REDUCTION OF RATES MAY APPLY TO SALEM

Pacific Telephone Company Cutting Rates in Portland May Cause Reductions Elsewhere Says Commission.

The announcement of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company that it had decided to make its rate in Portland for four party lines $1.50 a month may result in a substantial reduction for the same service in this city, according to information obtained today at the office of the State Railroad Commission.

The commission wrote to the company today that no order by it was necessary for the rate to be put into effect, and all that was necessary was for the company to give 10 days notice. It also notified the company that if Portland was entitled to such a reduction Salem, Astoria, Medford, Baker and other cities and towns should be given like consideration.

CANNOT KILL QUAIL IN CERTAIN COUNTIES

At a meeting in Portland yesterday the State Fish and Game Commission issued an order prohibiting the killing of California Valley quail in Marion, Multnomah, Clackamas, Washington, Yamhill, Polk, Benton, Linn and Lane counties during October this year.

Upon motion of Commissioner Duncan it was decided to test the rotary reversible irrigation ditch screen patented by Allen Forward in the district on the West Side of Hood River at the expense of the district. State Fish Warden Opund said there had been a great waste of fish as a result of screens not being satisfactory and it is the desire of the commission to adopt a plan of preventing fish from escaping into irrigation ditches and dying on the land.

An advance of 20 cents per barrel on railroad lots of cement is reported by the Spaulding Logging company today.

After seven successful years as a member of the faculty of Willamette university, Dr. Gaylord H. Patterson, with Mrs. Patterson and daughter Louise, will leave sometime next week for the east, where Dr. Patterson will continue his educational work.

Manager Meyers reports that no reason is given for the rise in prices in the notification of the advance received this morning. He says the price of lumber is reported advancing but that there has been no increase in the prices of lime and plaster and other building materials. The cement which was formerly quoted at $2 per barrel is now selling at $2.20 a barrel.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Louise Howell and Chester Irvine Ball, of Ballston, Ore., was solemnized at the Presbyterian church parsonage today at 1:30 o'clock, Rev. Carl H. Elliott reading the service, before a small assemblage of relatives and intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ball left for Portland immediately following the ceremony, making the trip in the handsome new five-passenger car, which was the gift of the bridegroom's father, G. W. Ball. They will be at home to friends after September at Ballston.

Matron Hopkins of the Girls' Training school secured the third of the four girls who escaped two weeks ago, last night at Amity at 11 p. m. Jack Welsh, policeman, who was detailed on this special case, located the girl in a house in Amity and phoned to the matron who had just returned from Portland and Seattle where she went to learn of Eva Bridgman who escaped last January. There were no immediate results from the Seattle trip but Catherine D'Orsay was brought back from Amity.

FEW UNION MEN AT WORK AT STOCKTON

Stockton, Cal., July 18.—All of the union men in the employ of Daniels & Green, who have contracts aggregating $150,000 among them being the Jackson and West-side school buildings, have been called out. The painters in the employ of H. S. Tolman at the Jackson school, 18 in number, have also quit.

Toiman stated today that in his opinion all of the union painters and paper-hangers throughout the city will be out Monday. In speaking of the trouble at the Jackson school, Tolman said: "At a meeting of the Master Painters Association Thursday evening following the Merchant, Manufacturers and Employers association meeting, I was instructed to put on non-union men. Yesterday morning I notified my men that a non-union man would come to work. The entire force quit at noon, after completing a job they had begun. 'I now have a force of four non-union men. A lot of men are applying for jobs, but they are mostly of the 'no class'."

A. L. Healey stated that the 23 carpenters who quit at the Holt works yesterday did not do so because of existing conditions at Holt, but because of the arrival of unstamped lumber at a cottage which Healey is building in The Oaks.

ANSWERS MR. RYAN

Editor Journal: In reply to Mr. R. Ryan's statement in yesterday's Journal I wish to say that his communication is only in part correct. Mr. Ryan had a verbal agreement with the Building and Trades council that he would discharge the non-union painter after the priming coat had been put on. The union agreed to permit the non-union man to finish the priming coat but when Mr. Ryan put him to work on the second coat the union men objected as Mr. Ryan put him to work on the second coat the union men objected as Mr. Ryan had fulfilled his agreement with the union.

After I took the contract I found upon investigation that the Ryan building had been put upon the unfair list because he would not keep his agreement with the union and that there was a $50 fine for any union shop working upon the building. I told Mr. Ryan that I could not finish the job unless he straightened out matters to the satisfaction of the union and got his building declared fair to organized labor. Mr. Ryan promised to do this and there was a special meeting called for this purpose in which Mr. Ryan again agreed to keep his verbal agreement with the Building and Trades council. This he failed to do and I was not able to continue the work of plastering. I cannot finish the work and remain true to my principles as a union man until Mr. Ryan gets his building on the fair list and I know that no fair minded man would expect me to under the circumstances.

When Mr. Ryan fulfills his agreement with the union I will finish the work. It is true that I was not a union man when I took the job but I believe in organized labor and am a member of the union now and will abide by its agreement with Mr. Ryan and expect him to do the same. If there is a damage suit pending I would like to have him start it at once and get the affair tested before a jury. Thanking you for the space in your paper I am, very truly yours, J. SAUTER.

A PROBABLE CANDIDATE

Among the multitude of prominent citizens who are mentioned as probable candidates for office of chief of police of this city is Special Officer James Hartwell. When interviewed this morning Mr. Hartwell stated that he was not ready to announce his candidacy yet, but that he had been urged by his friends to run for the office. He would take the matter under consideration, he said, and would announce his definite intentions later.

Mr. Hartwell probably has more obligations on any other man in the city, being deputy health officer, poundmaster, speed cop, special police officer and several others which are not recalled at present.

MR. STOLZ ACTS ON HIS OWN SUGGESTION

Mr. Milton Meyers, President of the Cherrians, Salem, Oregon. Dear Sir: We note by the press that the Cherrians have assumed a deficiency under the city's effort along the line of holding a Cherry Fair during June of which you and your associates undertook the management.

No doubt the people of Salem will be patriotic and respond so that this $500 deficiency will be made up in a very short time. There sure should be at least 500 people of Salem loyal enough to your organization to send in $1.00 apiece, if not 500 hundred people with $1.00, there should be 100 people who would send in $5.00, and to that end believing that the people will respond along the line suggested, we enclose you our check for $5.00 to be used towards paying the deficiency.

I think everybody appreciates, or ought to appreciate, the work done by you and your associates, not alone time was given but money and the work was well done and stands to the credit of the city of Salem.

Respectfully yours, GIDEON STOLZ CO.

"I desire your government to continue," Huerta telegraphed to President Carbajal. "If you should require my services, I assure you they are at your disposal."

Says Villa Will Revolt. Galveston, Texas, July 18.—A revolt by General Villa and Zapata against whatever government General Carranza may set up was predicted here today by Canute Dulnes, Mexican consul at Galveston.

Huerta Is Happy. Vera Cruz, Mex., July 18.—Ex-President Huerta was in jubilant spirits today, according to advices from Puerto Mexico.

Wearily from his journey and considerably affected by the sudden change in climate to the soggy mid-summer heat of the coast, he looked old and dilapidated when he arrived last night.

A refreshing sleep, a cold plunge and a few sips of cognac, seemed fully to have restored him this morning, however.

He received newspaper representatives, laughed and joked, posed for the "movies" and evidently thoroughly enjoyed himself in an almost boyish way. The reporters he invited to dine with him in New York "at some future time."

After he had conferred with Captain Koehler of the German cruiser Dresden, the latter announced that the ex-president and his family would sail on the
