SYMPATHY MAY SAVE HOGUE FROM PRISON
San Francisco, July 27.—A motion for probation was made to Superior Judge Hogue here today in behalf of James Hogue, the convicted Southern Pacific train robber, who was scheduled to be sentenced today. Judge Dunne postponed passing sentence until August 11, pending a hearing of the motion.

Hogue's attorney, Charles Fairall, presented the motion and the case was put over at the request of the probation officer, who asked for two weeks time in which to investigate Hogue's past.

CASE NOW IN HANDS OF THE COMMISSION

Effort to Secure Physical Connection Between S. P. and Oregon Electric Now Up to Railroad Commission.

The answer of the Oregon Electric Railway company to a complaint seeking a physical connection between the Oregon Electric and the Southern Pacific lines at this city was filed with the railroad commission today. The complaint was filed by the Goode-Mays company of Donald. This company sets forth in its complaint that its business is the manufacture of brick and that it would be able to do considerable business around the city of Silverton if it could ship directly from its plant to Silverton and other points on the S. P. lines in this county.

It claims it can nearly compete with the rival brick companies at present, even by transferring its freight in this city and unloading and reloading on S. P. cars. With this transfer eliminated it claims it would be able to do considerable business in and around the city of Silverton and seek a physical connection on this ground.

The S. P. filed its answer some time ago. It denied nearly every allegation of the Goode-Mays company's complaint except that it was a corporation. The Oregon Electric in its answer stated that it had no objections to the connection or to any order that the board might see fit to impose upon the corporation.

The case will be set for hearing later on. This will be the first case of this nature coming before the railroad commission since that body has had the authority to compel a physical connection between rival roads. One other case of a similar nature was heard but the plaintiff failed to make a strong case and the complaint was dismissed by the commission. It was the case of a wood shipper at Albany who wished to ship pulp wood to the Lebanon paper mills. The plaintiff alleged that he would be able to sell wood to the paper mill if he could ship over the S. P. The paper mill, however, claimed that they did not want the man's wood and would not buy it if it were shipped to them, so the case failed.

The Goode-Mays case, in the opinion of the commissioners, seems to present some stronger features and may result in an order requiring the transfer of freight in this city.

WANT TO TALK ABOUT RIVER IMPROVEMENTS

Portland, Ore., July 27.—The chamber of commerce issued a special call today for a meeting Thursday to consider the crisis that confronts this district due to congress' delay in passing the rivers and harbors bill.

All Columbia basin cities as well as the citizens of Portland and the full membership of the chamber of commerce are included in the call.

Among the outside cities asked to send delegates are Lewiston, Idaho; Vancouver, Wash.; Astoria, Salem, The Dalles, Hood River, Pasco, Pendleton and Marshfield.

At the meeting will be told what the Columbia basin will lose should the bill fall of passage.

AUSTRIA, GERMANY

but if Germany should attack Russia, France would inevitably attack Germany.

Italy is the ally of Germany and Austria. With Russia and France in arms against its allies, the Italians could not but lend their help to Germany and Austria.

England is allied with France and Russia. Its relations with Germany, too, have long been strained. Germany has long sought to become a colonial power. England, in turn, resented Germany's construction of a powerful war fleet, feeling that it threatened England's domination of the seas. The war having involved Germany, Austria, Italy, Russia and France, it is a foregone conclusion that England would enter the struggle on the Russian and French side.

The Montenegrins, Slavs like the Serbians, have already declared they will help Serbia against Austria.

Bulgaria, under Austrian domination, would be counted on to aid Germany, Austria and Italy.

Turkey Will Get Busy.

Roumania, it is understood, has already undertaken to invade Bulgaria if it took the field for the triple alliance.

Turkey could be depended on to attempt recovery of the territories it lost by the Balkan war.

Greece, holding a considerable part of these territories, surely would be involved.

The following countries, then, can reasonably be expected to join the mighty struggle in rapid succession unless peace is quickly restored.

Serbia, Austria, Russia, Germany, France, Italy, England, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Roumania.

Turkey and Greece would not necessarily, but probably would also be involved.

HOW TO KEEP FACE YOUNG AND ATTRACTIVE

The way to ward off old age is not to fear it, not to allow one's self to be oppressed by the dread of advancing years. Use only legitimate preventives and avoid trying experiments with preparations not indorsed by physicians. An entirely safe and very effective way to keep the complexion young looking and beautiful is to apply ordinary mercurized wax at bedtime, using it like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. This gradually absorbs the withered, faded cuticle, which is replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted underskin. One ounce of this wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to completely rejuvenate a worn-out complexion.

Crow's feet and other wrinkles, the first signs of advancing age, may be removed by a simple, harmless preparation made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saccharine in a half pint with hazel. It is used as a face bath.

BECKEY'S APPETITE STRONGER THAN WILL

After Maintaining Hunger Strike Six Days, Beckey Cannot Resist Temptation Offered in Shape of Eggs.

New York, July 27.—After maintaining a hunger strike for more than six days, Beckey Edelson quit today, and thereby got herself "in bad" with the anarchists. She was arrested more than a week ago for inciting a riot in Union Square here and sent to Blackwells Island. Beckey immediately went on a hunger strike, and was threatened with forcible feeding, but after an examination by Dr. Katherine Davis, the commissioner of corrections, decided this was not necessary because she was convinced the prisoner had been filching food from the mess room and eating "on the sly."

Beckey hotly denied the charge, but decided today that she had had enough, and ravenously devoured two soft-boiled eggs served by the prison doctor, and asked for more.

Anarchists were greatly disappointed at the abandonment of the strike, and accused Beckey of "quitting." They said she had promised to be a martyr and starve herself to death if necessary.

ULSTERITES CLASH

naturally sympathizing with the volunteers, gathered in large numbers and began hooting the marching troops. Finally, near the O'Connell statue, the crowd began throwing stones.

The troops charged.

At this the soldiers broke ranks and charged with fixed bayonet. Then they began firing. Many people fled. The crowd fled in panic and the troops' officers, hurriedly gathering their men together, made at top speed for their barracks.

They left the dead and wounded thickly scattered, however. Of the four killed, two were men and two women. Among the wounded also there were several women and children. It was expected a number of the wounded would die.

The night was one of wild confusion. The soldiers were held in barracks to prevent them from being attacked. A few individual troops who were abroad were attacked and badly beaten. All night long volunteers, many of them carrying rifles, paraded the streets, singing "God Save Ireland," "A Nation Once Again," and other national airs.

Police who were ordered to keep order refused to attack the volunteers.

All Ireland Excited.

The lord mayor of Dublin issued a statement demanding justice on "those responsible for this shocking outrage" and declaring "there must no longer be one law for a section of the Ulster people and another law for the remainder of the Irish people."

Popular anger was intensified from the fact that gun running by the anti-home rulers has gone on by wholesale with scarcely an attempt at interference on the authorities' part.

Efforts at an investigation of Sunday's tragedy were not meeting with much success, however, as it seemed impossible to learn who was in charge of the barracks at the time the troops were sent out, who furnished them with ball cartridges or who gave the orders to the men to charge or to fire. The officers themselves would give out no information.

Besides those killed in the battle, one man was drowned at Howth by falling into the harbor while helping to unload the arms and ammunition.

Mob Attacks Barracks.

London, July 27.—Fearing actual war in Ireland, as a result of Sunday's clash between the King's Own Borderers and a home rule crowd in Dublin, Premier Asquith was in personal charge at the war office today.

After their volley into the crowd had killed four and wounded about 80, the borderers narrowly escaped with their own lives, according to detailed accounts of the affair received by the government. The dispatches indicated the danger was not over.

Though the troops cleared the street for the moment, it was stated, they were quickly besieged in their barracks by a huge throng which howled for their blood. The soldiers were challenged again and again to come out and fight. Repeated rushes were made against the barracks. Once a door was battered down and the crowd was all but inside before the borderers succeeded in stopping the rush with a hastily improvised barricade.

Police Refused to Act.

These attacks continued throughout most of the night, the troops, expecting momentarily that their defenses would be carried, remaining shut up inside, prepared to defend themselves.

The police, sympathizing with the rioters, rather than with the soldiers, refused to use force against the former, and probably would have been powerless to accomplish anything in any event. Toward dawn, however, they finally persuaded the crowd to scatter.

Secretary for Ireland Birrell told the house of commons today that the Dublin commissioner of police had been suspended pending an inquiry, on the theory that he was responsible for the calling out of the troops. He added that the commissioner's story was that the soldiers, exasperated by the people's hostility to them, fired without orders.

Demand Removal of Troops.

Bulletin—London, July 27.—The lord mayor of Dublin today demanded the withdrawal from the city of the King's Own Scottish Borderers, the troops who fired into a home rule crowd Sunday.

"Jingling four and wounding about 80," indications were that his request would be complied with.

ARE PATRIOTIC ANYWAY.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla surely and effectively removes scrofula, boils and other blood diseases because it drives out of the blood all the humors that cause these diseases. They cannot be successfully treated in any other way. External applications for their removal have proven almost useless, because they cannot drive out the impurities that are in the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure rich blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. The skin becomes smooth, clean and healthy. This great blood remedy has stood the test of forty years. Insist on having Hood's, for nothing else acts like it. There is no real substitute. Get it today. Sold by all druggists.

CITIZENS OF SANDY BATTLE WITH FIRE

Portland, Ore., July 27.—Several hundred citizens, including scores of women and girls, put up a heroic fight against a big fire that for four hours threatened to destroy the town of Sandy, in eastern Multnomah county.

Driven by a stiff wind, the flames destroyed the home of H. E. Morgan and the Sagley and Morgan livery stable, and burned six horses to death.

During the battle against the fire, huge sparks carried by the breeze ignited the roofs of various dwellings and the entire town probably would have been burned but for the organized work of the citizens. Sandy has no fire department or apparatus, and the flames were finally extinguished by forming bucket brigades.

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION HAS MEETING AT MEDFORD

Medford, Ore., July 27.—When the Tri-State Good Roads association was called to order today for its first session, 100 delegates from Oregon, Washington and California were in attendance.

In his address of welcome, President D. V. Saelzler of Redding, Cal., urged that construction of the permanent highway between Vancouver and the Mexican line be rushed. He declared that the greatest need today was not the value of good roads, which was conceded, but the best and most economical way of securing them.

Letters urging hearty co-operation in good roads work from Governors Linn of Washington; Johnson of California, and West of Oregon, were read by Secretary Boos.

PREFERRED THE NAME OF SMITH TO WHITE

San Diego, Cal., July 27.—Mrs. J. R. White of this city has the right today to practice law as Emma S. Smith, as a result of a decision of the district court of appeals, sitting in Los Angeles. This decision is said to be the only one granting a woman the right to choose what name she will bear after marriage.

Mrs. White's first husband was F. J. Smith of Idaho. After his death four years ago she married J. R. White of Los Angeles. Though wealthy, she began the study of law and after passing the examination demanded the right to the name of Emma S. Smith. The court unanimously gave it to her.

MAY BE BLOODIEST

was expected, at the moment, to emanate.

Russia Is Determined.

It was known, however, that Russia was resolute in its stand against an Austrian invasion of Serbia.

The king and crown prince of Serbia had gone to Nish, Serbia's ancient capital, in the interior. The bulk of the troops had also been withdrawn from the border. Belgrade was left at Austria's mercy.

The widest scenes were enacted during the evacuation of the city Sunday. There was a complete panic among civilians. All who were able to do so removed their portable property. Every imaginable conveyance was utilized to telephone such belongings.

The people's fears for their safety were not unwarranted. Bandits looted the city after the garrison had been withdrawn. A few troops who remained tried to keep order, firing among the looters, but the soldiers' number was too small to accomplish much and the plundering went on without effective interference.

All Europe was massing troops.

Mobilizing French Army.

Paris, July 27.—French army reserves received orders today to hold them.

NEW PROFESSORS FOR WILLAMETTE

Dr. Charles L. Sherman and Professor Ira A. Morton to Assume Their Duties Here About September First.

Charles L. Sherman, Master of Pedagogy, Doctor of Philosophy, and Doctor of Pedagogy, has been chosen by the faculty committee of Willamette University to occupy the chair of economics and social science at the university during the coming year. Dr. Sherman will take the place occupied for the past several years by Dr. Gaylord H. Patterson.

In securing Dr. Sherman for this position, the university authorities feel that they have made an exceptionally wise choice as the new professor is an experienced man in every particular. He graduated first from the Upper Iowa University and later did four years work in the University of New York where he took the above degrees. He takes rank with the most educational pets in the state of Oregon at the present time and will be an invaluable man to Willamette University. In his experts in the state of Oregon at the York City Dr. Sherman has had opportunity to gather first hand information and experience along the lines of his specialty.

In addition to his philosophical qualifications he has had seven years experience in teaching so that he is thoroughly qualified for the work he takes up here in the fall. He comes highly recommended, and is said to have a fine personality. He is about six feet tall, of light complexion, unmarried, and is expected in Salem about September 1.

Professor Ira A. Morton, who comes to fill the chair of philosophy, is also expected about September 1. Dr. Morton carried an M. A. degree from Columbia university and has all the residence work completed for a doctor of philosophy degree, which he will receive and economic work in New Jersey. Professor Fletcher Homan, president of the university, said this morning that good men are being considered for the English department but that they have not yet been selected. The selection will be made soon, however.

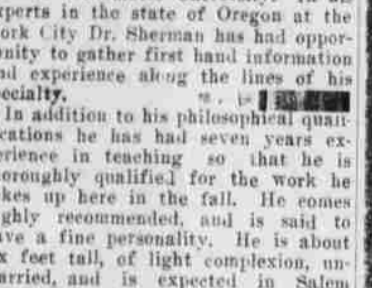

Prospects are bright for a fine student attendance next year, says Dr. Homan, and old students and office force are working hard to make the enrollment as large as possible. Personal letters are being written and catalogues being sent out.

"The loyalty of the Willamette student for the old school is the finest I ever saw," exclaimed Dr. Homan this morning. "They are true to the school through thick and thin. The love of the students for Willamette is a beautiful thing to see and know."

"Both of these new professors," said Dr. Homan, "have received the broadest training possible. They are men with large vision and will fit well into the great spirit of Oregon. They are men of sincere and earnest purpose and have studied under the master minds of the country and will bring the richest things and the finest of life and education to the students of Willamette University and the people of Salem."

been meeting once a month in the past, will be called together within a day or two, according to Eli Bielik, secretary, for the purpose of mobilizing a volunteer regiment if war is actually declared between Serbia and Austria. Bielik estimates there will be 2,000 Slavonians here to offer their services to Serbia. Already they are coming in from the logging camps and railroad camps. The local Slavonians are intensely patriotic and hope for the war. Most of them come from Bosna Hercegovina, the province seized by Austria.
