TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR WHITE SLAVING

San Francisco, July 10.—Charged with statutory offenses against Evelyn Park and Florence Ephron, each 15 years old, J. J. Sullivan and George Reeder were arraigned before Police Judge Crist today and pleaded not guilty. Their cases were set for hearing July 17.

Sullivan and Reeder were arrested Thursday by Detective Sergeant Purman in a hotel. According to the testimony of the two girls and of hotel proprietors, the men had enticed many young girls to their apartments by advertisement in local papers.

The police believed evidence in their cases would disclose the existence of a state-wide white slave ring which they thought responsible for disappearance of many young women in the last month.

LIGHT BLINDED HIM AND HE FELL HARD

Blinded by the light of an approaching Oregon Electric train for Salem, C. W. Webb met with an accident last night in Portland.

Walking towards Stark street from Washington on Tenth, about 9:25, Mr. Webb started towards the train when he caught both feet on a planked gas main covering and was thrown headlong. The boards were raised some inches from the pavement and of a color matching the asphalt. With the strong light from the engine, it was impossible to notice the street repair work. He is badly bruised about the knees and stated that he feels as though the bones are broken in his elbows.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON IN FOR A SCOTCHING

Conviction of His Employees on Charges of Bribery in Connection With Army Contracts Starts Trouble.

DEMAND HIGHER-UPS ALSO BE PUNISHED

The Old Aristocracy Consider Him an Upstart and the Lower Strata Are Sore Because He Got 'Above His Business.'

London, July 10.—A determined effort to force the prosecution of Sir Thomas Lipton and his fellow directors in Lipton's, Limited, on "fraud and bribery" charges in connection with the army canteen scandal, seemed certain here today.

Regardless of the merits of the case, personal feelings unquestionably are involved in the campaign against Sir Thomas.

The famous yachtsman is by no means as popular in England as in America. The snobbish upper classes have always regarded him as an "upstart" and not even the late King Edward's influence was sufficient to get him into the exclusive royal yacht club. By the masses he has been accused of underpaying, overworking and oppressing his employees.

In both ranks of society, consequently, a great deal of satisfaction is openly displayed at seeing his name involved in the army canteen scandal and undoubtedly considerable disposition exists to make the most of the case.

The scandal, which has already been thoroughly ventilated, developed from the payment of illegal commissions by employees of the Lipton company to army officers who bought canteen supplies. Eight of these employees, some of whom held very high positions, were convicted. So also were a number of army officers. All were fined, imprisoned or both.

Sir Thomas and the other directors would probably not have been dragged personally into the case but for Justice Darling's remark near the end of the trial, that he thought the Lipton employees were practicing a system which the directors encouraged.

It was on strength of this observation that Sir Arthur Markham wanted to know in the house of commons yesterday whether the prosecutor had the charges against the directors, Sir Thomas among them, in hand. By agreement with the administration managers in the house of commons, which was occupied with other business, he did not actually put this question. He only delayed doing so, however, and it was expected he would press his point before the end of this, or early next week.

The administration in the general opinion had not appeared very enthusiastic in urging the prosecution demanded, but the smaller fry having been convicted and the public insisting so strongly on action against the supposed "higher ups," it seemed unlikely that it could resist a thorough investigation, at least.

In the meantime, even in advance of a trial, Sir Thomas has been denounced in the strongest terms, not only unofficially but on the floor of the house of lords itself, and his social prestige appeared to be in the way of suffering seriously whether or not he escaped otherwise, whether innocent or guilty.

His company has already been stricken from the list of army contractors.

SURE INDICATIONS OF LUNG TROUBLE

Among the indications of threatened Lung Trouble are a continued cough, fever and night sweats. A change of climate often helps, but it seems that something more is needed to stop the cough and sweats and arrest the progress of disease. Eckman's Alternative, after many years of use, is known to be the most beneficial in bringing about relief, in many cases complete recoveries. Investigate this case:—

Schell City, Mo.

"Gentlemen: I had a terrible cough, night sweats and pleurisy in my lungs. A man who heard me coughing advised me to take your Alternative. I paid no attention to him then. I got so bad the doctor said I should go to Wyoming. I did, and when I got there I steadily grew worse. Then I remembered what had been told me about your medicine. I began taking it, with no faith whatever, but before I had taken three bottles, I could eat anything. Fever and night sweats stopped and for a year I have been well and in better health than I ever was."

(Affidavit). W. F. BOMAR.

Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

BANDIT'S SECURE GOOD LOT OF LOOT

Missouri Bandits Hold Up Train and Secure Plunder Estimated as Worth from $3000 to $50,000.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—The loot secured by the bandits who held up a "Katy" passenger train near Matton, Mo., Thursday night was estimated today all the way from $3000 to $50,000.

General Agent Brown of the American Express company's office here declared the express safe the outlaws dynamited contained no money and that the jewelry the bandits got was worth not more than $1000. Trainers, however, said he put the figure entirely too low, though they disagreed as to just what it should be.

The robbers, four in number, masked and heavily armed, climbed on board the blind baggage at the Matton water tank, about 40 miles from St. Louis, and clambering over the tender, held up Engineer John Schnabley and his fireman and kept the rest of the train crew and passengers inside the cars by firing frequently along either side of the train.

Then the engine and baggage, express and mail cars were detached from the passenger coaches and run some distance ahead. Finally, stopping them in a convenient place, while two of the bandits kept the trainmen covered, the other two blew open the safe at their leisure, helped themselves to its contents and disappeared in the brush, their pockets bulging with plunder.

San Jose, Cal., July 10.—The authorities here and at Esperanza were trying today to learn the identity of the masked man who held up the passengers and crew of an interurban electric car between the two points Thursday night, getting away with about $20 in cash

LONE HIGHWAYMAN DID HIS WORK WELL

San Jose, Cal., July 10.—The authorities here and at Esperanza were trying today to learn the identity of the masked man who held up the passengers and crew of an interurban electric car between the two points Thursday night, getting away with about $20 in cash and jewelry worth considerably more than that. The highwayman swung on board four miles outside San Jose, met with no resistance and dropped off and disappeared at Esperanza.

KILLED BY THE MOTOR.

Pomona, Cal., July 10.—J. L. Minnick, a prominent orange grower, was killed early today when he attempted to start an electric power plant. It is believed his clothing caught in the foot-wide belt.

A terrific crash as the motor was wrenched from its foundation woke the family, and the daughter, rushing out, found her father lying unconscious with one arm practically torn from the body. He died shortly afterward.

NAMED THE DREADNAUGHTS.

Washington, July 10.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced today that the names of the super-dreadnaughts now building or authorized will be California, Mississippi, Idaho and Arizona.
