RAILROAD COMPANY WANTS TAX HELD UP

Petition to the county court was filed this morning from the South-Pacific railroad company relative to the taxes on the lands of the Oregon Harma railroad land grant. The tax for the company for the year 1914 was $78,777. The railroad company asks the county court to instruct the assessor to omit their lands from the tax roll for this year pending the appeal of their suit for return of the lands to the United States supreme court. The company claims the court for a special rate of 6 per cent interest on their delinquent taxes in case the U. S. supreme court decides that the lands belong to the railroad company instead of the government.

The regular penalty is 15 per cent for delinquent taxes, according to the law. The lands involved will not be declared delinquent or sold for taxes until March 1, 1915, or six months after September 1. At that time they will be sold for taxes unless the sheriff is enjoined from such procedure pending the issue of the case.

THE WAR TAX BILL.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Representative Oscar Underwood, chairman of the house ways and means committee, will introduce the war tax bill in the house either this afternoon or tomorrow. Bit-ter republican opposition to the measure was expected.

LABOR LEADERS SING "GOD SAVE THE KING"

House Rule Bill and Others Signed—Parliament Then Adjourned

London, Sept. 18.—A decree proroguing parliament was published today.

It was also announced that the king had signed the bills granting home rule to Ireland and disestablishing the Church of England in Wales, but that, at the same time, he had signed another act suspending both Irish home rule and Welsh disestablishment while the war lasted.

Having received this information, parliament adjourned in accordance with the prorogation decree.

Unprecedented scenes marked the last few moments before adjournment.

Will Crooks, of the labor delegation in parliament, which has always been looked on as bitterly anti-royalist, led in singing "God Save the King," and asked for three cheers for his majesty.

The king's prorogation speech, which was read, as usual, not by the king himself but by a royal commissioner, said: "After my government had exhausted every effort to maintain the peace of Europe, I was compelled by my treaty obligations and the interests of the empire to go to war.

"My army and navy, with unceasing vigilance, courage and skill, are sustaining with our gallant allies a just and righteous cause."

The speech expressed full confidence in a successful conclusion of the conflict.

THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS

Harold Bell Wright, the most popular American novelist, with the assistance of Elsbury W. Reynolds, has dramatized his most widely read novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills." The second local presentation of this dramatic work will take place at the Grand opera house on Wednesday, September 23rd. It is a heart-stirring and a wholesome story and one that breathes the simple life of the mountains and the pasture, but yet sets forth human passions, ambitious endeavors, failures and successes. A story that should be even greater as a drama than as a novel.

POSTOFFICE SAFE AT AIRLIE IS LOOTED

Dallas, Ore., Sept. 18.—The safe in the postoffice and general store of C. V. Johnson at Airlie was blown by robbers early yesterday morning and nearly $600 in cash and stamps secured. Johnson was sleeping in the building, but was not awakened by the explosion. Sheriff Grant trailed the robbers to the vicinity of Saver, where all trace of them was lost.

UNIVERSITY TO HAVE DAY AT SALEM STATE FAIR

(Eugene Daily Register.) Thursday, October 1, will be University of Oregon day at the state fair at Salem. Special features will be given at all times during the day by the University exhibit committee. In the forenoon 10,000 copies of the Oregon Emerald containing news printed especially for those who attend the fair will be distributed and different professors will give lectures in the auditorium. Moving pictures and slides of the different activities and phases of University life will be shown in the auditorium during the afternoon. These views will be explained to the people as they pass on the screen. A special musical program will be rendered in the evening by the University glee club.

A band of trained school children from The Dalles will give an exhibition on Tuesday, September 29, the first day of the fair. The deaf mute school of Salem will give an entertainment in the auditorium on Wednesday evening. The entertainment on Friday and Saturday evenings will be in charge of the Oregon agricultural college and the state normal schools respectively.

One of the big features of the University of Oregon exhibit at the fair will be 18 enlarged Kiser photographs of different buildings and groups on the campus. These pictures are 14x20 inches in size and are beautifully colored. These views are one of the treasures of the University.

Charts, maps and literature of the extension department will be displayed to show the people of Oregon just how the University is aiding those who get educational training through the University off the campus.

Each day lectures of vital interest to the people of the state will be given by professors. Among those who will speak are Dr. James H. Gilbest on "The Issues Before the People of Oregon at Our Next Election."

Dr. George Rebec will give his views of the present war in Europe. Professor A. R. Sweet will give a good water exhibit and will show how the University aids different cities of the state in obtaining pure water supplies. Dr. Clifton C. Hodge will lecture on different methods of conducting fly campaigns and the riding cities of these pests. He will also give demonstrations of the methods that should be used.

MAY ASK JAPAN TO CLEAR THE PACIFIC

Shanghai, Sept. 18.—Reports that the German cruiser Emden had sunk five British steamships off the coast of India and that the kaiser's naval force in the Pacific was making the Marshall Islands its base were regarded here today as promising serious fighting in eastern waters of such a situation to shipping was considered such that it was believed Great Britain would be compelled to act at once and if the British had not the fighting craft available to deal with the Germans, it was expected they would ask the Japanese to undertake the task for them.
It was said the crews and passengers of the ships reported sunk off India were saved. At the Marshall Islands base the Germans were understood to have five cruisers.

CLAIM AUSTRIAN LOSS IS ENORMOUS

Russians Say Austrians Put Up Desperate Fight But Are Badly Beaten

Petrograd, Sept. 18.—Disregarding Vienna's claims that the Austrians were holding their own along the San river line, Russian official accounts insisted today that the enemy were in retreat after suffering enormous losses.

In attempting to cover this retreat it was asserted the sixth and 14th Austrian corps were still more heavily damaged Thursday, General Rouszky reporting the capture of 3000 more prisoners, 53 guns and quantities of ammunition.

The Novo Vremya announced that General Siegler of the Austrian forces was badly wounded in an all-day fight at Krasieryn.

The Austrians were credited with having put up a desperate resistance here, but after silencing their artillery, it was said the Russians took the position at the point of the bayonet, leaving down its defenders by overwhelming superiority in numbers.

The leader of the czar's troops ordered all honors paid to the defeated Austrian commander.

EXODUS OF PICKERS FROM VALLEY YARDS

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Quincy, Ore., Sept. 17.—All country roads are traveled by moving vans laden with hop-pickers leaving the yards. Most of the yards have completed work, and those that have not are working under difficulties, as the hops when wet are unfit to place in the dryer and the soft ground makes it impossible to haul the sacks out of the fields. In ordinary years there would be few pickers willing to submit to the hardships of gathering hops in the rain, but this year the vast army of hungry, jobless people made the supply so great that many begged for an opportunity to pick even the fraction of a day that prevailed in some yards, and many are asking the privilege of spending the winter in the open hop shacks because they can find no other shelter.

Among the picturesque features of the hop-picking season was the band of Warm Springs Indians who came in all their gay colors of the reservation and brought all their belongings, even to their horses, about forty in number. The men did little work, riding about on their ponies and permitting the squaws to perform the real labor.

The recent rains have enabled the farmers to thresh out their clover seed that had been lying in windrows and which had become so attracted by honey dew that it would not go through the clover huller. It is not known if the much-talked-of "midge" pest especially flourished on account of the honey dew, but the crop was no doubt cut short on this account as well as by the drought.

Herbert Hahn was taken very ill Wednesday shortly after eating an apple from which the skin had not been removed, and it was believed to have been caused by the acid of spray adhering to it, as the rain had been insufficient to cleanse it. Several orchardists have sold no fruit, awaiting rain to wash the apples, but all have been urged to peel the fruit carefully, even if showing no indications of the spray, as the present spray mixtures are deadly.

The marriage of Eva Blanche Horn den to Mr. Whitney in Salem was of much interest to friends here where the young lady lived when a child, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hernden.

Samuel Hutchinson, who passed away at the state hospital Tuesday, was well known here, having owned a large farm of river bottom land.

Miss Elizabeth Denny, of Hayesville, was an over-Sunday visitor at the G. S. McMann home. Miss Denny is an O. A. C. graduate and taught at Mill City last winter. Her sister, Miss Anna Denny, will teach at that place this year, and another sister, Miss Martha Denny, will teach near Woodburn, while the Manning school near Gervais, taught last winter by Miss Martha Denny, will be in charge of Miss Theodosia Teel, also of Hayesville.

Mrs. W. E. Barnes and daughter, of Oak Point, Wash., have returned home after visiting old friends in the vicinity of Salem, where they resided for several years.

TREASURER'S OFFICE MAKES GOOD SHOWING

State Treasurer Thomas B. Kay will turn the sum of $4100 back into the general fund of the state at the end of the biennial period of his office. This sum has been unused for the biennial appropriation made for the maintenance of the office $14,000 was allowed for clerical hire and $1800 of this will be turned back. Of the $500 allowed for traveling expenses will be unused, and $2000 will revert to the state from the $5430 allowed for incidental expenses. Mr. Kay says that despite the saving in the management of his office the work of the department has increased 30 per cent in the biennial period due to the growth of the state's business.

JOSEPH LYTLE CUSTER.

Joseph Lytle Custer was born in Jefferson county, Ohio, February 8, 1850, and died at the home of his niece, Mrs. B. A. Richmond, 1430 North Fourth street, Salem, Oregon, September 14, 1914, aged 64 years 7 months and 6 days.

He was the oldest of a family of nine children, seven of whom are still living, one brother, Norton, having died recently.

In 1872 he was married to Miss Sarah J. Carter, and to this union were born five children, three of whom died in
