Good and Correct Work Is Like a Boomerang That Always Returns

My advertisements have always been worded so as to impress upon those in need of glasses the necessity of consulting the man who has always proved himself worthy of the public's confidence.

I do not claim to be superior to all others, nor to possess something you cannot procure of any reputable dealer.

But I do claim to be worthy of your esteem and patronage and to possess the ability to furnish you with any style or kind of lens or mounting in the shortest possible time, and at prices that are just and fair both to you and myself.

I am prepared to fit all complicated cases. I take care of your eyes in the way of lens changes for one year from date of purchase, free of charge.

My 31 years' experience is at your service, and I guarantee your satisfaction at an honest cost.

Dr. M. P. MENDELSON
Doctor of Optics.

Chief of Police Shedeck is in receipt of a communication from T. M. Wort, sheriff of Multnomah county, announcing a reward of $50 for the return of a two-passenger Flanders 20 runabout, and no questions asked. The machine was taken from Portland on the 15th of this month and is described as of the 1912 vintage, with an Oregon license number 6069, and with a black body.

Registration books for the city of Salem are now in process of preparation, and when completed will be turned over to City Recorder Elgin. As soon as the recorder receives the books, which will probably be within a day or two, he will immediately open them for citizens to register. The council recently passed a new ordinance repealing the ordinance that was passed shortly before the city election last year.

On the grounds that there was not sufficient ground for an action, Justice of the Peace Webster yesterday dismissed the case of W. M. Wohl against Louis Brankofski, whom he alleged threatened to take his life. The case was heard yesterday afternoon, and in explaining what he meant, Brankofski said he intended to start an opposition fruit stand. The two men were partners in conducting the fruit stand on State street.

Bring your agates home to have them polished and mounted. Gardner & Keene, 388 State street.

E. M. Barstow, who has been manager of the P. W. Woolworth store on Commercial street for several years, has been promoted to be manager of the Woolworth Pacific avenue store in Tacoma, Wash., and A. H. Fox, formerly manager of the Eugene store, has been assigned to duty at this city. The change is in the nature of a promotion for Mr. Barstow, who has built up here a large business for the Woolworth people.

Elks, attention! Brother Charles Elmer Iddings, of Boise, No. 210, will be buried from Lehman & Clough's undertaking parlors, Wednesday, August 26, at 2 p. m. Salem lodge will have charge of the ceremony at the grave. Members of the lodge are urged to meet at the club at 1:15 sharp.

N. Miller received $290 for the timber already down and John Christie was given 90 days to remove the said timber in the case between these parties which was decided in the circuit court yesterday. All former contracts were cancelled and the defendant was enjoined from cutting any more timber on the premises of Mr. Miller.

War is hell. A monster protest meeting against war will be held on Tuesday, August 25th, at 8 p. m., at Liberty and State streets, by the Socialists of Salem. All lovers of peace are invited to be present. Good speakers, including Col. C. E. S. Wood, of Portland, will give you uncensored news direct from the warring countries.

Alleging that 30 bales of hops weighing 6,104 pounds and valued at $1,220.80 have been unlawfully seized, A. J. Mishler has brought suit against the Southern Pacific company. It is alleged in the complaint that the hops were shipped from Silverton to Salem on August 11 and that on August 21 the hops were seized by the railroad company. A judgment in the sum of $1,220.80 is sought by the plaintiff.

A requisition by the governor of Texas for Victor E. Innes and wife, now held in Eugene, and wanted on the charge of murdering Mrs. Lois Dennis and her sister, Miss Beatrice Nelms, of Atlanta, was honored yesterday afternoon by Governor West. A. Newton, a deputy sheriff, of Baxter county, Texas, who arrived to take the prisoners back with him, said he did not know what evidence the authorities held against the Innes' but that he believed that acid stains were found in the house in San Antonio where the couple formerly lived. This led to the belief that the bodies had been destroyed with acid.

Austin Flegel, Jr., and wife, whose home is in Portland, Oregon, were in Salem a short time yesterday afternoon while on their way to the McKenzie river for an outing period. Austin Flegel and his wife will be remembered as being former Willamette university students. He is managing the campaign of his father, who is democratic candidate for congress from the Second congressional district, and who is opposed by Congressman Leffert on one side and Pat McArthur on the other. He is optimistic and believes that in the three-cornered fight his father will win. As the result of a trip on the west side he finds that the all-absorbing topic of conversation is the "wet and dry" issue. In the absorption of this topic the fights of the various candidates are forgotten.

Although the time is drawing near when candidates for the various city offices will declare themselves, so far city politics are quiet. The primary date is the first Monday in November and the city election date the first Monday in December. That will throw two elections in November, the city primary and the general state election, which is held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. So far the city recorder's office and the office of chief of police has drawn many candidates. For city recorder there are three candidates, Charles Elgin, present recorder; E. H. Anderson, and Earl Rice. For chief of police the candidates are too numerous to mention, while for mayor the only one so far is Councilman Jones.

Charles Rush, assistant fire chief, had a narrow escape from being severely injured last night when the motorcycle he was riding crashed into a buggy belonging to Mrs. W. F. Tucker at the corner of Water and Chemeketa streets, about 9 o'clock. Rush asserts he was going not more than 10 miles per hour when he saw a buggy come out of the alley onto Chemeketa street. He saw that if he continued straight ahead he would strike the horse and swerved, with the result that the motorcycle struck the hub of the rear wheel.

The buggy was twisted about and the shafts and rear under the buggy broken. The headlight on the machine was bent, while the rider had the skin knocked from a knee. Mrs. Tucker was thrown from the rig, but was not hurt.

See that "Big Bargain" of J. A. Mills; 1 acre.

A order was issued by Judge Galloway yesterday afternoon dismissing the case of W. H. Rodgers against Charles E. Hall, A. G. Sloper and W. Curtis, as the matter had been settled out of court. This case was one relating to a mechanics lien for plumbing work.

That acre J. A. Mills is advertising in another space is a "Big Bargain."

Don't forget that we carry a complete line of lunch goods for picnics. Open every day in the week from 7 o'clock in the morning until midnight. Capital Confectionery. Phone 2259.

A license was issued today for the marriage of Arthur W. Simmons and Charissa L. Palmer. Both young people are from Silverton, where Mr. Simmons is a veterinary.

The case of I. S. Barnes against Spencer and Sheriff Esch was argued in department No. 2 of the circuit court this afternoon. Mr. Barnes was represented by Jay Bowerman, and the defendant by W. T. Slater and Oscar Hayter.

The May Wing Tye Restaurant, at 439 Ferry street, has been remodeled and the seating capacity more than doubled by fitting up the upstairs into a dining room. Here ladies, as well as gentlemen, may be assured of a clean, pleasant place to eat both Chinese and American dishes. Since coming to Salem two months ago, Mr. and Mrs. Wing Tye have made a host of friends and patrons by serving the best of everything.

Seeking a long-lost brother from whom no word had been received for over 30 years, a letter was received today by Secretary of State Obelt from J. Joachim Bourgeois of Leominster, Massachusetts. The name of the missing man is Jean Baptiste Bourgeois and is said to be somewhere in this state on a large ranch. He is described as being 55 years of age and at one time worked at the barber's trade.

The 150-barrel oil tank was lowered into the excavation prepared for it at the state house grounds this afternoon. The new tank will rest above the former one already installed and the oil will be fed into the furnace pipes from the old tank. The new tank was made in Salem at the Anderson Heating company's plant and is pronounced by boiler experts to be a creditable output for this city. The tank is seven feet in diameter and 30 feet long and is made of five-eighths inch sheet steel.

H. L. Bowley, the state highway engineer, returned from Portland last night, where he has been on a short business trip. He says that the $75,000 contract for work in Hood River county will be let tomorrow. This work is about half rock work and the rest dirt work and will connect up all parts of the Columbia highway through this county. The bonds for the construction of the work were recently sold to a Portland firm.

The body of Elmer Iddings, son of J. G. Iddings, of Woodburn, who died as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident Friday night about 20 miles south of Boise, Idaho, will arrive in this city this afternoon about 4:40 o'clock. The funeral here will be held from the chapel of Lehman & Clough and will be in charge of the local lodge of Elks, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Bertha Herrick, of Silverton, was arrested today by Constable Cooper and brought to this city for a preliminary hearing. She is charged with disorderly conduct in that she is alleged to have indiscriminately entered men's rooms at various times and places. She was given a trial at 3 o'clock by Judge Webster. She denies ever having done anything improper. She was arrested on the complaint of her aunt, Mrs. Daisy Herrick.

SEEKING EVIDENCE AGAINST ACCUSED MURDERER.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 25.—Marshall Nelms, 22 years old, brother of Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis, for whose alleged murder Victor E. Innes and wife are to be taken to San Antonio, Texas, following the honoring of requisition papers by Governor West, is in Portland today seeking evidence in connection with the case.

That Innes must have secured about $14,000 from his sister, and that this was the motive for the alleged murder, was the declaration of Nelms.

Nelms will remain in Portland until evidence he declares will make the case against Innes complete is secured.

WANT TO USE DYNAMITE TO DESTROY SEAL HERD

Claiming that the hundreds of seals which are camped at the mouth of the Siuslaw river are "herding the salmon" and preventing them from entering the river, the Siuslaw Fishermen's association has written to the fish and game commission asking permission to use dynamite to kill the seals. Whole valleys of rifle bullets have been wasted on the brutes, says George F. Allen, secretary of the association, but of no avail, but he is of the opinion that a few charges of 15 or 20 sticks of dynamite would disturb the fish-eaters and allow the salmon to enter the river. The fish and game commission will probably not oppose the request, as they say the claim of the fishermen is a just one.

The letter from Mr. Allen goes on to state that the run of salmon on the Siuslaw is a light one this year on account of the lack of rain and the presence of the seals.

CITY NEWS

Students are coming into the office at Willamette University every day to register for the coming year. As school opens September 14, the students are arriving in the city every day and securing rooms. A number will be housed at Lausanne Hall but the greater portion will find rooms in the city.

Dean Alden of the college of liberal arts of Willamette University returned this morning from Walla Walla where he has been during the past week. He immediately took up the work at the university and is making preparation for the coming year. Professor Florian Von Eschen who spoke in Portland in one of the churches, returned to Salem today also, and is back at work in the university office.

Already the influx of hop-pickers is being felt throughout the valley. The trains are carrying the pickers in increasing numbers and by the end of the week it is expected that the exodus from the city to the country will be at its height. Special Officer Hickerson is required to keep from 20 to 30 men moving out of town each day from the vicinity of the Southern Pacific depot as they drop off here in numbers with expectation of stopping. Dealers in hop-pickers' materials are feeling the approach of the season when active picking will begin by the buying of supplies. In another week it is expected that the picking in the valley will be general.

E. S. White, who was arrested last night about 9:30 for operating an automobile without a light, appeared in the police court this morning and paid a fine of $10 into the city treasury. He was arrested on South Twelfth street between Hines and Cross streets.

Several Salem residents have received notices from the City of Portland to have the lots owned by them in the Rose City cleaned of weeds and tall grass, or suffer a charge for having the weeds cut by the municipality. It has been suggested by these same Salem people that if the Salem city authorities would get busy and require the enforcement of the ordinance regulating the growth of dry grass and weeds on vacant lots that the appearance of the town would be immeasurably improved. The removal of the weeds and grass is required within the city limits but the ordinance is not enforced as is attested by the many vacant lots overgrown with them.

Work on the repairs at Lausanne Hall to make it presentable as a home for the girls of Willamette University for the coming winter has begun. The university authorities are finding that workmen are scarce and are unable on that account to rush the improvements as fast as they would like.
