Voters must register at the city hall at the rate of 100 per day if the 7000 electors of the city of Salem are to be registered before October 17. There are 42 working days on which registration may be done, and all that is required is the elector's name, age, ward, direct address, and whether born in the United States or a naturalized citizen. About 65 registered yesterday.

Dr. Smith, democratic candidate for governor, will be the guest of honor of the Salem Central Labor Council tonight. The council aims to have most of the leading candidates, or at least so many as care to do so, as its guests before the campaign closes. As a body it takes no sides politically, but advocates the widest publicity and fullest discussions of all public questions.

Housecleaning was the order of the day this morning at the Salem fire department, and the boys could be seen scouring the corners of the department with brooms and cleaning out in general. All the apparatus was taken out for sunning while the interior was being cleaned. The fire boys went at the business of removing the dirt with the dexterity of efficient, faithful housewives.

Unsightly poles used for the support of electric trolley wires will soon be a thing of the past in the business portion of Salem, as workmen of the P. R. L. & P. Co. are removing them as fast as possible. Last year the poles were removed from Commercial street, making it look much more beautiful and attractive. The poles have been removed from the north side of State street and those on the south side are being cut down today.

All of the six new fire hydrants received recently by the fire and water committee of the council for the Salem fire department, have been installed. Two of them replaced old hydrants that were unserviceable and the other four are placed in new positions to serve new districts, mostly in North Salem. When the other hydrants arrive from the factory in New York they will be installed at various points of advantage about the city.

B. S. Prentz, who stood trial in the police court recently for riding a motorcycle with the muffler cutoff open and was convicted on his own testimony and fined $15, was arrested again this morning for speeding on East State street. He entered a plea of guilty as charged and Judge Elgin imposed a fine of $25 on him, which caused him to whistle with astonishment. As he is employed at one of the sporting goods houses of the city he did not want to lay the fine out in jail, so made arrangements with Judge Elgin to pay it in installments of $10 per week. He has not yet finished paying the $15 fine imposed for riding with the muffler cutoff open.

A suit to recover damages was filed in the circuit court yesterday by Frank Wade, who resides near Gervais, against H. E. Nibbler. Wade alleges in his complaint that a shot fired from a gun by Nibbler caused his horses to take fright and run away. In the course of their fright they ran into a barbed wire fence and were cut and scratched by the wires, and afterwards died from their wounds. He asks $35 for the horses and $500 as punitive damages.

Jack Smith, looking as if he had been pretty roughly handled, was taken to the police station about 2:45 this morning for lodging and safe keeping. He reported that he had been held up and robbed of $30, a Waltham watch, and his hat and coat. It is believed by the officers that he attempted to ride on the circus train and that he was discovered by the circus people and given a thorough overhauling, as they are exceptionally strict, and only allow their own people to accompany the trains. He was turned loose after being given breakfast.

Snappy, individual styles which you can't help admire, are shown in the suits turned out by Mosher, and you also get the benefit of the August sale prices which enable you to save from $5 to $20 and to keep your money in Salem.

The Salem Auto Garage, at 246 State street, has been purchased by the Geo. M. Reeves garage of Capital and Union streets. Mr. E. A. Pruitt, the well known Salem contractor, has purchased an interest in the concern, and will be in charge of the State street garage as manager. The Geo. M. Reeves garage at Capital and Union will be conducted as heretofore, buying and selling used autos and motorcycles. The Salem Auto Garage was formerly owned by the Chamberlain brothers.

One of the greatest blessings of civilization is Tip-Top break. It represents the highest perfection in one of the oldest arts of man. Order a loaf today from Sperling, the grocer, 311 North Commercial.

Lee Jim, one of the three celestialists who were arrested in a raid on Salem's Chinatown Tuesday night for having opium in their possession, was released yesterday from the county jail. The Chinese were found guilty and fined, the sum assessed against Lee Jim being $150. As none of them could pay, they were remanded to jail. However, Lee Jim secured the money to pay his fine and turned the amount into Judge Webster, who thereupon ordered his release. Sam Yen and Ah Louie, the other two, are still in jail. To get out they will have to raise $100 each.

Notice has been received of an advance in the price of woolen goods. Mosher tailor to men and women, however, is not asking you a cent more on a suit. In fact, during his August sale he is reducing the price from $5 to $20, because he has such a large stock already on hand.

Langford Foster, the young negro who went through the home of W. A. Wiest yesterday while the family was away watching the circus parade, is charged with larceny from a dwelling. On quitting him yesterday afternoon it was learned that he had a partner working with him. The officers, with the aid of George Black, a detective, in the employ of the Barnum & Bailey circus, landed the other negro, who had a suitcase filled with dry goods of all kinds, shirts, silk suspenders, ribbons, etc. He is believed to be an ex-convict and to have stolen the goods at Everett, Wash. He was found on the circus grounds and taken to the police station.

As a result of the war, importation of foreign cloth has ceased, and tailors are required to pay more for their stock and must increase their prices correspondingly. Despite this, Mosher, who has a larger stock than all of the other tailors in the city combined, has not raised his prices, and besides if you buy now you can save from $5 to $20 on your suit, 344 State.

Pearl Ellen Waite began a suit for divorce in the circuit court yesterday against William Stanley Waite. They were married in Bellingham, Washington in 1909. There are no children or property rights involved. Cruel and inhuman treatment is alleged as the cause. The plaintiff asks that she be permitted to resume her maiden name of Pearl Ellen Sisson.

Rev. F. S. Knight, the pioneer Salem clergyman, who met with an accident a few weeks ago, is reported as slightly improved. He slept well last night and is conscious, rallying brightly at intervals. He is, of course, weak, and suffers severe pains in his head, but his bruises are disappearing and his wounds have healed. There are no indications of paralysis, and it looks as though he may be able to pull through. If the ardent wishes of hosts of warm friends can accomplish anything, he will certainly be spared for many years yet.

One hundred and fifty hop-pickers left at 1 o'clock this afternoon on the Oregon Electric for Hall's ferry, where they will camp during the hop-picking season. Besides these coach loads of men, women and children all day long wagon and motor loads of pickers left the city today. Some families went with their wagons piled high with complete housekeeping outfits from cook-

JAPANESE FLEET RENEWS ITS ATTACK

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The following Peikin cablegram was printed here this afternoon in the Chicago Daily News: "The Japanese fleet has renewed its attack on Tsing Tehau. As the fleet is carrying heavier guns than those of the Germans it has been able to damage the forts without any danger of damage from shore batteries. "No information is available regarding the landing in Kiau Chau of a Japanese force. The German governor has declared martial law and Chinese residents of the leased territory have been forced to carry ammunition and work on the land. In Peikin are indignant, as the Germans yesterday destroyed several villages near the Hinterland, forcing the natives to flee."

DEPARTMENT HELPS STRANDED AMERICANS

Flushing, Holland, Aug. 28.—Assisted by Ambassador Penfield, United States Assistant Secretary of War Brockbridge was extending aid to stranded Americans in Vienna today, according to a message received here from German sources. The number there was placed at 400 or 500. It was said few needed money but that they were desperately anxious to get home. There was understood to be a still larger number at Budapest. From Russia a considerable number of Americans were reported to have arrived in Bergen Norway. About 650 were expected here today from Berlin.

ing utensils to beds with springs and mattresses. From what one sees and hears it seems as if the whole vicinity has turned out to pick hops.

A suit over a hop contract was filed in the circuit court yesterday by B. O. Shucking against E. M. Young. The complaint alleges that Mr. Young agreed to deliver 25,000 pounds of hops of a certain quality to the plaintiff for 23 cents per pound. It is further stated that no move to comply with the contract has been made by the defendant and as a result Mr. Shucking seeks damages to the extent of $2,250 and the costs of bringing the action.

C. H. Evans, state game warden, left today for an extended trip through eastern Oregon and will return about October 1. He will spend considerable time in Wallawa county, where several matters have come up before the fish and game commission. He will visit La Grande, Bend and a number of the eastern Oregon towns, and will take a trip into the Blue mountains. Dr. Evans of this city accompanied him.

An oriental romance that appears to be shattered made its appearance on the books of the county clerk yesterday when John E. McDaniel brought suit for divorce against Sata Honda McDaniel. The couple were married in Yokohama, Japan, in 1909, when Mr. McDaniel was stationed there as a nurse in the U. S. navy. They lived in Yokohama until 1913 according to the complaint when they separated in June of that year. In the complaint it is stated that the little brown roseland developed a ungiving disposition and showed herself to be possessed of an ungovernable temper all of which it seems blasted the domestic happiness of the McDaniel household. Acts of the defendant constituted cruel and inhuman treatment according to the complaint and it is on these grounds that a divorce is sought.

Benjamin S. Via brought suit today against W. H. Enos and wife to recover $29 alleged due on a bill of goods sold to the defendants by F. E. Shafer a harness dealer of this city. In addition to the sum involved $10 is asked as attorney's fees.

Allen Eaton, of Eugene, well-known in this city for his connection with sundry acts of the house of representatives in years past, is in Salem on a short business trip. Mr. Eaton says he likes this city and looks forward with pleasure to his contemplated visit next January.

Postmaster August Huckestein is in receipt of a communication from Postmaster General Burleson advising him that he would approve absolutely if he could arrange to have a parcel post exhibit at the Oregon state fair this year. This kind of an exhibit has been made at fairs in different parts of the country and has aroused no small amount of interest on the part of the public. Such an exhibit would consist of articles that can be shipped by parcel post, such as eggs, vegetables, grain, wagon wheels sautons, etc. The exhibits are generally secured from the merchants who have the articles for sale and have the name of the company, merchant or producer furnishing the exhibit with the prices that the article can be furnished at by parcel post. Postmaster Huckestein is considering the matter.

The Willamette Pacific Railroad company, the line now under construction from Eugene to Coos Bay, today made application to the state railroad commission for permission to put in 16 road crossings between Eugene and tunnel No. 1 at Noti. The railroad company, which is under the direction of the Southern Pacific, has been running trains over this line for some time but the railroad was under construction before the law giving the railroad commission authority in the matter of grade crossings went into effect.

Luther J. Chapin, and wife, who have been spending the past ten days on Slab Creek, returned last evening from their vacation. Miss Jenny Moselett, public librarian at Dallas, accompanied them in the Ford that carried the party over to the coast. Mr. Chapin returned with a heavy crop of whiskers and several layers of dust, which clung to his whiskers like bees swarming on a limb. Fleets of fish both fresh water and sea varieties among them, several porgies were caught, and Dr. I. M. Lane and wife were of the party.

We wish to thank our friends for their kind assistance and their many expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement; also for the beautiful floral offerings.

MR. and MRS. W. HOWARD RAMP.

The members of the board of the State Industrial accident commission met this morning and passed upon about 80 claims involving about $15,000. Two of the claims paid were death claims but the rest for the most part were claims of a minor nature.

The case of George H. Poersel against the county of Polk was granted a change of venue and transferred to this county today for trial. This is a damage suit in which Mr. Poersel claims that he was injured to the extent of $2000 when he fell through a side walk along a county highway from the end of C street in Independence to the Willamette river. Oscar Hayter is the attorney for the plaintiff.
