Claims 43 in number and totaling $800 have been passed by the state industrial accident commission. The were designed and made to give you the best possible service and to this end I used only frames and mountings of the highest quality. Care, however, has much to do with the lasting satisfaction of your glasses.

Upon delivery, your glasses were inspected and carefully fitted to your nose, face and ears.

It is never advisable to permit others to "try on" your glasses as they will disturb the adjustment and render them insecure and uncomfortable for your use.

Frames and mountings, particularly eyeglasses, should be cleaned frequently, using a tooth brush and alcohol or ammonia and water. If this is done, the small springs which supply the pressure necessary to hold eyeglasses in place, will wear much longer than if permitted to become clogged with dirt and dust.

If your lenses loosen or your glasses get out of order, becoming uncomfortable or insecure, I request that you permit me to adjust them. There is no charge for this service. I do make a reasonable charge, however, when I replace broken parts.

Bifocals or double vision glasses that are cemented sometimes become affected by the heat, the reading part becoming blurred. When this happens, let me recement them at once. I do this at a trifling charge and to save you the expense of getting new reading portions.

My Kryptok bifocals are made in one piece. The reading portion is invisible, no lines to gather dirt and dust and they are not affected by heat or cold. They are the most satisfactory double vision glasses and while the initial cost is somewhat higher they are less expensive and more satisfactory in the long wear.

No extra charge for examination. Satisfaction in every respect guaranteed.

CARRANZA REFUSES CARBAJAL'S OFFER

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 8.—The proposals of Provisional President Carbaljal's peace delegates, who recently visited Carranza at Saltillo, were made known here yesterday on the best authority. The constitutionalists considered the terms unacceptable.

Carbaljal proposed, it was said, that all officers of the federal army be reinstated or allowed to retain their full rank. This, the constitutionalists asserted, would count the same disaster as befell the late President Madero.

Carbaljal also asked, according to the best information, that all the acts of Huerta be validated by the constitutional government. By agreeing to this the revolutionists considered that they would make legal certain transactions of Huerta's pertaining to the national treasury—a step that was declared impossible.

The sudden breaking of the negotiations was the result. Carranza's order that the constitutionalist troops proceed at once to Mexico City and take it by force of arms, if necessary, followed. However, this order, so far as has been learned, did not include the division of the north, commanded by General Villa.

It was reported unofficially here today that General Jesus Carranza's troops entered Mexico City today, led by Generals Obregon and Gonzalez, commanders of the western and northern divisions.

Miss Hula Derry, of R. F. D. No. 1, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, has written to the Salem Commercial club asking that that organization refer her to some real estate man in this city to handle a farm for her. She says she has 30 acres of good irrigated fruit land, part in new orchard and part in old orchard, that she wants to sell or exchange.

On the petition of James H. Lunn, stating that he was aged and infirm and not capable of caring for his estate, G. W. Johnson was appointed a guardian by Judge Bushey this morning. The estate is valued at about $2300. G. W. Meyers, David White and Chauncey Bishop were appointed appraisers. Mr. Lunn is a former druggist and was in business in this city for a number of years.

According to the statement of Attorney Guy O. Smith, if his motion for a retrial of the Carroll case is not granted he will appeal to the supreme court. Carroll is due to receive a life sentence for the murder of Marshal Zoller, of Gervais, as the result of a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree reached by the jury in the third trial. Carroll was to have been sentenced this morning but Attorney Smith asked for a delay until 2 o'clock this afternoon in order that he might prepare his motion. The case of Neer versus the city of Salem was taken up and was due to be finished late this afternoon.

The case of the Salem-Fairfield Telephone association against L. H. McMahon was decided in favor of the defendant yesterday afternoon by Judge Galloway. The case was argued some time ago and the case taken under advisement by the court. McMahon claimed that he purchased a full share in the line when there were but two others besides himself on the line. When the line was made an association he refused to join with the others in a ten party line as he said that he had too much business on his large farm to be bothered with "this line's busy" when he was in a hurry. Neither party will recover costs and disbursements.

Al Cleveland and Clifford Brunk will leave today for Newport by motorcycle. They expect to return Monday. They are going over on two "Indians" and expect to spend part of the time fishing.

The motion to set aside the verdict of the jury in the case of E. M. Kimball against the Portland Fire Relief association and to grant a new trial was overruled by Judge Kelly. This was a case of insurance on a flour mill in Jordan Valley which burned down and the plaintiff alleged that he was given to understand that his case with the insurance company would be delayed pending another suit against another company. He did not file his suit until the time limit of a year had expired and then the company refused to settle on the grounds that it was outlawed.

George Rodgers, president of the Salem Commercial club, Ralph Moores, secretary of the promotion department of the commercial club, and Frank Southwick, chairman of the council bridge committee, will go to Dallas today to arrange interest in the Willamette river bridge proposition that will come before the people of the city hall Monday afternoon. They will take hand bills announcing the meeting, distribute them among the people on the west side. It is expected that delegations of business men from Dallas and Independence will join the Salem men in an endeavor to arouse enthusiasm.

Members of M company, Third regiment, O. N. G., which organization is stationed in Salem, will go out to Finzer tomorrow for regular target practice. Next week a number of the boys will go out to the range and camp for several days and work out for the rifle team that will be sent to Clackamas the latter part of this month to compete with the rifle teams of the other companies of the state. Five men will compose this team. It is expected that some excellent scores will be made by the local boys as they have some expert shots among them.

At about 10 o'clock this morning the Salem fire department answered a still alarm turned in from Salem's Chinatown at the corner of Ferry and High streets. The fire was confined to a brick flue and the firemen reported no damage. The auto chemical engine made the run to the fire. The fire boys were polishing brass work on the engine when the alarm was turned in and they did not stop to complete their work before answering the alarm. This accounts for the appearances of Bon Ami and the lack of luster about the fire apparatus.

JUDGE BUSHEY WILL NOT RE-EMPLOY CHAPIN

Turns Down the Business Men Who Petitioned for the Appointment—Commercial Club Has Paid.

As was predicted in the Capital Journal yesterday, County Judge Bushey this morning turned down the Salem Commercial club and the delegation of business men and farmers who waited on him Wednesday regarding an appropriation for the support of a county agriculturalist for Marion county. This morning several business men went to interview the county court as the county judge had taken the matter under advisement and had promised the business men that the appropriation would be made if it did not obligate the court to make any appropriation for next year.

There was a warm session in the county court rooms, and the arguments on the part of the men who were trying to get the court to make the appropriation drew interested spectators from other parts of the court house. But Judge Bushey was obstinate and refused to make the appropriation.

George Rodgers, president of the Salem Commercial club, expressed himself as being very much disappointed with the action of the court. It was felt by the business men that the course taken by Judge Bushey in not granting the money is a lurid blow to the work of the commercial club and its endeavors to build up this part of the Willamette valley and in bettering the interests of the farmers and agriculturists in Salem.

It was felt that as the commercial club had furnished the money for the past two years to maintain an agriculturalist in Marion county that it was now time for the county to take over its own share of providing for the government expert. The Salem merchants do not feel that they ought to pay for the maintenance of a man who gives his services for the benefit of the farmers and growers of the entire county.

As a result of the action today, Marion county will lose Luther J. Chapin, who has been employed for the past two years, and whose work has been cordially received by the Marion county farmers. It has been through his influence that the corn area of the valley has increased four times and that alfalfa clover has been grown on wet, useless lands heretofore. He is constantly in demand to give demonstrations of pruning in orchards, to inspect soil for the planting of crops, and to give advice regarding plant diseases.

George Rodgers, in speaking of the work of Mr. Chapin, said that it was impossible to place a value on what he has done for the farmers of the county.

DIED.

DRAGER—At the family home, 509 South Thirteenth street, Saturday, August 8, 1914, at 5:30 a. m., Harold L. Drager, aged 18 years.

Funeral services will be held Sunday, August 9, at 2 p. m., from the South Salem Friends church, H. E. Pemberton officiating. Interment will be in City View cemetery.

After delivering a scathing lecture in which he regretted his inability to inflict further punishment without imposing a burden upon the taxpayers, Judge Kelly this morning sentenced Albert McDowell to pay a fine of $200 and the state's costs in the prosecution on a charge of illicit relations with Bertie Friend. McDowell pleaded guilty to the charge which was changed from that of bigamy for which he was indicted by the grand jury. Attorney Walter Winslow appeared for the defendant and asked the leniency of the court on the grounds that McDowell was a hard working man and had never been in trouble before. Mr. Hughes, a contractor by whom Hughes was employed, took the stand and testified that McDowell was a sober, industrious man and a good workman.

The famous Eastwick case of Multnomah county was being argued in Judge Galloway's court today. Eastwick is a young man with a large estate who is an inmate of the Oregon State hospital for the insane and an attempt is being made to take him out on the promise that he will be taken to Philadelphia for treatment in a sanitarium. Dr. R. E. L. Steiner refuses to release the young man until he has assurance that he will be cared for as promised and that sufficient means back the promise. Judge Galloway took the decision in the habeas corpus proceedings under advisement.
