

BY MOLLIE EUNGCORN.

A RARELY beautiful wedding ceremony was solemnized Sunday afternoon June 28, at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Griffith, 1311 State street, when the bride of Dr. Robert Lee Edwards, of Portland, Rev. Carl H. Elliott officiating, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends, Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Madeline Vance on the violin and accompanied by Mrs. Vance, of Portland, introduced the service.

The bride, unaccompanied, was met at the foot of the stairway by the groom, after which they were received by Rev. Mr. Elliott at the entrance to the improvised chapel where the ring service was read, the bride being given away by her father.

The bride was exquisite in an imported Poirerette model of ivory tulle with a moderately low cut bodice of gold net, edged with gold lace and pearl garniture and girdled with pale turquoise velvet. Short sleeves of silk tulle harmonized with a flowing veil of the same material which was worn with the becoming Juliet cap and orange blossoms. A shower of Cecil Brunner roses and lilies of the valley supplied the color note for the large improvised altar of pink and white.

Low balustrades of ivory white ending in columns supporting electroliers hooded with Italian rose shades of pink satin, flanked a broad kneeling step upon which rested an ivory satin pillow. Behind the kneeling step, against a background of green, rose an immense sunburst of pink and white gauze radiating from a large carnation heart of the same tints. The sunburst terminated in a rainbow border composed of alternate rows of pink and white carnations interspersed with asparagus fern. Groups of palms at each end of the rainbow afforded a background for two hand-carved statuettes upholding urns filled with carnations. A lavish use of trailing asparagus fern, quantities of pink roses and maidenhair fern, were used effectively to complete a setting of exceptional beauty, of which the bride was the fitting center of attraction.

A peculiarly satisfying color contrast was afforded by an imported gown of deep wistaria crepe worn by Miss Irwin Griffith, the mother of the bride. After congratulations the entire party was taken in automobiles to the Marion hotel, where a sumptuous banquet was enjoyed in the private dining room. Here a color scheme of green and white prevailed. From a soft frieze of green trailed long vines of asparagus, while the four corners of the room were banked with palms, from the midst of which rose white columns bearing large illuminated rose globes, alternately green and white. Encircling the globes were slender wreaths of white roses and foliage topped with lovers' knots of gauze. From each column streamers of green and white gauze draped to the chandeliers, which were covered with huge rose-trimmed shades finished with deep fringe, permitting only the softest light.

Covers for 20 were arranged at the table in the form of a Maltese cross, with a magnificent wedding cake at the center. Aside from the perfection of the cake, additional interest was suggested because of the fact that it was an exact copy of one used at the wedding of the bride's mother. The cake was in three tiers, surmounted by the bride's cake, and richly embellished after the design of a Renaissance model, and surmounted with clasped hands and a tiny wedding bell. At the base of the cake 38 diminutive boxes were concealed, each covered with lovers' knots of satin ribbon, with a longer ribbon extending to each cover for the guests. After the cake was removed a centerpiece of bride's roses and maidenhair was distributed.

Upon departure Mrs. Edwards wore a charming suit of mazerine blue moire. Both Dr. and Mrs. Edwards are known to a large number of friends here.

The bride is a graduate of the Polytechnic high school of San Francisco and of the California state university at Berkeley. She is also an accomplished artist. The groom formerly attended the Willamette medical school and graduated this year from the University of Oregon.

After a short honeymoon Dr. and Mrs. Edwards will reside at St. Paul, Oregon, where they will be at home after August 1.

A jolly picnic party spent the week-end celebrating the Fourth of July at Silver Creek Falls at both the north and south sides. They returned Sunday night. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Guy O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones and two children, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Patton and daughter Geneva of Macleay, Miss Mabel Volkmar, of Oregon City, and Miss Eva Cassidy.

A merry picnic party left Salem in an auto truck Friday night to spend the week-end at the Newberry ranch near Abiqua Falls. They were chaperoned by Mrs. S. C. Newberry. Mountain climbing and trout fishing were enjoyed by the party. They returned Sunday night. In the party were: Professor and Mrs. Frank Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lerehen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bynon, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Galloway, Mrs. Ray B. Holland, Mrs. S. C. Newberry, Misses Nell Sykes, Bernice Smith, Gertrude Savage, Miss Mae Tate, Messrs. Clarence Newberry, Max Page, Dr. Caldwell, Stanley Barton, O. K. DeWitte, Henry Kabrick, Mr. Brown, and L. R. M. Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, and Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Clay, returned last night from a week-end motoring trip. Nimrod Inn on the McKenzie river was their objective point, but Albany, Corvallis, Eugene and McMinnville were also included on their route as brief stopping places.

Mrs. Ernest Lister and daughter Helen, of Grants Pass, were entertained as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Yantis last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Eyre, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Goulet and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Skiff, motored to Willhoit Saturday, where they enjoyed a delightful two days' outing returning last night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bock, of Portland, were entertained as week-end guests of the E. O. Molls at their country place across the river. They also have had as their home guests Miss Gertrude Haines, of Goshen, Indiana, and Miss LaVerne Cass, who left Saturday for San Francisco. Miss Haines will remain several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Heist, received over thirty friends Friday night, honoring Rev. and Mrs. H. S. Hornschuh. Mr. Hornschuh returns to Salem, after an absence of many years, having formerly occupied the same pulpit. Decorations were carried out with quantities of ocean spray and roses. Assisting in serving were Miss Louisa Hagar and Miss Laura Heist.

Miss Anna Yantis spent Saturday and Sunday in Newport the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hunt and daughter Alicia are leaving today for a few weeks vacation at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Albert arrived in Salem Friday night and will remain for several weeks, the guest of Mrs. Albert's mother, Mrs. E. Horst on South Commercial street.

Last October, Mr. Albert, who had previously been connected with his father, J. H. Albert in the Capital National Bank, was appointed bank examiner for Southern Wisconsin and Minnesota and since then they have taken up their residence in Milwaukee and Minneapolis.

Although endeavoring to keep his engagement a secret, the efforts have been unsuccessful, and friends are extending congratulations to Hon. Hal B. Patton, upon his forthcoming marriage to Miss Edith Tidcombe, of Portland.

Alterations are being made in the handsome Patton residence on Court street, and it will be completely refurnished prior to the marriage which will be quietly solemnized in the Rose City in the early part of August.

Miss Tidcombe has taught in the Portland schools for a number of years and is an accomplished young woman. Being an especially brilliant musician she will be a welcome addition to musical as well as social circles here.

Mrs. Ruth Sayre, J. W. Sayre, and Mrs. E. Provokuit, spent Independence day in Vancouver. Leaving Friday afternoon they spent the evening in Portland, returning to the metropolis in time Saturday night to witness the electrical parade. They were entertained by Mayor Cross during their stay in Vancouver. He has been a warm personal friend of the Sayres for about fifteen years. They were delighted with the patriotic program furnished and the orderliness of the large crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom R. Wilson returned from Newport today where they spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. James.

E. W. Barstow has returned from an extended Eastern trip accompanying his sister Miss Miriam Barstow to Windham Center, Connecticut, to be an attendant at her marriage to Walter Abbe, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., who took place Tuesday afternoon, June 16, at the Congregational church at Windham City.

After the ceremony at the church, a reception was given for the immediate relatives of the young people. The bride and groom left, following a luncheon, on an extended trip along the Atlantic coast. They will reside in Wilkesbury, a suburb of Pittsburgh, and will be at home after August first.

The bride is well known in Salem, having resided here for the past two years, and having been an instructor in the domestic science department of the high school the past winter. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abbe of New York, a graduate of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, N. Y., and is at the present time engineer for the Natural Gas company of Pittsburgh.

Personal Mention

Earl J. Axley, who is employed by the Meier & Frank company of Portland, was in Salem Saturday to spend the Fourth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Axley of North 17th street.

J. B. Lehman, father of U. J. Lehman of this city, who used to live east of the city but whose home is now in Rex Poree, Idaho, is visiting with his son here. He expects to stay about two weeks.

AFFECTIONS MARKED DOWN
NINETY-NINE PER CENT

Portland, Ore., July 6.—The suit of E. E. Geisler against Lloyd Frank, a prominent merchant, for $25,000 for alleged alienation of the affections of Mrs. Gerlinger, which was to have begun today before Circuit Judge McGinn, was settled out of court at a conference of the attorneys on both sides for a reputed consideration of $2500.

Frank settled out of court, according to his attorneys, to avoid undesirable publicity and to spare a number of innocent people who were subpoenaed as witnesses.

VICE COMMERCIALIZED.

At 8 o'clock tonight in the Salem Commons Hall, 241 State street, a very beautiful series of pictures will be put upon the canvas showing the redeemed victims of the white slave traffic in Oregon which is one of the phases of the work carried on by the Pacific Coast Rescue Protective Society which is represented here by Rev. A. J. Lucas and of which Rev. W. G. MacLaren, state penitentiary chaplain and Parole officer, is its general superintendent who will be present with us. This is but one of many great undertakings this society conducts with a view of uplifting the vice, shame, and sorrow stricken by sin. A very large audience and sympathy is urged in order to encourage in every way those who are giving their lives for such a grand and noble work.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Party Of the Elves
For the Brownies.

The Elf Then Blew Loudly on a Bugle.

DADDY had a story all ready to tell the children, so he wasted no time about beginning.

"Yesterday," he began, "the elves had a party, to which, of course, they invited the brownies, as they are all such good friends."

"They sent out their invitations a week in advance so as to be quite formal and to be sure that all their guests would come. In brownie land, fairyland and animal land they feel dreadful if one invited guest cannot accept."

"For invitation cards they used daisies. To each guest they sent one daisy, and if the guest was able to accept the daisy was to be returned with one petal pulled off. If not the whole daisy was to be sent back, done up in a leaf, with all the petals pulled off."

"In a day or so after the invitations were sent the replies began to come in, and it was with great excitement that the elves watched for them, and, to their huge delight, every daisy was sent back with just the one petal off."

"Promptly yesterday afternoon at 3 all the brownies arrived."

"The first thing they noticed was a large circle made of daisies and vines, in the center of which stood an elf dressed up as a daisy."

"What does that mean?" asked the brownies.

"That little elf is the master of ceremonies," replied the other elves.

"Master of ceremonies?" the brownies repeated. "What does that mean?"

"It means," replied the elf, "that that little elf is to tell us all what we are to do this afternoon and just when we are to do it."

"And almost before the elves had finished talking the little daisy elf blew loudly upon a long bugle and then shouted:

"The potato race comes first!"

At that all the elves rushed for a basket of potatoes, divided them around, and every one started to race, carrying one potato at a time on a spoon until all the potatoes were gone.

"The hurdle race next!" once more shouted the elf.

"So they all ran from one big tree to another far off big tree, jumping over little hurdles decorated with ferns that the elves had fixed."

"The presentation of the prizes," said the elf, "will now take place, and I will make a speech."

"They all listened breathlessly to his speech for two reasons—the first because they had raced so much they were out of breath, and, second, because they didn't want to miss a word of what he was going to say."

"He made a very fine speech, too, and gave out beautiful prizes."
