

AUSTRIA'S ENTIRE STRENGTH IN FIELD

Losses 250,000 Balance of Army in Bad Shape and May Surrender

Vienna, Sept. 15.—Via Rome.—Suppression of rioting and the scattering of parades by the unemployed was occupying the authorities here today.

Food prices were advancing. The meat supply was nearing exhaustion. The government was planning to open food depots.

Thousands of refugees were arriving from Galicia.

Wounded soldiers were pouring in by the trainload. It was impossible to care for them properly. The experienced surgeons were nearly all at the front and only half trained volunteers were available to render medical aid to the sufferers here.

The last classes of landsturmiers had been called to the colors. This meant that the nation's entire military strength was in the field. It had no more reserves to summon.

However, the government insisted that the situation at the front was improving. It was said the Austrians were re-forming on the west bank of the River Dan.

That the Russian artillery was far superior to the Austrians was admitted. "The Austrians' losses exceed 250,000 and they have sacrificed a large part of their artillery. The position of the remnant of their army is precarious. Their surrender would not be surprising."

OUT ON BAIL.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 15.—Attorney Eugene E. Hewlett, clubman and automobile dealer, is at liberty today on $5000 bail, following his arrest at Nicon, N. M., on a swindling charge.

Hewlett returned last night in custody of New Mexican officers. Bonds had been arranged by his attorney, Earl Rogers, before his arrival, and he was immediately freed.

Reginald H. Gordon, retired British army officer, charges that Hewlett obtained from him $34,000 by fraudulent means.

PRESIDENT IS HOME.

Washington, Sept. 15.—President Wilson returned to Washington at 11 o'clock today from Coraish, N. H. He was expected to receive the Belgian commission, which has come to the United States to protest against alleged German atrocities at the White House Wednesday afternoon.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

There is also absolute evidence that they have used dum dum bullets.

HEROIC DEFENSE TOLD BY RESULTS.

(By Karl H. VonWiegand.)

LIEGE, Sept. 6.—(Via Aix La Chapelle and The Hague, delayed by the British censor.)—The battered forts of Liege, for days the admiration of the entire civilized world because of their heroic defense by General Leman, are the tomb of thousands of brave men.

Once representing man's highest ingenuity as works of defense, they are today great ruins of broken concrete and twisted steel.

Deep in these ruins are the bodies of many of their defenders, few of whom survived the fire of the deadly German siege guns. It is almost impossible to approach them, so horrible is the stench from the decomposing bodies of some of the bravest soldiers who ever fought in battle.

Not one fort survived the terrible rain of explosives from the new 42-centimeter guns which are the latest product of the Krupp factory. That Liege was held out at all was due to the failure of the German commander to have these guns brought up at once from the rear.

The guns were mounted five miles away from the forts, but so accurately had the German aviators aimed them that hardly a shot missed. They dropped repeatedly on the 12-foot steel turrets which project only three feet from the ground, finally making them immovable and useless.

Fort Lanin presents the most terrible aspect. It is on a high ridge and looks for all the world like the crater of an extinct volcano.

Three of the 42 centimeter shells drove through 12 feet of concrete and earth. One of them, in exploding, set off the magazine. Of the entire fort nothing can be seen but a great jagged hole in the ground, 30 feet deep.

Huge blocks of cement were thrown great distances and the fort's chilled steel turrets were twisted like tin.

Parts of the bodies of the gallant defenders were recovered and buried, but others could not be reached, and lie rotting under the twisted steel and broken concrete blocks.

WILLAMETTE BEGINS SEVENTY-FIRST YEAR

Attendance Will be Larger Than Ever and Summer Year Is Expected—Classes Begin Work Thursday.

Willamette university, the pioneer institution of learning on the Pacific coast, which began its session in the early forties, or back farther than most men living can now recall, opened its doors yesterday morning for the commencement of its 71st year. Never before has the university opened with such exceptionally auspicious outlook, and it is universally believed that the year just beginning will be in every way more successful than any of the 70 that have passed into history. New students are coming in large numbers to begin their college courses here and many old ones, many more than were expected when school closed last June, are returning to continue their work in the school founded so long ago by Jason Lee.

Not a student, as far as can be ascertained, is leaving the institution on account of the unpleasantness of last year. Several who have spent from two to three years in the university have left for other schools, it is true, but for other reasons than the clashes of the past.

Indications indicate the senior class to graduate next June will be the largest in the history of the institution. This is especially gratifying on account of the number who intimated they would not return. Another bright feature is the large incoming freshman class. Up to Saturday the office had received nearly as many letters from young people who expected to enter the freshman class as there were students in last year's class. So far there are 48 who have decided to enter as freshmen.

Dr. Alden, dean of the college of liberal arts, and Professors Von Eschen and Matthews, members of the executive committee in charge of the university, were busy all day registering students and looking after university business. Old students were busy giving out information to the new arrivals while the Christian associations had a table where the association handbook containing information of value to the new student were distributed.

Registration will continue the greater part of the week and by Thursday it is expected the greater portion of the students will be enrolled and assigned to classes. Students will continue to arrive for the next three weeks, but it is expected next Monday morning will find the university in full swing for the winter sessions. Classes will meet Thursday for the first time.

Saturday the trustees of the university, with G. J. Johnson, of Portland, and Senator Booth, of Eugene, present, were entertained at Lausanne hall for luncheon and an hour of speechmaking. At that time a collection was taken, which will be used to furnish the parlor. Miss Junia Todd, preceptress of the hall; Mr. Clark, superintendent of buildings, and Mrs. Kramer, the cook, were the hosts of the occasion. At that time a report of Dr. Alden concerning the reopening of Lausanne for occupation as a dormitory for the girls was read.

"Never before," said Dr. Alden in his report, "has the need of a new dormitory for girls been more apparent than now. The executive committee of the faculty, together with the building committee and executive committee of the board of trustees, tried to find a satisfactory substitute for Lausanne hall. Finally, with the approval of the executive committee, the question was submitted to the president of the board who, after consultation, authorized us to proceed with the re-opening of Lausanne for another year. Some floors have been repaired, a great deal of the interior woodwork has been repainted, and many of the rooms repapered, while new furniture has been bought to replace the old. The furniture is of a quality suitable to be used in the new dormitory, which we hope some generous friend will donate to the university in the near future."

WEST SALEM.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborn, of Illinois, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pomeroy and Mrs. Henrietta Pomeroy, of Portland, relatives of Attorney Ernest Bine and family, have been here house guests for a time. Mrs. Henrietta Pomeroy will remain for an extended visit.

Mr. J. H. Eaton has been suffering from blood-poisoning in his right hand. His picking is finished in the Murphy Bedford yard. The hops are of excellent quality and the yield almost, if not quite, as large as last year.

Dr. James Moore presided over the fourth quarterly conference of the West Salem circuit at the church Saturday morning.

The reports for the year's work were quite encouraging.

Messrs Gibson and Brophy, who have had some fine flocks of chickens, have been losing large numbers lately, and Friday night the thieves, two of them, both from Oak Grove, were caught. Saturday they were arraigned before Justice P. L. Wood. Edward Deutch pled guilty, was sentenced to one year in jail and paroled. Frank Gunnes, the other one, pled guilty and was sentenced to three months in jail.

JAPS ARE DROWNING NEAR KAO CHAU

Tekin, Sept. 15.—Skirmishing between Japanese troops and German outposts about Kao Chau was reported here today.

Japanese landings on the Shantung coast have hitherto been at some distance from the German possession of Kao Chau and approach to the colony has been prevented by floods. It was consequently assumed here that more troops must have been put ashore in the settlements immediately vicinity.

This theory seemed to be borne out by rumors that Japanese cavalry had been seen at Kao Chau City, about five miles outside the concession's limits.

A German aviator was said to have been spying out the Japanese positions.

ALL PARTIES HOLDING STATE CONVENTIONS

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 15.—Hundreds of delegates and candidates of all parties were gathered here today to attend the state conventions of the republican, democratic, progressive and socialist when state platforms will be made. The democratic and scheduled theirs for 10 o'clock, but postponed it until 2 p. m. All the other conventions are to meet at that hour. Nearly all the state candidates nominated at the primary are here.

The democrats had decided upon D. W. Campbell, of San Francisco, for state chairman, and Fred Hall, of Bakerfield, for chairman of the convention.

They will endorse the Wilson administration and have a strong plank favoring labor unions.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all in pleasure and happiness in my home."

SAYS LEIPSIK SANK RUSSIAN CRUISER

German Naval Officer Writes From Mexico of Naval Battle in Which 68 of Leipzig's Crew Were Killed.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Naval officers here were skeptical today over the reported sinking of an unnamed Russian cruiser by the German cruiser Leipzig in an engagement off the Pacific coast of America as told by Joseph Von Duenet of the Leipzig in a letter to Chief Steward Thomas Duna of the steamship Yale. Von Duenet claimed that 68 men were killed and many wounded. Von Duenet, a German seaman, was employed as second cook on the Yale, up to the time the Leipzig came into this port on August 17 to coal.

The letter was posted at Guaymas, Mexico, in September, the exact date being undecipherable. After discussing various personal and business matters, Von Duenet said:

"I'm still alive. Pretty near was the end of me after an engagement with a Russian cruiser, which resulted in the sinking of our enemy and on our own boat quite a few dead and wounded. We got 32 shots in the bow, masts, smokestack and deck. I am cut up on my body by a couple of grenades.

"After the fight the captain ordered the band to play the national song. We all stood up and saluted. I forgot all my pain and cried like a baby. The captain cried, too. Tomorrow is the burial of our dead heroes on the sea, 68 in number. The dead included about six officers."

STORY CONFIRMED IN LETTER FROM ENGLAND

Centralia, Wash., Sept. 15.—Advice tending to confirm a report that Russian troops have passed through England on their way to Belgium was received here today in a letter Miss Nellie Dunckley, of Manchester, England, wrote to her brother Thomas H. Dunckley, a Centralia newspaper publisher.

"There is a rumor that Russians have landed in the north of Scotland," Miss Dunckley wrote, "and trains loaded with troops have been seen at stations in England at night. When we first heard of it, we could hardly believe it and since then it has been denied in the Guardian (a Manchester newspaper) but it is true nevertheless.

"A friend in Washington said he was 15 hours coming from Newcastle to Manchester and had to wait at Guide Bridge at 3 a. m. for two hours, during which time he counted 37 trains going by. They were full of strong, dark bodied men. No newspaper statement is believed in the face of all this."

RAINS WILL HURT HOP CROP BUT LITTLE

That the rains of the last two days will spoil few hops is the opinion expressed today by most of the hop men of the city. Frank Durbin, a well known hopman, said he estimated that over 90 per cent of the Marion county hops were already taken care of, and to yards not already finished there remained but a few days' picking, and only in one or two instances would it take a week to finish.

Though the rains have been heavy for the last two days it is not believed that any of the hops have yet begun to mold and the most serious inconvenience is far the pickers. A hop yard tent is well known to have the property of springing a leak in a most unexpected place, and the long dry spell made the people careless in the matter of fixing up waterproof shelters.

The expectation is that the hops of Marion county and in this district will be of good quality. Few samples have been shown so far, but in all cases where examined they are of good quality and heavy.

WELVE ARE DEAD ELEVEN SURVIVE

Survivors of Exploring Expedition in Ship Karluk Reach Nome—Eight Missing Supposed to be Dead.

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 15.—That 12 members of the Stefansson exploring ship Karluk's crew were either dead or missing was the declaration here today of the 11 survivors, rescued from Wrangell Island, and who were brought to this port yesterday on the United States revenue cutter Rear. Of those who made their way to the island, the survivors said, George S. Mallock, zoologist, of Hamilton, Ont., and Bjorne Mamen, assistant photographer and geologist of Christiansia, Norway, died of scurvy and George Bretty, a fireman, was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun. All three were buried on the island.

Eight members of the expedition who left the wreck of the Karluk for F. Mackay, James Murray, Beachate and Thomas Morris. The list of dead and missing brought up to 12 by the arrival of John Brody, Seaman H. King, Alister

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy.

Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of

John A. Jeffreys, Candidate for Attorney General, Forced to Cancel Salem Engagements—Will Come Later.

WAS CALLED AWAY BY THE COOPER TRIAL

Editor Capital Journal: "Will you please express through your paper my regret at not being able to meet the people of Salem on my scheduled date, September 15, 1914. Have been suddenly called to this place to try the Cooper murder case. Shall be in Salem later at a date to be announced. Am making a thorough campaign of Oregon for the office of attorney general on the theory that the laws of the state should be impartially enforced through the legal and constitutional channels only. I believe that progress can come only through toil, education and triumph over obstacles—in short through growth—evolution. I believe that what we need to bring this about is the protection of the liberty of each citizen—the guarantee of his rights by the law and the law enforcing machinery of the state.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN A. JEFFREY.
