Apple Crop Estimated 50 Per Cent Too High.

Mr. A. P. Bateham, vice-president of the Northwestern Fruit Exchange, has vigorously taken exception to the crop estimates recently issued by the government. He says:

"The U. S. Department of Agriculture, in its latest estimate of the United States apple crop, seems to have enunciated the example set by 'Gloomy Gus' White and the aggregation of Eastern apple operators who have been industriously inventing 'Bear' statistics on apple production."

"The Department's latest 'guess' is 210 million bushels, the highest figures that have been published. On the other hand, the Northwestern Fruit Exchange, of Portland, with its corps of expert reporters, estimates this season's crop at only 142 million bushels."

"The astonishingly preposterous figures of the government for the Pacific Coast States, stated in bushels, compare as follows with local estimates:

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture	N. W. Fruit Exchange
Montana	600,000
Idaho	1,300,000
Washington	7,500,000
Oregon	3,200,000
California	5,300,000
Total	18,600,000
Exchange	16,710,000

"The Department's figures above are 50 per cent higher than the Coast states even hoped for at blossoming time and nearly double the actual crop now in sight, according to experienced men who are on the ground and whose work of this nature in previous years has always proved accurate."

"It is no help to present conditions to have such figures appear in print. War times have brought an unsettled condition in the price and of the proposition already and with the added bur-

AUSTRIAN ARMY BEATEN RETREATS TO LEMBURG FORTS

As Result of Fighting to Date Five Austrian Corps Are Annihilated

RESERVE AMMUNITION CAPTURED BY RUSSIANS

German Sortie at Konigsberg Repulsed; German Loss Is 'Enormous'

Petrograd (St. Petersburg), Sept. 3.—Demoralized, the Austrian Galicia forces were retreating today upon their first line of fortifications, behind Lemburg.

It was expected they would make their next stand along the San river between the strongholds of Przemyśl and Jaroslav.

The Austrian reserve line extends from the Carpathians, between the headquarters of the Dniestr and the San, along the latter stream nearly to Anopol.

Of their left wing, in Russian Poland, only a part of the line is holding. It was being pressed today by an enormous Russian force.

As a result of the fighting thus far five Austrian corps have been practically annihilated. Their reserve ammunition was captured and thousands of prisoners were taken.

Germans Are Battered.

In East Prussia, the victory won by the Russians when the German garrison of the Konigsberg citadel attempted a sortie was complete.

The Germans' attempt was said to be a desperate one. It was made under cover of darkness, the garrison's entire strength being thrown against the czar's troops. Automatic guns mounted on auto trucks did effective work and for a time inflicted considerable losses on the Russians.

The latter, however, finally checked the assault and drove the Germans back into their citadel, forcing them in their haste to abandon many of their dead and wounded.

The German loss, said the war office, was "enormous."

The war office summed up by reporting the situation at the front, in East Prussia as well as in Austria, as "unsatisfactory."

HOP CROP IS LIGHT.

Independence, Ore., Sept. 3.—Reports from the hop yards as to the effect that the yield is light. It is thought that there will not be more than 100,000 to 110,000 bales in the state.

The quality is better than it has been in a number of years and with the growers closely watching the picking, it is expected that this state will produce cleaner and better hops than have been put on the market for a number of years.

All of the yards are not at work yet, but they will begin this week.

It is thought likely that if rain falls it will not let up for a while. As the hops are clean of lice and bugs, it is not thought that rain will hurt them.

The growers are not inclined to sell at present prices, thinking the market is due for a good rise within a few days.

HOP YIELD LIGHT. QUALITY IS GOOD

MORE JAPS LANDED.

Tokio, Sept. 3.—In view of the war situation parliament was summoned today to meet in special session September 9.

More Japanese troops were being landed today at Lung Kow, whence it was expected they would march to the southwestward on Kiao Chau.

It was estimated about 7,000 soldiers and marines were ashore.

SAY STRUGGLE IS RELIGIOUS.

Berlin, via Rome, Sept. 3.—Unaware that a new pope had been elected, representative German Roman Catholics met today and adopted a memorial to the conclaves of cardinals defending Germany's participation in the war. It was charged that the struggle really was religious, the Russian orthodox church's intriguing having caused it.

THE HISTORY OF ORGANIZED LABOR

An interesting address will be given on Labor day by Rev. Richard F. Tischer, pastor of the Unitarian church of this city. Rev. Tischer will discuss among other things the history of the labor movement, the early trials and difficulties met by workmen in trying to obtain better working conditions, the great advance already made by united action and the hopes and aspirations of the toilers in the future. Rev. Tischer, before taking up the history, was for years a member of the painters union and knows the various phases of the subject from personal experience. He is an able speaker and everyone can well afford to listen to his remarks with profit. Everyone is invited to hear his address, which will be given at the Labor day picnic at Rieckhall, Monday, September 7. Among other prominent speakers who will also make addresses will be Hon. Will Daly, commissioner of utilities of Portland, and for many years a leader in the labor movement in this state, and Mayor B. L. Steeves, of this city. No admission will be charged to grounds. All is free. A fare of 30 cents for the round trip has been arranged for; children, 5 to 15, half fare.

BENEDICTUS XV NAMED

white robes designated for his use directly following his election.

Returning to the conclave hall as soon as he had been clad thus, the pope took his seat on his temporary throne, received the first adoration from the members of the sacred college and gave his first benediction, the cardinals kneeling.

Then followed the kissing by each cardinal of the new pontiff's foot and hand, after which each in turn was embraced by him.

Cardinal Camerlengo Della Volpe, who acted as the church's head after Pius' death and before his successor had been elected, next surrendered to the latter the St. Peter's ring, to be turned over later to the prefect of ceremonies that the new pope's name may be engraved on it.

These ceremonies completed, the pope and cardinals returned to their cells to await official announcement to the public of the election's result.

Pope Benedictus XV is about sixty years old. He was ordained a priest at the age of 24 and held many important positions, as secretary to church dignitaries, until December 16, 1907, when he was made bishop of Bologna. Pope Pius advanced him to a cardinal's rank last May.

Though prominent among churchmen, as he must have been to have reached the sacred college, he had not the worldwide reputation of such men as Cardinals Del Val, Della Volpe, Vannutelli, Gibbons or the late Cardinal Rampolla.

ARRIVED TOO LATE.

Rome, Sept. 3.—Cardinals Gibbons and O'Connell, two of the three American members of the sacred college, arrived here at noon today, an hour after Cardinal Della Chiesa had been elected pope.

Arriving early in the day at Naples, they left there by automobile for Rome at 5 a. m.

Cardinal Farley, of New York, was the only American who took part in the balloting.

FRENCH OFFICIALS ON WAY TO BORDEAUX

Washington, Sept. 3.—A cablegram announcing that President Poincaré, of France, the members of his cabinet and all government clerks were en route to Bordeaux was received at the French embassy here today. The transfer of the government was made, it was announced, so Paris could prepare for a long siege. The same dispatch also declared that the allies had stopped the Germans at Bethel.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, said his government had asked him to request the United States to take over the British embassy which had been transferred to Bordeaux and that America also would be asked to take over all the foreign embassies in Paris.

Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will confer with President Wilson this afternoon over the war situation.

HERRICK MAY REMAIN.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Former Ambassador Myron T. Herrick today was authorized to use his own discretion about remaining in France. William Sharpe, the new ambassador, has reached Paris, but it was believed he will not displace Herrick for some time.

JAPANESE FLEET COMING TO COAST

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—That four Japanese battleships, two torpedo boat destroyers and one consort soon will arrive at this port to take on supplies and coal was indicated here today by an American agent of Japan who approached wholesale firms and asked pointed questions regarding the prompt delivery of foodstuffs to the warships. Then the agent negotiated with one of the local tug companies for the delivery of the goods aboard the vessels under the 24-hour neutrality license. No definite orders were given but the agent announced he would close all deals before noon today.
