JOHN SCHULTZ FOUND BY TRACK BADLY HURT

Having evidently attempted to board a fast freight and been thrown to the ground after being struck on the head by some portion of one of the cars, a young man, since identified as John Schultz, was found on the Southern Pacific right-of-way about a mile and a half above Woodburn this morning in an unconscious condition.

He was taken to Woodburn, where medical aid was summoned, and upon investigation his skull was found to be severely crushed and several portions of his body badly bruised. He was brought to Salem on the 1 o'clock electric and taken to the Salem hospital, where necessary operations were performed this afternoon.

He regained consciousness for a short time this morning and stated that his name was John Schultz and that he was raised on a ranch in southern Oregon and was 18 years old. Further investigation as to his identity and the whereabouts of his relatives is being made.

Blood will tell—and so will a black eye.

SAY COAST CLUBS ALL LOST HEAVILY

Carpentier Is Wounded, Welsh Barely Holds Title—Baseball Gossip

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—Practical admission that the clubs of the Pacific Coast league lost heavily during the season just closed came here today with the announcement that the directors had decided upon a number of re-arrangements for next year.

One of the first things the magnates did at yesterday's meeting was to reduce the player limit from 29 men to 18, to be in force from May 1 to August 21. A further saving was provided when the salary limit was reduced from $6000 to $5000, and the single umpire system adopted. The reduction in the salary limit alone means a saving of $42,000 to the league, while the single umpire system will save the salaries of three men, amounting to $6000, exclusive of traveling expenses, which foot up to a couple of thousand more.

The 1915 season, it was announced, will begin March 23 and close October 17, both dates being one week earlier than the present schedule.

Sacramento Out Of It.

Seattle, Salt Lake, San Jose and Sacramento, it was announced, are in the field to secure the forfeited franchise of the Sacramento-Mission club. A committee of three, made up of himself, J. Cal Ewing and F. W. Leavitt, was appointed by President Baum to decide where the sixth club shall be placed next year. Baum declared all applicants will be heard, and the one presenting the best proposition will be awarded the franchise.

Seattle has been anxious to break in to the Coast league for years, and the northern city seems to be preferred by the directors because they say it is the largest city and best prepared to support Class A ball.

Harry Wolverton and Lloyd Jacobs of Sacramento are disappointed at the action taken by the directors, and it was hinted that a legal battle is probable before a final decision is reached over the disposition of the Sacramento-Mission club.

Out of the trades arranged during yesterday's meeting was Pitches 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

WELSH HAS CLOSE CALL

Boston, Oct. 28.—Freddie Welsh, world's lightweight champion, holds a shade closer today over Marty Matti as a result of their 15-round bout here last night. The champion, however, was forced to expend himself to the limit, Baldwin surprising him with his slashing work.

Welsh showed best in the clinches. He used a quick left to the stomach and a right to the kidneys with good effect. Baldwin several repeatedly with solid lefts and rights to the body, and got in a number of wicked left hand smashes to Welsh's head.

CARPENTIER WOUNDED

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—That four French boxers have been killed, and that Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, was probably fatally wounded in the European war, was the information given out here today by Kid McCoy. McCoy said his wife had received a letter from Paris containing the information of the deaths and the injury to Carpentier, written by Miss Carrie King, a vaudeville actress. Carpentier, she said, was shot through the lung.

The four boxers killed, according to Miss King, were Charles Ledoux, Chuck Striber, Adrien Hagun and Max Strigler. Ledoux probably was the best known in America of the four, having boxed at Los Angeles.

SENATOR LANE AT ARMORY TONIGHT

United States Senator Harry Lane, Oregon's junior representative in the upper branch of congress, will address the people of Salem at the armory at 8 o'clock this evening upon the issues of the campaign in the interest of the success of the democratic party at the coming November election and particularly in support of Senator George E. Chamberlain for re-election. Senator Lane is due to arrive in the city some time this afternoon and prior to the speaking he will probably make his headquarters at the Marion hotel, where he will meet his friends and fellow voters. A wire this afternoon says the senator will arrive at 6:30.

class than he did last night against Willie Fitzsimmons in their 15-round bout here to convince the fans that he has any right to claim a chance at the title. While Grunman won a clear decision over the local lad, he failed to display his much advertised knockout punch, and he missed many blows with both hands. The bout was very slow, neither boy opening up until the last round. Fitzsimmons got more the worst of that session. Local fans doubt that Grunman would prove equal to a contest with such men as Frankie Burns and Joe Arcevedo.

Frankie Malone, former Olympic club champion, beat Freddie Hammen in one of the six-round preliminaries. Young Lannum was a four-round decision from Young Dempsey, and Billy Mahan stopped Frankie Scott in five rounds. Eddie Hlakee refereed the main event, and his decision in favor of Grunman was well received.

WILLAMETTE TO MEET OREGON NEXT FRIDAY

The Willamette football squad is working overtime this week preparing to do battle against the Oregon Huskies next Friday at Eugene. The team is much weaker than when it lined up against the Oregon Agricultural college and have given up all hope of being able to give the Oregon team much trouble.

Smarting over the unexpected defeat at the hands of the Willamette eleven last season the Oregon team are going to make the score the largest possible, many of them predicting a hundred to nothing work for the contest.

Owing to the fact that many of the first team were laid out in the game at Corvallis, a large number of former second string men have been advanced to the first line and are preparing to do their best against the big Oregon team. The members of the coaching staff have nothing to announce except that the team will fight for all they are worth from whistle to whistle.

HOP GROWERS

convenient central point to be attended by delegates duly selected by each of the county associations of Washington, Oregon and California.

"At the organization of the Pacific Coast Hop Growers' association so attended by these delegates, a principal piece of business shall be selected and agreed upon, and ways and means will be devised for the proper handling of the hop crop at a fair and just price, all the details of which will be worked out and settled at that time by this association, and it is understood that the principal functions of this association shall be the sale of the Pacific coast hop crop to the best advantage."

Sub-Committees Are Named.

Following the signing of the organization agreement the meeting settled down to business again and the next step in order was the appointing of committees for all of the counties represented, and this was accomplished partly by the naming of growers who were present to solicit signers of the agreement in their respective counties, while in some instances growers who were present volunteered to assume the responsibility in their counties, and, in this manner every grower in the state will be invited to sign up until the greater percentage of all the growers of the state are enlisted in the cause which will insure its success and effectiveness.

Some of the committees who will act in the work of soliciting membership are: Yamhill county—W. C. Miller and Tom Rogers, of McMinnville; and W. R. Kirkwood, of Amity; Washington county—Robert Porter of Forest Grove, and John Heister, of Galesburg; Polk county—W. W. Percival, will select his own assistants. Lane county—E. E. Morrison and George E. Knight, of Springfield; Benton county—Fred Ireland, of Corvallis; Marion county—William Roy, of Jefferson; Brooks district—M. L. Jones, Silverton district, Marian Palmer; Wasco district, W. Egan. Chairman McMahon will announce committee members for the other hop districts of Marion county later.

Method of Procedure.

After the major portion of the growers of the different counties of the Willamette valley, the southern Oregon counties and Wasco county have been signed up the county organizations will either attend the next meeting in Salem Saturday, November 7, in a body or select delegates to represent them, when a permanent organization of the Oregon growers will be effected and a set of state delegates will be chosen to represent the Oregon association at a joint meeting of like delegations from Washington and California, to be held at some central point most convenient for all, when the Pacific coast association will be formed and the central or parent body organized and incorporated. This central corporation will be composed of a board of trustees representing every hop growing section of the three Pacific coast states, and its duties will be to purchase all of the supplies for the members of the coast organization at wholesale rates, to be furnished the members at cost, and to handle the selling end of the association, which will place the growers upon an independent and solid basis of business and will effectually eliminate the destructive speculative and short-selling elements from the industry and the market absolutely.

Organization for Protection.

The keynote of all of the addresses preceding and during the work of organization was the utter helplessness of the hop grower under the present conditions, when all of the information he has at hand regarding the market is what he gets from the dealers, and he is guided almost entirely by the dictates of the dealers. The present conditions of the market, when hops are selling at less than 10 cents per pound, whereas all available statistics indicate that the prices should be much higher, and these conditions, it was asserted by the speakers, were brought about through the manipulations of the short-sellers. As a means of combatting this deplorable state of affairs, which is proving ruinous to the grower, and as was declared by Mr. McMahon, to alter the present low prices had reduced the value of the hop land of the valley more than $100 per acre already.

W. W. Percival, of Independence, and other growers who spoke at the meeting, declared that the only salvation for the grower was the forming of a permanent association through which all of the business of all of the growers could be transacted, and the growers were appealed to to stick together through thick and thin until the objects of the association were fully realized, which would be in the course of another year, and in the meantime the growers were advised to hold their hops from the market until the hops which were already sold and delivered were consumed, when a rise in the market would be swift and inevitable. "I would rather take a good price for half of my hops than a poor price for all of them," declared President Kerr, of the Washington association, who was present and addressed the meeting, which brought down the house.

Enthusiasm Ran High

As the business of the meeting progressed and the plans and anticipated results were outlined by the several speakers, the enthusiasm of the growers ran high and the speakers were frequently interrupted by spontaneous applause. Among the principal speakers were President P. E. Blalock, of the Mendocino County Hop Growers' association; President W. E. M. Beardslee, of the Sacramento valley Hop Growers' association; A. A. Markley, director of the same organization; President Hiltz Paxton, of the Sonoma County association; W. W. Percival, of Independence; President Kerr, of North Yakima, of the Washington association; L. H. McMahon, M. L. Jones, E. E. Morrison, of Springfield; W. R. Kirkwood, of Amity, and George Hewitt, vice president of the Mendocino County association, and several others.

All of the speakers, in reciting the failures of past attempts to organize the hop growers, called attention to the activity of a certain element of the dealers who used every means in their power to throw cold water upon the enterprise and break up the organization, and the growers were warned against listening to the discouraging arguments of these dealers. Heretofore they have been successful, as was pointed out in every instance, by one means or another, and it was felt most certain that they would center all of their energies and ingenuity to frustrate the present efforts to effect the organization.

Visiting Growers Thanked

Before the meeting adjourned a rising vote of thanks was extended all of the members of the California advance organization committee "for their splendid efforts in favor of the organizing and co-operation of the hop growers of the Pacific coast," and assured them of the hearty support and co-operation of the Oregon growers in bringing about a permanent organization, and a similar resolution was introduced and adopted extending thanks to President Kerr, of the Washington association, for his interest and enthusiasm and assurance of the co-operation of the Washington growers. On behalf of the California growers, Mr. Blalock and Mr. Beardslee tendered their appreciation of the spirit of friendship and good will expressed in the resolutions, and when the question of whether the growers present were in favor of organization was put and every man in the meeting arose to his feet, Mr. Beardslee took the floor, saluted and exclaimed: "Gentlemen of Oregon, California takes off her hat to you."

Hop Growers in Attendance

Among those in attendance at yesterday's meeting were:

A. R. Davidson, Derby Hill, G. N. Sloper, W. A. Patton, B. B. Fletcher, H. Pennell, J. S. Bohannon, Verd Hill, Homer Hill, A. L. Sperling, H. Salis-
