FIGHTING FIERCEST ON RIGHT

Contest Is Prolonged By Assembling Strong Forces of German Cavalry

THE FRENCH ADVANCE CANNOT BE CHECKED

Fighting Is Violent But Neither Side Has Made Any Real Gains

Paris, Oct. 7.—Continued violent fighting between the two armies of France and Germany was reported here today. The Germans, it was said, were still pushing their enveloping lines on a broad front, thereby extending the vicinity of Lens and Lassigny. The war office was of the opinion that the struggle continued as a strong force of German cavalry entered the line and that the French were responding with strong forces.

In the rear, it was said that there were several points of light. It was not possible to quote the statement's text. The battle conditions were expected to improve. The enveloping fronts extended into the region from Lens to Laon to the region from Lens to Lassigny. Fighting was being prolonged by musketry in the province of the western border.
