

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Few men are wise enough to tender one little word sufficient. This must be an awfully tiresome world for the man who knows it all.

By electing J. D. Hartwell city marshal you can save the city $900 a year (salary of deputy health officer), because he is familiar with the work and will make all policemen health officers as per Ordinance No. 483, Section 17. Ordinance No. 504 says all police officers are to wear uniforms while on duty.

Neat appearing men in uniform will do much to preserve the peace and dignity of our city.

A vote for J. D. Hartwell means a vote for a clean city and law enforcement.

BEST OF TIMES PREDICTED BY THE CITY'S BANKERS

Portland, Or., Oct. 31.—Portland bankers predict prosperity. They see hope in the local and national situation. Business has quickened. They praise the congress that has just ended. They place confidence in President Wilson. Foreign exchange has been restored to normal. More and more, they say, we are to present to the world the spectacle of peaceful, profitable industry.

Oregon's agricultural products command high prices abroad. Ships in abundant numbers are being found to carry cargoes. Industries are getting orders for supplies that keep many of them working night and day.

To call upon Portland bankers is to receive facts upon which to base optimism. The political calamity howler gets none of their time or attention.

"The country is in fine shape," said John C. Alzworth, president of the United States National bank. "The deposits with the banks from such towns as The Dalles and Walla Walla were never larger. There is ready sale at high prices for all our agricultural products. I am informed this morning there is no longer any doubt about obtaining all the ships necessary. There is sufficient money to move the crops."

Congress Work Wonderful. "The congress that has just closed did wonderful work. It was unquestionably the greatest congress since the civil war. The tariff was adjusted and the monetary bill passed. Business now has a clear right of way. It need no longer wait in doubt. I am a republican, and some things were done in a way opposite to my own views, but what congress has done means much to this nation."

"Our foreign relations are in good condition. Last August our imports exceeded our exports by $19,000,000. In September our exports exceeded our imports by $10,000,000. October will show a balance of $19,000,000 to $20,000,000 of exports over imports."

Business Decks Cleared for Action. "From speculation to progress," was the descriptive phrase used by E. G. Crawford, vice-president of the Lumbermen's National bank. "In the business world our decks are cleared for action," he said. "Or, to use another figure of speech, business is getting on solid ground. It must be admitted that we made progress artificially, that we made unwarranted business ventures. Our prosperity is based on two things—the production and sale of farm products and the manufacture of the raw into the finished product. Our farm products and our manufactured articles are both in demand at fine prices. That spells prosperity and warrants optimism."

"We couldn't keep prosperity away if we tried," said Wilfrid P. Jones, vice-president of the Merchants National bank. "We've got to admit that we've gone through somewhat of a sweating process, but we are going to be all the better for it. What we have to sell is being bought; demands are increasing."

War Has Good Result. "Had it not been for the war, business would have been moving steadily upward before this. President Wilson would have announced that the administration policies were established and business could go ahead. The war came and created temporary chaos. But it had an indirectly good result."

"Financial interests and President Wilson had been on strained terms. The war came in like a person who tries to settle trouble between a man and his wife. They are both apt to turn on that person. So the war made business and the administration stand together with the result that business finds it can have confidence in the president and can safely plan programs."

Factories Getting Many Orders. "I find great cause of optimism in the orders that are being received by manufacturing plants throughout the country," said Edgar H. Senechub, cashier of the Northwestern National bank. "Shoe factories, woolen mills, powder manufacturing, makers of general supplies are getting orders that cause some of them to run night and day. We are going to prosper as a nation and as individuals."

"If we had no cause of hope in any other direction, the sale of our agricultural products would afford us legitimate cause for gratification," said Edward Cookingham, vice-president of the Land & Tilton bank. "Our foodstuffs, our cotton, our flour, are wanted by foreign countries, and prices are excellent. There is money with which to move crops. The money is not theory, but fact. Oregon will prosper and so will Portland."

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only makes the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

OREGON OVERWHELMS WILLAMETTE ELEVEN

(Capital Journal Special Service)

University of Oregon, Eugene, Oct. 31.—The University of Oregon team of second string men overwhelmed the Willamette eleven on Kincaid Field this afternoon, with a 61 to 0 score, in a game featured by hard line bucking and sensational end runs. For the first time this season the regulars were given a chance to watch a game from the sidelines, Bezek playing his entire second team for the first three quarters, and only allowing Bryant and a few varsity linemen to substitute in the final period. Bryant was the only regular backfield man to get in the game.

Willamette failed to make first yardage once, while Oregon had no trouble in breaking through the line and skirting the ends at will. A feature of the game was the running back of punts by Sharpe, Oregon's quarterback, Monteith, and Hendricks, a former Salem High School player, were the stars of the Oregon backfield, Hendricks playing an especially strong defensive game. Captain Doane, Pfaff, Flegel, and Booth were the Willamette main stays, Doane intercepting numerous Oregon forward passes.

Oregon's first touchdown came when Teeters passed over Doan's head on a punt, Mitchell falling on the ball as it rolled over the goal line. Cornwall kicked the goal. The second touchdown was scored a few minutes later when Sharpe received a punt in the center of the field and wormed his way through the entire Willamette team to the line. Cornwall failed to kick the goal. In the second quarter Bigbee carried the ball over for the third score after four minutes of play. At this point Willamette took a decided brace and forced Oregon to punt. The half ended with the ball in Oregon's possession on Willamette's 40 yard line. Score, 20 to 0.

In the third quarter Oregon scored 27 to 0 in favor of Oregon, Bezek sent most of his first team line into the game, and Bryant in at fullback. The strengthened line and the carrying of the ball by Bryant resulted in five touchdowns being scored. Bryant kicked four out of the five goals attempted. All of the last scores were the results of long end runs by Bryant and Monteith.

The line up for today's game was:
Willamette Oregon
Vickrey l.e. Mitchell
Pfaff l.t. Powrie
Wilson l.g. Johnson
Teeters c. Cossman
Padgett r.g. Cawley
Bolt r.t. Callison
Booth r.e. Cornwall
Doane q. Sharpe
Doane l.b. Bigbee
Bartlett r.b. Monteith
Flegel f. Hendricks
The officials were: Referee, Varnell; Umpire, Sam Dolan; Head Umpire, Hans Flo.

SHIP HOUSES ABROAD. Chicago, Oct. 31.—The North American construction company of Bay City, Mich., has sold England 600 ready-made houses. It is stated that Portland mills will fill part of the order.

Ready-made houses have been manufactured and shipped from Portland for several years to many parts of the world, but this is said to be the first business in that line to come from England, which, in the past, has bought houses of that type from Scandinavian manufacturers. Many of the houses sold here for foreign delivery have cost as high as $1500 cash.

NOT A TRUST, OF COURSE.

(Daily Oregonian.)

The Oregonian qualifies for discussion of the present controversy between Painless Parker and the united dentists of Oregon by pointing out that it has recommended to the public that the Parker bill be defeated. More for the dentists it could not do; less it will not do. The reasons need not be recited here.

But The Oregonian will not pretend that it sympathizes wholly with the highly ethical dental fraternity in their battle with the temerarious Parker. He has required them to forget all about their high-flown ethics and rush to the advertising columns of the newspapers and to the billboards in their defense. It is an edifying spectacle.

Painless Parker makes a great point of his charge that there is a dental trust in Oregon. The dentists heatedly deny it. But there is an Oregon Dental Society, and it has a set of mighty interesting by-laws, telling its subscribing members all about ethics. One of the ethical by-laws is the following:

Section 8.—When general rules shall have been adopted by the members of the profession practicing in the same locality, in relation to fees, it is unprofessional and dishonorable to depart from these, except when variance of circumstances requires it. And it is ever to be regarded as unprofessional to warrant operations or work as an inducement to patronage.

Unprofessional and dishonorable to shade prices to anybody, rich or poor. No guarantee of first-class work given. The dentists have no trust of course. Only an organization of highly ethical professional gentlemen to hold up prices and let the people take their chances on the quality of service.
