AMONG the numbers which are on the program for the Wilson park concert to be given tonight by Staudenmeyer's Municipal band will be the following popular selections: "The Firefly," Comic Opera Selection, "June," Concert Waltz, "Dynamite Rag," "Rose of Algeria," selection.

Helen and Claire Stringer, who have been spending the past five weeks with their grandfather, Rev. P. S. Knight, left for their home in San Francisco today. They were accompanied by their nurse, Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. L. A. Menton, of Portland, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Oscar Johnson for the past several weeks, will leave for her home tomorrow.

For the pleasure of her piano pupils, and Miss Nellis Broom, Miss Pauline, and Miss Frances Welch, who were asked as additional guests, Miss Laura Grant presided at a delightful lawn

Numerous games furnished the afternoon diversion, refreshments being served at five o'clock. Assisting Miss Grant were Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson, Mrs. Johnson, and her house guest Mrs. Menton. The guests were:

Virgil Star, Kenneth Perry, Orla Welch, Roy Morris, Hester Welch, Ellen Johnson, Rosalie Boren, Deryl Meyers, Marie Harold, Willetta Welch, Virginia Dorcas, Donald Schupp, Cecil Deacon, Arthur Blumenburg, Barbara Trostler, Alice Roth, Hollis Vick, Fredrick Arpe, Margaret Davis, Robert Davis, Paul Lee, Robert Bishop, Rita Reed.

Silver Creek Falls was the destination of a party of Salem people Sunday, many of whom were viewing this beauty spot for the first time. Those composing the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Poisal, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Laffler, and their guest Mrs. L. J. Harbor, of California; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Bolinger, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ackerman, Mrs. P. A. Williams, Mrs. M. A. Grant, Miss Laura Grant, Miss Ruth Fugate, Miss Marie Bolinger, Henry Bolinger, Sid Jones, Robin Day, and Mr. Myers.

Mrs. J. W. Cox presided as hostess for the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church, Friday afternoon. She was assisted by Mrs. Milton Meyers. Present activities of the organization are confined to the preparation of articles for the annual church bazaar, which will be given early in the fall.

Mrs. J. Frost will entertain at the next meeting which will be held in two weeks. The afternoon will be spent out of doors, the members assembling at Marion Square where pleasure and work will be combined amid these attractive surroundings.

Guests for Friday afternoon were: Mrs. John Pollock, Mrs. C. S. Hamilton, Miss Milton Meyers, Mrs. G. Steiner, Mrs. E. Anderson, Mrs. R. F. Tischer, Mrs. A. D. Palmer, Mrs. Lizzie Smith, Mrs. Louise Foster, Mrs. Frank Tyler, Mrs. Walter Denton, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. J. Frost, and Mrs. A. M. Dalrymple.

A merry children's party was presided over Saturday evening by Mrs. Gaylord Patterson, who entertained for her attractive little daughter, Louise. A number of small folk were asked, Mildred and Helen Roberts, being the motif of attention, owing to their leaving this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, for their summer's outing at the seashore.

Refreshments were served and various kinds of outdoor games and pastimes furnished on the lovely flower-decked lawn, the event being commemorated by snap shots taken of the little guests in numerous unconscious poses and occupations.

Mrs. F. A. Marcus was hostess at a Kensington Saturday afternoon, entertaining for Mrs. Forrest Glenn McDonald, of Liberty, asking twelve of Mrs. McDonald's intimate friends in for the afternoon.

Mrs. Marcus was assisted by her sister, Miss Lois H. Watt, of Portland, who is her house guest for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hoyt, of Portland, have been entertained as house guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Fisher. Mr. Hoyt left for his home yesterday. Mrs. Hoyt remaining for the rest of the week.

Hoyt remaining for the rest of the week, left for California points Sunday on her annual vacation. She will visit her parents in the southern

They Get Excited
When They Play.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Toads' Game and Nightly Supper.

JACK and Evelyn had been at a children's party that afternoon and were very tired.

"We played prisoner's base, and you know that is a very hard game," said Evelyn, "though it is such fun, and we love to play it, almost better than any other game."

"You should have seen the toads in the garden the other evening play that," said daddy. "It seems that they play that game every evening just after the sun goes down."

"They have the same sides, and they are very evenly matched, for they never can tell which side is going to win at all. It all depends on whether every single toad is running, or, I should say, hopping, just as fast and far as he can."

"They always get most frightfully out of breath when they play this game, but that they don't mind in the slightest degree. They say that it is quite worth getting breathless and tired for; very much the way you feel about it, I think, Evelyn."

"They got excited when they play, for they often hop so far that they lose their balances and fall over."

"One night, just a very little while ago, they had been playing prisoner's base for some time when one of the little toads fell over and really hurt himself quite badly."

"In order to comfort him the other toads set to work and made a delicious salad and told him it was all in his honor."

"That made him very happy, and they all joined to make him forget about himself. Soon he was laughing harder than any of them and felt quite himself again."

"But as he snatched his lips over the fine salad he said:

"Let's have this every evening. We will all take turns to make it, and I am sure we all really need it after our game of prisoner's base."

"The toads thought that was a splendid idea and congratulated him upon thinking of it."

"He was very modest when they told him they thought it was such a good suggestion and replied:

"Well, you see, you all thought of it in the first place."

"We never would have thought of it," they replied, "if you hadn't fallen and hurt yourself, so we even owe that to you."

"Well, I must confess," continued the little toad, "that I do like good things to eat."

"We all do," they all shouted; "a fine idea. We will do it every night, and we thank you, little toad, for at least starting the fashion!"

TURKS KILLED WHOLE FAMILY.

Oakland, Cal., July 14.—Word reached George Mantzourain, a student at the University of California, working as a waiter during his summer vacation at Hotel Oakland, that his father, mother, three sisters and a brother were killed in the massacre of Christians by Turks at Rivaly in Asia Minor last week.

Mantzourain's father was a wealthy olive grower of that district. The news was received through a friend on a Greek newspaper, who said besides Mantzourain's family, several thousand Christian men, women and children were put to death by the Turks.
