

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR

THAT the winter concert course will be a success financially as well as artistically is assured by the splendid interest that has been displayed by the people of Salem during the last week since the publication of the names of the artists who have been secured to appear. A canvass has been made of musicians the past week, resulting in a substantial subscription being started.

Miss Minnetta Magers, who has the concerts in charge, assisted by prominent society women, will canvass the business district and among music lovers during the coming week, final contract settlements being completed August 8th. A general expression of approval is heard concerning the arrangement of the course, Salem people being enthusiastic over the prospects of making these concerts regular annual events.

Those who have already promised their support are: Beatrice Shelton, Fredrick S. Mendenhall, Dan Langenberg, Joy Turner, Laura Grant, F. E. Newbury, T. S. Roberts, Mrs. W. A. Denton, Winifred Byrd, Mrs. Darby, Margaret Fisher, F. E. Churchill, H. B. Thielen, F. G. Deckbach, Ruth Fugate, W. T. Jenks, Mrs. P. A. Cupper, H. Bevier, Margaret Graham, Mrs. J. O. Possessing the love of Oregon's wonderful scenery, a panorama of beauty from Cascade summits to the beach, and from the Columbia to the Skiyoun, which is characteristic of every Oregonian who sees and appreciates its incomparable beauties, and also resolved to realize all the delights possible from their summer's outing, a party composed of Miss Mary Steussloff, Miss Dorothy Steussloff, Miss Jennie Fry, Claude Steussloff, Orris Fry and "Duckie" Holmes left early yesterday morning on a walking expedition to the Daniel J. Fry's summer home, "Cheery Ln." at Neskwim. They planned to take the 75-mile journey leisurely, expecting to be on the way three or more days. They were to go by way of Falls City, thence to the Siletz Indian reservation, over the Salmon river trail, going directly from there to the beach, where they will remain until September first.

Neskwim is considered one of the loveliest and most ideal locations for summer homes along the Oregon coast, and many Salem people realizing this, have built artistic and substantial cottages there.

It is reached by a particularly beautiful scenic route, from Salem, over which the vacationists are journeying.

The Dr. R. E. Lee Steiners are entertaining a house party at their summer cottage, "The Anchor," at Neskwim. Among their guests are Mrs. G. Steiner, Mrs. Milton Meyers and Mrs. W. A. Denton, of Salem.

Miss May Hunt and brother, Allan Hunt, are occupying a cottage at Newport for the remainder of the season, motoring over with the W. A. Rutherford last week.

Mrs. James Leech, of Portland, and her mother, Mrs. B. M. Young, of Dallas, are expected to arrive Monday to be the guest of Mrs. W. A. Rutherford next week.

For the pleasure of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Louis Joss, a recent bride, Mrs. Stanley Morgan, of Chicago, who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Willson, Mrs. L. U. Joss was at home informally to a few friends Tuesday afternoon. She was assisted by her daughter, Miss Edna Joss. Present, besides the honor guests, were: Mrs. J. W. Willson, Mrs. Paul Schmidt, Miss Velma Hoover.

Miss Mary Mudgett, of Tacoma, who is the house guest of Mrs. W. S. Bowen,

She will be present at the convention of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, which will convene in Chicago, beginning August 25th, attending as a delegate from Salem. She will visit friends in various eastern cities before her return, expecting to be away a month or more.

Sunday morning Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Robertson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, and daughter, Marjorie, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Olinger, will leave for a two weeks' motor trip to Crater Lake and surrounding country.

Mrs. Thomas Larkin Williams was hostess at a merry children's party Wednesday afternoon, entertaining in celebration of her son, Winston's, sixth birthday.

Juvenile games and pastimes were enjoyed on the lawn, the birthday luncheon being served indoors. Miniature boats were given as favors.

Those asked besides the honor guests and Thomas Larkin Williams, were: Deryl Myers, Maxine Myers, Rowena Eyre, Leona Gee, Lorena Gee, Vernie Perry, Olive Evans, Johnnie Evans, John Hughes, Mary Magers, Helen Magers, Carl Steiner, Pauline Newberry and Alvin Burton.

The marriage of Hon. Hal D. Patton and Miss Edith Tidcombe will be quietly solemnized in Portland Monday evening, August 3. Following the ceremony they will leave for an extended honeymoon trip through Canada and Rockies, spending several weeks at Banff on Lake Louise. They will stop at Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., on their way, returning by the Arrow Head lakes, Montana.

After September 15th they will be at home to friends at the Patton mansion on Court street, which has been remodeled and refurbished.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Emmel and son, Kenneth; Mrs. George Earl Eyre and son, Robert, will leave Monday for Newport, where they will spend their two weeks' outing.

Dr. Lloyd H. Mott, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Mott, who is practicing his profession at North Bend, entertained the members of the Sigma Chi at his bachelor apartments at a stage party Wednesday night. Acting as chaperones on these occasions and giving valuable services have been Mrs. R. S. Wallace, Mrs. Oswald West, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. William E. Kirk, Mrs. J. H. Lewis, Mrs. Louella Walsh, Miss Oda Chapman, Miss Bess Bailey, Miss Olive Metcalf and Miss Hazard.

Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff, went to Portland today on business and will return to this city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Will, proprietors of the Will Music house, will leave Salem Monday for Newport where they will spend two or three weeks. They will stay in their cottage during the stay at the beach.

Miss Lila Doughty, of Sheridan, arrived in Salem this morning to register at Willanette University for the coming winter's work. She will enter the university as a sophomore. She is the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Metcalf, of Court street, and will be in the city over Sunday.

SOCIETY NOTES

J. P. Rogers was a dinner host Thursday evening entertaining for Jesse McCarther with the Crocker National bank, of San Francisco, who was Mr. Rodger's guest for the day.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. David W. Eyre, Miss Helene Schoeber, of Seattle, and Miss Eleanor Rodgers.

Miss Caroline Belknap, the first woman to fly in a hydroplane, is a sister of Mrs. James Hoese, Jr., of Salem. Miss Belknap, an enthusiast over airplanes, made the flight with Silas Christofferson, daring western aviator, last Monday at the Oaks park in Portland. The event attracted an immense gathering and the complete trip was recorded by moving picture representations.

Miss Althea Moores has been the guest of Portland friends during the week, and while away will also be entertained by friends at the different beaches. Later she will join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores, at Stephenson, Paul Dimmick and J. C. Kendall.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Benson and Dr. and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith are camping at the beautiful outing grounds near Melama.

Entertaining with a "watermelon feed" Miss Nanelle Eloom asked a number of her friends to her home on High street Tuesday evening. She received her guests on the lawn, where chairs and seats were arranged, and which was illuminated with Japanese lanterns.

Those present were: Miss Florence Hofer, Miss Genevieve Frazier, Miss Ruth Boggs, Miss Mary Schultz, Allan Byrnes, Homer Egan, Ellis Jones, Don Byrd and Harry Cronin.

Miss Nina McNary, with her niece and nephew, Margaret and Richard Stolz, are domiciled at the W. T. Stolz summer cottage at Seal Rocks. Mrs. Stolz will join them next week for an extended outing.

Afternoon swimming parties are in vogue at present, launch and canoe trips terminating in a splash in the "beautiful Willamette." Nor are these merry affairs participated in by young people exclusively, the refreshing attractiveness of the water making an appeal to the older contingent as well.

Girls and young women, who took advantage of the swimming classes at the Y. M. C. A. are enjoying special benefits of their instructions during the summer season, being enabled to enjoy the aquatic delights which the various outing places afford, mountain resorts, as well as those of the beach, having swimming pools in connection with their other outing diversions.

Girls classes in swimming, conducted for the past two years, have been under the supervision of the regular director of the Y. M. C. A., that organization donating the use of their pool for the exclusive use of the girls on Wednesday nights. Acting as chaperones on these occasions and giving valuable services have been Mrs. R. S. Wallace, Mrs. Oswald West, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. William E. Kirk, Mrs. J. H. Lewis, Mrs. Louella Walsh, Miss Oda Chapman, Miss Bess Bailey, Miss Olive Metcalf and Miss Hazard.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Bear Up on the Mountain

WILLIE JONES was saying today that when he grew up he was going to kill bears, like Colonel Roosevelt," said Jack, while Evelyn looked, as most little girls look when their brothers speak of taking life in any way. "That must be an awfully brave way to spend your time," Jack added.

Daddy laughed. "Well, sometimes it is and sometimes it isn't. It depends upon circumstances. I'll have to tell you a little story to illustrate my point.

"It happened up on big Owlface mountain, in the Adirondacks. They called it Owlface mountain because its summit, which was a big granite cliff, looked just like an owl's face when seen from a certain direction.

"This story happened a good many years ago. There were not many people who lived near the mountain then—just a few scattered farmhouses. In one of these houses lived a family that had ten children of all sizes.

"Now, these children had a little boy cousin who lived in the city, and he came to see them one summer, and he had the finest time he'd ever had.

"One day the children's father proposed to all the children that he would take them up Owlface mountain to pick blackberries. 'But we won't go very far,' he said, 'for there have been bears around lately, and I will take my gun along. We might need it.'

"So they all went berrying and picked a great many. They kept all together and had just come to a great bush that was loaded down when the little city boy came a big yell and turned and ran, with every other one of the ten little cousins at his heels.

"For what do you think he and the other children had seen, Evelyn? A great big black bear had risen from behind that big bush and glared at them. Yes, sir! You know bears like berries, and the children had disturbed him at his feast. Oh, how they ran down that mountain, crying and yelling! And his listened for the gunshot that would tell them that daddy had shot Mr. Bear, but it didn't come.

"And by and by they heard a great crashing behind them, and ran the faster, thinking it was the bear. But then they heard somebody laughing every so loud and calling to them to stop, and it was the ten children's papa, all out of breath with running and laughing.

"Why didn't you shoot the bear, daddy? asked the fifth child.

"I didn't get the chance," he replied. "He was as scared as you kids were and ran the other way into the woods as fast as he could.

"So you see," finished daddy, "you can't shoot a bear unless he's brave enough to let you."
