THREE KILLED ONE PERHAPS FATALLY HURT

Portland, Ore., Sept. 29.—Street railway carmen insisted this morning that it was because of the speeding of the automobile that crashed into their car on Williams avenue near Wasco street last night that W. E. Hendricks, George Cook and W. E. Thurston lost their lives and three other occupants of the machine were injured.

crash. The chauffeur, so far unidentified, was unhurt, and could not be found after the accident. Some witnesses say nine men were in the auto, others putting the number at seven. W. E. Thurston and George Cook were not killed outright, dying in the hospital, and Frank Hamrick is probably fatally injured; M. J. Burke and Everett Dixon, slightly.

SALEM BANKS NOT HOARDING MONEY

Report Shows An Increase of Losses in Past Month and Shrinkage of Deposits

The statement of the Salem banks shows that Secretary McAdoo's charge that the banks are hoarding up money in anticipation of a money stringency is unfounded in this city, at any rate, as the loans and investments of the four Salem banks have been increased $204,852.81 since the last call was issued, June 30 and the deposits for the same time show a shrinkage of $101,837.07.

The resources of the Salem Banks consisting of loans and discounts, overdrafts, bonds and warrants and stocks and other securities, on September 12 amounted to $3,695,732.18. The further resources consisting of notes due from other banks and bankers due from reserve banks, checks and other cash items, exchanges for clearing house and cash on hand amounted to $1,342,626.09.

The individual statements of the Salem Banks follow: Capital National Bank. Resources—Loans and discounts $438,322.08 U. S. bonds 102,080.00 Other bonds and securities 291,608.99

United States National Bank. Resources—Loans and discounts $579,123.91 United States bonds 31,000.00 Other bonds and securities 432,890.91

Wendetta. Resources—Bills receivable $1,803,648.37 Banking house 75,000.50 Due from banks and cash 492,419.43

Department No. 2 of the circuit court presided over by Judge Galloway will be in session only in the forenoon this week. In Judge Percy B. Kelly's department number 1 the judge will hold court October 2 and 3 to hear motions, demurrers and to set cases for trial in the October term of court.

Go to Dr. Stone's for trusses.

Up to yesterday there were 17 auto cabs licensed to carry passengers for hire in the city of Salem, and today there are 39. The additional 22 licenses were issued yesterday after the police officers got busy among the automobile owners and required all who wished to operate here to pay the fee. It is expected by Chief Shedeck that the number will be nearly 50 before the week is over.

Bring your agates home to have them polished and mounted. Gardner & Keene, 388 State street.

Officers have been elected by the new council of the Knights and Ladies of Security, organized here last Thursday. They are: Adolph Engelhart, president; Mrs. Emma Barnes, vice-president; John F. Schneider, second vice-president; Mrs. Rose Hagerstrom, prelate; William E. Gilson, financier; Charles P. Barnes, correspondent; Mrs. Helen Miller, conductor; Moss T. Irving, guard; Walter G. Moorehouse, sentinel; Dr. Fred H. Thompson and Dr. O. B. Miles, examining physicians; and Herbert Miller, Mrs. Agnes Gilson and John F. Schneider, trustees.

C. L. Sperling & Son have moved their grocery to larger and better quarters at 247 North Commercial street, where they will continue the same high class service that has made their store so popular.

Special Officer Hathorn has been stationed by Chief Shedeck at the intersection of State and Commercial streets as traffic officer during the week. Although motor vehicles may turn about in the middle of a block, when they go to an intersection they must go beyond the center and turn. On account of the two special officers not showing up for work yesterday.

THINK PEACE IS IN SIGHT IN MEXICO

Split Between Villa and Carranza Will Be Healed, the Latter Retiring

Washington, Sept. 29.—Officials of the constitutionalist junta here were convinced today that the split between Provisional President Carranza and General Francisco Villa will be healed within the next 48 hours. It was understood they had received information which indicated that Carranza would retire as first chief of the constitutionalist army and would not run for president.

There will be no war in Mexico, it was stated at the junta. "We have received reports that the peace conference scheduled to start October 1 will be postponed until Villa and Carranza can adjust all differences through peace representatives."

General Zapata's protest against General Finston turning Vera Cruz over to President Carranza was believed by Washington officials to complicate the situation. Zapata's warlike declarations, it was said, were causing considerable apprehension.

Orders for the withdrawal from Mexican waters of the battleships Arkansas, Delaware and North Dakota, it was said, were prepared last night and only waited the signature of Secretary of the Navy Daniels to become effective.

WILL CLOSE SMOKE SHOPS ON SUNDAY

Eugene, Ore., Sept. 29.—Next Sunday, if the order of County Attorney Devers is carried out, every cigar and confectionery store here will be closed. The county attorney announced Saturday that the state law which requires this class of business to close on Sunday would hereafter be enforced, but later in the day modified his order so that it would go into effect near State Park instead of yesterday, as the confectioners had stocks of ice cream on hand for the Sunday trade that would spoil were they compelled to close. The retailers say they will fight this order in the courts.
