GUNBOAT SMITH SAYS CORRI IS ALL RIGHT

Regrets He Was Humiliated by Having to Give Decision to Carpenter, But Says He Was Right.

JEFF SMITH AFTER THE MIDDLEWEIGHTS

Has Defeated Every Prominent Middleweight He Has Met—Wants to Meet Winner in Murray-Chip Fight.

(By Hal Sheridan.)
New York, Aug. 21.—Mike Murphy who went to the Pittsburgh Pirates in the deal that brought Ed Kosetzky and Fletcher Harmon to the Yankees in exchange for Miller, Butler, Robinson and Wilson, has been unconditionally released.
"Murry has been bawling," said manager Chas. "and did not seem to care whether he played baseball or not. I think our move in getting rid of him will be a great help."
Murry is the first player to be discharged of the men involved in the biggest baseball trade put through last winter. He went to Pittsburgh honorable as one of the best third basemen in the business, but he worked all season, Clark still has been off color.

A letter which Gunboat Smith wrote to Eugene Corri, the English referee, on July 22 regarding his bout with Georges Carpentier, was a strong boost for Corri's fairness. It follows:
"I am writing to tell you how sorry I am that you had to be humiliated as to the decision which as referee you gave in my fight with Carpentier. I feel as though it is only my duty to let you know that I fully understand your position, and I know you acted in the way which you thought was honest and fair. If ever I have occasion to fight again in England, I shall be highly honored and pleased to have you act as the third man in the ring."

Coming Middleweight.
San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Jeff Smith, of Bayonne, N. J., a contender for the middleweight world's title, is in San Francisco today with his manager, Al Lippe, having arrived from Australia on the liner Sonoma.
Unless Smith can arrange for a match in San Francisco, he will leave within two or three days for the East, and as he has signed up for three more bouts in Australia under the auspices of Promoter Snowy Baker, will depart for Sydney again with a couple of months.

"Smith has defeated every prominent middleweight now before the public," said Lippe. "In his three bouts in Australia, Smith won decisively from McGoorty, Jimmy Clabby and Pat Bradley. Before starting from New York on his trip around the world, Smith won a 15-round decision over George Chip at Providence, R. I. He also defeated Clabby and Gibbons in 10-round, no-decision bouts in New York. We have clippings and records to prove they can be disputed. Smith defeated the best men they could send against him in London and Paris, en route to Australia.
"I expect to see Promoter Coffroth today and hope to have Smith meet the winner of the September 9th bout here between Billy Murray and Chip."

Lucky to Get Draw.
Stockton, Cal., Aug. 21.—Even Duke Clark's friends admitted today that he was lucky to get a draw with Johnny Sudeberg in their 10-round bout here last night. Neither man showed any particular class, Clark forcing the fighting and Sudeberg countering.

Jack Bratton knocked out Charlie Givens of Seattle in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round bout.
Joe Conley and Young Cohn fought a four-round draw. It was the best bout of the evening.
The Southern Pacific's "safety first" car has reached Ashland and is drawing large crowds.

MRS. INNES IN EUGENE BUT REFUSES TO TALK

Eugene, Ore., Aug. 21.—Declaring that she had nothing to say and refusing to receive visitors, Mrs. Victor E. Innes, who, with her husband, was arrested on a charge of murder as a result of the alleged disappearance of Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis and Miss Beatrice Nelms, her sister, of Athol, Ga., recently, was a prisoner under guard in the St. Francis hotel today. A trained nurse was in constant attendance, because of her falling health.
Mrs. Innes was brought to Eugene late Thursday by Sheriff Parker, from the Innes ranch on the McKenzie river. Innes was still being held in the county jail.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

Salem, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Demands It.
People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Salem evidence of their merit.
I. N. Ridgeway, 438 S. 22nd St., Salem, says: "I had pains in the small of my back and my back ached at night. I tired easily, was languid and had headaches. Sometimes my sight blurred. There was sediment in the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me greatly and I publicly recommended them at that time. Nothing has occurred to change my high opinion of this remedy, in fact, my confidence in it is greater than ever for I got a permanent cure."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ridgeway had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ANOTHER MARINER SEES STRANGE THINGS

Portland, Ore., Aug. 21.—That he had sighted a strange vessel steaming in a northerly direction Wednesday evening off Heetsa Head, was the statement of First Officer Parker, of the steamer Bear, in the harbor here today from San Francisco.
The vessel was small and apparently a coal burner. Parker did not believe it was a coaster because of the fact that it had a boom rigged aft and gaff forward.

BARNUM & BAILEY'S ARRAY OF CLOWNS

An Army of Fifty or Sixty of Them—A Feature Always Delightful to the Little Folks, and Those Are Best.

One of the things that delighted the hearts of our fathers and grandfathers when they were youngsters were the songs of the clown in the circus; in those days there were but few theatres in the country in which singing was done, only the largest cities had theatres in which vaudeville performances were given, and they didn't call it vaudeville in those days, it was "variety shows."
Since the circus has grown so large as to require tents of such enormous size, as those for instance of the Barnum & Bailey show, which comes to Salem next Thursday, it has been necessary to increase the number of rings and add two stages upon which performances may be given, in order that they may be brought within seeing distance of the enormous audiences. These great tents obliterated the talking and singing clowns, for not one clown in a thousand could make himself heard in all parts of a tent so big, so instead of the merry jest and the comic song, the clown has become a creature of action and must create his fun by his grotesque appearance, by little pantomimic playlets, and his foolish movements, funny falls and visible pranks.
The "producing" clown is the real clown of today; he is the clown who can create new tricks, in which he is assisted by one or more of his fellow fools, and in such a show as Barnum & Bailey's it is a necessity to have a great many of these fun makers, the actual number being between 50 and 60. These merry sons of Momus are busy almost every minute in some sort of foolery that keeps the audience in a continuous roar of laughter, strange to say, however, there is with the Barnum & Bailey show one singing clown and he makes himself heard by everyone in the audience with the utmost distinctness.

Jeff Tesreau

By A. M. Corrigan.
Red McGhee says:
When big league scouts first took a squint at Tesreau they agreed a mint would put on double shift to turn out coin to match the pile that Jeff could garner after while with any sort of thrift. The scouts thought Jeff the one white hope to mix Jack Johnson's "put him out for ten." The big boy had the build an' weight to lay the black man cold an' straight—he weighed 230 then. He pitched for Houston, Galveston an' Shreveport, down there where the sun fries beefsteak on the hoof. But when the gumshoes lapped his frame right straight up north he came to dress "neath Muggsy's roof. Toronto took him for awhile to "chisel down his rough-edged style, but he came back 'fore Fall. In nineteen-leven that took place. In 1912 he struck his pace and buried some classy ball.
Last year 'twas Tesreau's big right paw that saved the pennant for McGraw when no one else could win. He's pitchin' close to Matty now—he makes the league's best hitmen's bow whenever he goes in. If Jeff can make his spitball last he'll have the whole darn field outclassed for high-powered pitchin' stuff. So let Jack Johnson wear his crown. Jeff doesn't have to knock him down. His star is bright enough.

LOUIS DAVIS AGAIN CONVICTED IN POLK

Murder in Second Degree Is the Verdict at Second Trial of Rancher at Dallas, Oregon.
Dallas, Ore., Aug. 21.—After a trial that lasted four days, the jury in the case of Louis Davis, charged with the murder of Mrs. Eliza J. Stewart, of Ballston, returned a verdict of murder in the second degree yesterday afternoon, less than an hour after retiring to the juryroom. Sentence of life imprisonment was imposed by Judge Webster Holmes this afternoon.
This was the second trial of Davis. A year ago he was tried for murder in the first degree and was convicted of second degree murder. An appeal was taken and the supreme court granted a new trial on the ground that Judge Holmes had erred in his instructions to the jury. Having been convicted of second degree murder at the former trial, no higher verdict could be rendered at the second trial. Practically the same evidence was introduced by the state at this trial as at the first one, with the exception of the addition of the testimony of Davis' former wife, who has been divorced from him since his first conviction and who was not permitted to testify before because of her relationship to the accused.
The defense laid particular stress on the theory that Mrs. Stewart had been killed by a stray bullet from the revolver used by G. M. Stewart, husband of the deceased, during the fight which occurred at the Stewart home at the time the tragedy occurred, and not from the automatic pistol used by the defendant. In an effort to prove this, tests were made in the courthouse basement by Sheriff J. M. Grant and a gun expert from Portland, summoned by the defense.
About 40 witnesses were examined during the course of the trial, one of the strongest for the state being Ben Agee, a neighbor of the Stewarts, who had come to Mr. Stewart's assistance and who himself was shot four times by Davis and for a time thought to be mortally wounded. He has fully recovered.
