiting delegates to go away feeling grateful for the splendid hospitality, and with an enlarged feeling of the public pride and liberality of Salem people, and the beauty of the Cherry City; therefore be it

Resolved, That the thanks and gratitude of the members of Hal Hubbard camp are hereby extended to that splendid band of men comprising the Cherrians for their liberality in providing the necessary funds for the entertainment of the visiting Spanish War veterans, and of the boys' drum corps, consisting of the sons of Spanish War veterans, which accompanied them; and especially to the individual members of the Cherrians for their care in looking after the entertainment and pleasure of the boys' drum corps.

Resolved, That the thanks of Hal Hubbard camp be extended to the Salem Commercial Club for its co-operation in the entertainment of the visitors and in providing for meals for the boys' drum corps, and in securing automobiles by which a ride about the city was supplied to the delegates and their ladies.

Also to Mr. Billingsby of the Portland, Eugene and Eastern railway, for providing a special car for the transportation of the drum corps to the state institutions, and also the fair grounds and return, that they might witness the motorcycle races, and to Watt Shipp for his liberality in entertaining the boys as his guests during the races on Saturday.

Resolved, That the thanks of Hal Hubbard camp be tendered to the Women's Relief corps for their loyal assistance in preparing and serving the banquet of the Spanish War veterans. It is the belief of this organization that this banquet was the greatest success of any banquet of the kind ever held in Salem, and that this could not have been achieved or the result accomplished without the active co-operation of this organization at a cost of a great deal of labor and time on their part.

We also feel deeply grateful to the Women of the Spanish-American War for their co-operation and untiring zeal in assisting in the preparation and serving of this banquet, and in providing food for same, and to Gideon Stolt for his liberality in providing supplies for the banquet and otherwise assisting in the entertainment of the guests, and to the Moose lodge and the carpenters' union for their liberality in loaning dishes, which made it possible to serve the banquet and entertain over 200 guests in such splendid shape.

Resolved, That the thanks of this organization be extended to the Ladies of the G. A. R. for their liberality in supplying food and serving lunch to the visiting Spanish War veterans and their ladies on the day of their arrival at the headquarters of that organization. The lunch was timely and ample, and was highly appreciated. It helped to add the extra touch to the enjoyment of the delegates and to their feeling in its entertainment.

Resolved, That the thanks of the organization be tendered to Company M for its liberality and co-operation in furnishing a meeting place for the entire convention session, and in furnishing kitchen and banquet hall for the banquet, and in defraying all the necessary expenses thereto, and also in supplying sleeping quarters for the boys' drum corps during its two days' visit. And especially are the thanks of this organization extended to Corporal Mitchell, the armorer, for his co-operation and untiring energy in supplying the needs of the guests during their visit, and making the meetings at the army pleasant as well as profitable. Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be supplied to the parties mentioned therein, that copies be furnished the press, and that a copy be spread on the minutes of the Spanish American War veterans.

Robber Killed

the back and almost instantly killed. The other fled. McDuffee believes he was also wounded.

It was not known exactly how much loot the robbers secured, but they relieved the passengers of three coaches of their valuables.

It was not absolutely assured that there were four men in the robber band. There may have been only three. In a clump of trees beside the track, however, was found the hoof prints of horses. It was this that led at least a part of the train crew and officers to believe that a fourth bandit secluded himself there with the horses, on which to escape while his three companions rifled the train.

Posses were immediately organized at LaGrande and Pendleton and started in pursuit.

The place where the conductor was compelled to pull the signal cord was on a 2-1-10 per cent grade and it was remarkable that the air held and that the train did not run away down the mountainside, perhaps killing all on board.
