

BAD OPERATION AVOIDED

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Sowers' Own Statement.
Hodgdon, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

CITY NEWS

Hear E. A. Booth at the Grand Theatre tonight. Everybody invited.

Go to Dr. Stone's for trusses.

Eleven hundred prospective newcomers will receive letters from the Salem Commercial club within a few days, telling them of the country in Salem's vicinity. The names were secured during the state fair by the local Iowa, Indiana and Wisconsin clubs of this city. These clubs are made up of former residents of these states, and they are advising their former friends and neighbors to investigate this section of the state.

Holding that a deputy game or fish warden is merely acting as bailee for hire as to property seized and in his custody for violations of the fish and game laws of the state and is only liable for such damage as may happen to it while in his custody due to carelessness and that if he exercised due care and is not responsible for the accident which resulted in the damage to seized property, the attorney general is of the opinion that the owner of the property cannot recover from the state. This opinion was given upon the request of the Fish and Game commission and had direct bearing upon the case of a seizure of a fishing boat at Astoria, in which case, while the seized boat was moored at the wharf it was smashed by a larger boat. The owner attempted to collect damages from the state for injury to his boat, but under the opinion given by the attorney general his claim will not be allowed.

On the grounds that the army was government property and could not be used for the purpose of attaching any particular religious body, Mary Lane, who claims to be a nun escaped from the Mt. Angel convent, was refused permission to give a lecture in the building last night. The meeting adjourned to the public market. Captain Gehlbach said that while he was a Protestant, he did not believe that as a custodian of a public building to be justified in renting the structure for the revivification of any church or religious organization. Mary Lane claims to be the nun from whom J. E. Hesmer, the Silverton editor, secured his material, the publication of which resulted in his conviction on a libel charge, and he is now serving his sentence in the county jail.

REPUBLICANS MET AT COURT HOUSE

Last night's political meeting in the circuit court room of the court house, which was presided over by Seymour Jones, drew forth a good audience, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, and some little enthusiasm was aroused by the speakers upon the political issues of the day. Mayor Steeves opened the ball with a brief talk upon the principles of the Republican party and its successes of the past and he was followed by the principal speaker of the evening, Ronald Glover, private secretary to Congressman Hawley.

Mr. Glover reviewed the legislative action of Congress the past few years and particularly that in which Mr. Hawley was instrumental and scored the present administration of government affairs for what is termed the "watchful waiting" policy. In conclusion he predicted the largest republican majorities in the history of the country this year. Addresses were also made by A. M. La Follette and C. P. Bishop, candidates for the state senate upon the republican ticket from this county, and also Thomas Brown, of the law firm of Carson & Brown, a candidate for the house of representatives from this county on the republican ticket.

Tonight R. A. Booth, republican candidate for United States senator, will address crowds upon the streets and at the opera house upon the principal issues of the campaign and in the interest of his candidacy. The street speaking will take place at 7:30 this evening and the address at the opera house will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mike Toohy, an alcoholic patient, while out on parole, ran away from the insane asylum yesterday and the asylum authorities have as yet been unable to locate him. He was committed from Portland, is about 45 years of age, slender, 5 feet 8 inches tall and smooth shaven. He is considered harmless but imagines somebody is after him to do him injury and may develop suicidal tendencies.

Miss Lela Slater, daughter of Judge and Mrs. William Slater, who leaves today for Portland to take advanced piano for Portland will be greatly missed in musical circles here. Miss Slater for a number of years has been a pupil of Miss Beatrice Shelton and been presented by her on numerous recitals and musical programs. She is a very talented young girl and will probably specialize in work of her chosen instrument. Her rendition of the classics is particularly admirable, due largely to her musical originality, understanding and interpretative ability.

Miss Slater's progress has not been all due to natural talent, however, as she has been a very diligent and arduous student, confining her piano work throughout her grammar and high school years, from which latter institution she was graduated a few years ago.

Mrs. Julia Bross Pannell has resumed her vocal instruction classes, holding her studio in the Congregational church parlors.

State Engineer John H. Lewis and Charles A. Park, local member of the Oregon Hydro-Electric Power commission, went to Portland this morning to attend the annual meeting of that body, which convenes today at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. H. B. Miller is chairman of the commission.

The 25 fire hydrants ordered some time ago by the city council will soon be installed, according to the fire and water committee. The last shipment of the hydrants arrived today and the work of installation will begin at once.

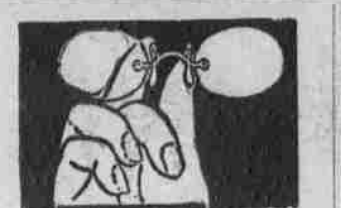

The Union Stock Yards of Portland is sending out invitations to stockmen to attend the Fourth Annual Pacific Livestock exposition to be held in Portland from December 7 to December 12 of this year. This stock show is widely known among stockmen as the finest show of pure-bred livestock of the Pacific Northwest. The best stock from all the fairs and stock shows are sent to this exposition.

The largest run on apples in the history of the Salem Canning Company on Twelfth street was made yesterday, the output of gallon cans being 461 cases. About two hundred men and women are at present employed to handle the apple crop, and will remain until the entire contract has been handled, which will probably be near the holidays.

Watt Shin, of the West Ship Powder company, of Salem, arrived in Eugene yesterday afternoon by machine on an advertising trip. He is accompanied by H. P. Brunk and Robert Portlock. They will spend three days in this vicinity and if the weather permits, will go from here to Roseburg, otherwise they will return home.—Eugene Register.

William Cockeril and A. M. Hayden of Salem, passed through Eugene yesterday forenoon in an automobile with the carcasses of five large deer which they had killed in the mountains near Drew, in Douglas county. They say the roads were pretty muddy on the way back. Their auto containing the deer stood on the street for half an hour and attracted a great deal of attention.—Eugene Register.

A small boy owes his life today to the fact that he bonused instead of breaking when hit by an auto. At about 2 o'clock a Ford was being driven down State street near the O. E. depot at a good rate of speed when the boy stepped in front of it. He was struck by the head-light and the fender and rolled in front of the machine. The driver stopped the machine directly over the boy which bystanders thought, must be killed. The boy rolled over and crawled out on his hands and knees.

"Let me out o' here," he said when his head appeared under the fender. He wiped a bloody nose on his coat sleeve and sped on down the street and so did the driver of the Ford.

HOPS AT BEDROCK BUT MANY SALES

The hop market in Salem has been active in the last few days and a number of large lots have been sold by growers. The price hangs about 10 cents for choice lots and the poorer grades have gone as low as 5 cents per pound. One lot of 116 bales of mediums went for 5 cents per pound yesterday.

Among the sales noted are: Grimm & Seaman 173 bales, Harmon Bros. 106 bales, B. Towne 45 bales, Moe 29 bales, Tom Holman 309 bales, C. Giese 138 bales, William Jackson 59 bales, Hartley & Craig 300 bales, Gilbert & Patterson 520 bales, John Norwood 95 bales, Ray Michaels 82 bales, Herbert Fawc 90 bales, Myers Bros. 125 bales, A. O. Brown 120 bales, Gong 220 bales. The largest sale reported was that of Nathan Sohn who sold 700 bales at 8 1/2 cents per pound.

ANDERSON SENT UP FOR TWENTY YEARS

Andrew J. Anderson, who was convicted of a statutory charge against his 13-year-old daughter, was sentenced this morning by Judge Percy R. Kelly to serve 20 years in the penitentiary. When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, Anderson replied that he had not, only that he was not guilty, or if he was he did not recollect it. The judge stated that the guilt had been passed upon by the jury and imposed the sentence which Anderson will begin as soon as the commitment papers are made out.

EACH RECOGNIZED IT BY ITS BREATH

The trial of Myrtle Gillis, charged with selling liquor in dry territory, was held in police court yesterday afternoon. After hearing the testimony the matter was taken under advisement by Judge Elgin. Lance Mummy, the main witness for the prosecution, testified that he purchased the liquor from the woman. Another roamer at the house, however, testified that the liquor was stolen from his room and that he saw a man coming out of his room but could not identify him as Mummy. He testified that he purchased his liquor in Portland.

"Exhibit A" was a pint flask nearly full and labeled and corked. When asked if this was the flask he purchased in Portland the witness said that it was. He said he purchased others at the time and when Attorney Page asked to see one the witness pulled another pint flask of the same brand from his hip pocket. Attorney Page pulled the cork and smelled the contents.

"It's whiskey," said the attorney. Judge Elgin sniffed.

"It's whiskey," said the judge. The bottle was returned to the hip pocket of the exhibitor.

DETECTIVE TO PEN PRISONER TO GO FREE

Evidently having decided, from the evidence and circumstances in the case as submitted by the executive department of Oregon, that the whole thing was a frame-up and that the charges of embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses were merely trumped up as a means of intimidation and extortion to be used against his victim, the governor of New York notified Governor West this morning by wire that the petition for the extradition of O. M. Jackson, who is held by the officers of Josephine county pending a decision in the extradition proceeding, had been withdrawn. Under these circumstances Jackson will probably be given his freedom. Ernest Donnison, one of the detectives who came out from New York after Jackson and beat him up in an attempt to extort money from him, was convicted of extortion in Grants Pass yesterday and sentenced to from one to six years in the penitentiary.

BUSINESS MAN IS SUSPECTED OF MURDER

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 17.—Further than stating that a well-known business man is under surveillance and may be arrested at any time and charged with murdering Mrs. Carrie Klogg Langdon, the district attorney's office here refused today to make further comment on the case. Mrs. Langdon died several weeks ago after taking a dose of bromo-seltzer. Her body was exhumed for examination.

The district attorney's operatives are trying to learn where the strychnine was purchased that they believed ended Mrs. Langdon's life. An analysis of her stomach lining disclosed strychnine traces. Tel. officers say this step probably will complete their evidence.

Harry Legan, or John Locke, the Oregon Electric motorman arrested in Eugene on the charge of having two wives, one in Portland and the other in Eugene, was bound over at the latter place yesterday, in the sum of $1500, which he was unable to furnish, and is still in jail. It seems that he recently obtained a divorce from his first wife at Oregon City, although he still lives with her in Portland. Then he married Nellie Gilmore at Salem, and lived with her in Eugene. His Portland wife caused his arrest.
