PROPOSED CHARTER WAS UP ONCE MORE

Committee Appointed to Draft Ordinance Submitting It to Vote, Instead Criticized It—Comes Up Wednesday Night.

When the committee appointed at the last regular meeting of the city council, two weeks ago, to draft an ordinance submitting the proposed charter to the people for approval or disapproval at the coming city election brought in a report criticizing the measure pointing out the flaws and stating it as their belief that the measure should not be submitted to the people, Mayor Steeves threw the report out on the ground that the committee had no business to bring in such a report, but that its work was merely to draft an ordinance. The report was signed by Councilmen Spaulding and Macy and City Attorney Page. Councilman Constable refused to sign the report.

Councilman Constable stated that the committee was appointed with definite instructions to draw up an ordinance and had nothing to do with a discussion of the merits or demerits of the measure. Councilman Cummings also voiced the opinion that this committee had nothing to do with a discussion of the legality of the proposed charter or its appropriateness for submission. Mayor Steeves then ruled it out of order.

Councilman Macy was on his feet to defend his action and stated the position he took in criticizing the measure. He said he took the matter seriously as he wanted to see an honest, genuine charter submitted instead of a hodgepodge of a measure. He stated he would not submit such an imperfect charter to the people. He admitted he might be thought presumptuous in criticizing the work of the committee, but he was surprised that the men who drafted the charter did not take their work seriously. He stated that many of them did not know what was in it.

In pointing out some of the discrepancies, he says he found it provided for two mayors, one elected directly and the other chosen as the commissioner who received the highest number of votes for the short term. He said there were several other corrections concerning the licensing of street railways, power and light plants, etc., that ought to be made.

It was pointed out to Councilman Macy, who stated that he was a friend to the commission form of government and wanted to see such a measure go through, that discussion at this time was premature, as the time for questioning was after the ordinance submitting the measure was to be voted upon. Mayor Steeves said the committee failed to do its duty, and Councilman Constable moved that the work of drafting be referred back to the same committee with instructions to bring in the ordinance at a special meeting Wednesday night. After Councilman Cummings said the measure could be discussed after the ordinance was before them and that the proper way to do business was to meet things as they come and not to forestall, the council passed the motion.

MISS PEARL ZINN STILL LEADS RACE

Miss Jean McInturff Jumps to Second Place By Big Vote

The Journal Panama exposition contest grows more exciting each day. Miss Pearl Zinn continues in the lead, having added over 5000 votes to her credit since the votes were counted last Friday. By a split of 13,138 votes, Miss Jean McInturff has jumped from third place to second, while Miss Ruta Fugate has come up from fifth place to fourth. Many other candidates have received substantial additions to the number of their ballots and the race is now on in earnest. The prospect of pleasure and education which the winner of the contest will receive at the hands of The Journal is proving a constant spur to their energies and the lucky one will have no easy task.

The trip to the great exposition with its wealth of world-wide wonders, will be the event of a lifetime for the fortunate winner, and the Capital Journal guarantees that no expense will be spared in making it a pleasant one. First class railroad fare, the best of hotel accommodations, and facilities for seeing the great fair at its best will be provided free of all charge by this paper. It will be a prize well worth working for.

The plan adopted by this paper for giving the trip does not require the contestant to sell anything. The only thing necessary to secure votes being to patronize some of Salem's most popular stores. The advertisements of these firms is run in each Friday's Capital Journal. These firms have agreed to give a sales check or receipt to every purchaser for cash or for monthly bills paid until January 1, 1915. The sales checks or receipts from these firms may be exchanged for votes at this office—one vote for every 5 cents of your purchase.

BATTLESHIP BUILT OF OREGON PRODUCTS

Secretary Moores of the Salem commercial club has received a blue print of the plans and specifications for the battleship Oregon that will be constructed at the Manufacturers and Land Products show at Portland out of Marion county dried fruits. The blueprint shows that the hull will be made of hops, the turrets of walnuts, the guns of prunes, the masts of wheat and oak heads, the funnels of apples and apricots, the boats of pears, the davits of blackberries, the fighting top of corn stalks, the ventilators of loganberries and the cabins of corn.

There will be 510 square feet of fruit displayed in this manner, which is in addition to the regular booth the county will have. Secretary Moores is anxious to get in touch with any person who will donate walnuts for the turrets, as there is a scarcity of that nut. The list of those contributing material for the construction of the battleship will be made public by the show management. Those who have agreed to furnish dried fruits are: Hops, Catlin and Ginn and T. A. Ivesley Co.; corn, Luther J. Chapin; dried apples, Salem Fruit Union; prunes, Salem Fruit Union and H. S. Gite & Co.; wheat heads from the exhibits at the state fair; logan and blackberries, the Salem Fruit Union; walnuts, not yet arranged for.

STATE FAIR NOTES

Fair Grounds, Sept. 22.—Geo. Hoeve and wife and son Emerson arrived yesterday for the fifty-second time and pitched tent at their old location on the main walk. They brought with them two new campers.

Superintendent of the Horticultural and Agricultural Departments O. E. Freytag, of Oregon City, arrived yesterday and is arranging things in the pavilion. Mr. Freytag will go into camp at No. 26 booth.

Wm. A. Taylor, of Macleay, pitched tent yesterday. He has charge of the Marion county exhibit.

Thomas Jefferson Bence, an old-time Marion county boy and a one-time marshal of the fair grounds, arrived from Portland yesterday and pitched tent at 25 booth.

G. W. Stubblebine, superintendent of the manufacturers' exhibit, came in from Portland yesterday and is looking after the big exhibits of Oregon-made goods. At the camp headquarters he had a pleasant meeting with Comrade B. E. Lewis, of West Salem. Both were in New York companies during the Philippine war and were together at Tampa, Florida, for the last time, and had not met since then. Neither had met a New York comrade in fifteen years.

B. E. Edwards, the Phil Armour of the fair grounds, opened up this morning.

CHANGES IN HIGH SCHOOL.

The board of education last night appointed W. B. Young, of Dallas, to the corps of high school teachers, to take the place of Miss Theodosia Bonnet, resigned. Mr. Young has been the principal of the high school at the Dalles for seven years and will now teach in the science department of the Salem High.

As assistant in the language department Miss Ruby C. Ramey was offered the work of teaching German and Latin. An extra teacher was needed in this department to keep up with the growth of desire among pupils to learn the languages.

THE BATTLE TODAY IS ANOTHER DRAW

Paris, Sept. 22.—Greater activity was observable Monday at certain points on the German line than at any time since the battle of the Aisne began, the Bordeaux war office announced in a bulletin received here at 3 p. m.

It was most marked, said the official report, between Rheims and Souain and on the Meuse Heights in the Woivre district.

The Germans nowhere, however, it was stated, penetrated the allies' lines and it was declared that conditions were still favorable from the latter's standpoint.

"On our left," said the statement, "the enemy has given ground on the right bank of the Oise."

"Between the Oise and the Aisne the situation is practically unchanged, the Germans apparently contenting themselves with a long-range bombardment."

"At the center, between Rheims and Souain, they have attempted the offensive and have been repulsed."

"Between Souain and the region of the Argonne forest we have made some progress but between the Argonne and the Meuse there has been no change."
