Monday night, at the regular session of the Sulem city council, the question of printing the new charter drafted by the charter committee will be up for onsideration. At that time the report of the printing committee, investigating the cost of printing the measure and the cost of printing the measure and receiving bids from printers, will make its report. If the entire charter is printed, it will be quite an expensive job, but it is believed that it will only be necessary to print the changed sections, which would be considerable or a saving. It is believed this plan would meet with approval by the council and the citizens at large
