

Getting Ready for Winter

Winter is the season of large necessities. Many things have to be provided for the home. Wardrobes have to be refurnished. Careful buying means the satisfaction that comes from good quality and fair price. The lamp to light the way to sure buying is knowledge. And the best buyers' guide to be found anywhere is the advertising in a live newspaper like The Journal. Advertisers meet in open competition. They present their cases squarely and it is for the public to choose.

LUMBER MARKET WAKES UP Portland, Or., Nov. 9.—That retail dealers in the middle west are looking for an increase in the demand for building lumber and anticipating sudden advances in prices is indicated today by the placing of "blanket" orders for lumber here. C. C. Patrick, sales manager for the Douglas Fir Sales company, which handles the output of a number of large Oregon sawmills, admitted today that his company had booked several such orders during the past few days. A "blanket" order calls for a certain quantity of lumber but does not specify any particular material, the specifications to be furnished later as the requirements of the buyers are definitely determined.

CORN SHOW TO OPEN HERE NOVEMBER 13

Railroads Give Special Rates and Splendid Exhibit Is Expected Shipments of prize ears of corn have already begun to arrive for the Corn Show to be held in this city Friday and Saturday, November 13 and 14 at the Public Market building. The railroad companies have offered the regular exhibition rates to this city for exhibits, and from all points in the county have allowed a special excursion rate for fair visitors. On Thursday the placing of the exhibits will begin and it is expected to have all of the prize winners in the 100 ear contest may prepare their exhibit by 10 o'clock. Exhibits may be sent in to either the Salem Commercial Club or to Lethy J. Chapin at his office or the Public Market. In speaking of the corn growing facilities of this county Mr. Chapin said: "It is quite generally asserted that corn cannot be profitably grown in the Willamette Valley. Proof to the contrary will remove one of the most serious objections farmers of the corn belt have in moving to this country. This and the great agricultural benefit to be derived from the introduction of corn as a staple crop on the farms of Marion County justifies the most earnest efforts of every farmer. The few farmers who are using homegrown, unselected seed are growing profitable crops every year. The loss of these crops can be greatly improved by careful methods of seed selection. The following prices are to be awarded: For the best 100 ears of field corn, any dent variety, the winners of 1st, 2d, and 3d places will be permitted to put up at auction 10 bushels of seed corn in the ear of the variety exhibited. For the 1st, 2d, and 3d best exhibits of 10 ears field corn, any dent variety, cash prizes of $2.50, $1.50, and $1.00 will be given. For the 1st, 2d, and 3d best exhibits of 10 ears field corn, any flint variety, cash prizes of $1.50, $1.00, and 50c will be given. While the judging will be based in part on confirmation of the ear, the greater percentage will be based on the feeding value of the corn. Marion county corn growers are not hoping to compete at the present time with any eastern corn show in type of ear from a show standpoint, but only to demonstrate that corn, valuable for feeding stock, can be grown here.

THE NATION'S CORN CROP

Washington, Nov. 9.—The department of agriculture's monthly crop bulletin was issued here today. It says the nation's corn crop will total 2,705,025,000 bushels. Last year's crop was 2,446,888,000 bushels. The corn yield per acre this year was 25.8 bushels, against 23 bushels last year. The average price November 1, was 69.7 cents, one cent per bushel less than the average price at the same time last year.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 9.—A premium of $3375 was offered today by Morris Brothers of Philadelphia and the Harris Trust and Savings bank, of Chicago, in bidding for the $250,000 Multnomah county bonds, issued for the purpose of raising preliminary funds for the construction of the interstate bridge between Portland and Vancouver. Although the bond issue was offered in small denominations so that the wage earners might invest, there was little response from the public at large.

IT PROVES TO BE A CASE OF SUICIDE

Twoent, Wash., Nov. 9.—Believed at first to have been a case of murder, the police announced this afternoon that the death of Sheridan Hunley, 26 years old, at his home on North Ainsworth avenue was due to self-inflicted wounds. Hunley's body with a bullet hole in the chest was found by his wife in the hall of their home early today with the front door open. Nearly in a revolver. This gave rise to the theory that he had been shot by a burglar. Later investigation, however, proved to the satisfaction of the police that Hunley, worried over financial matters, had killed himself after trying in every way to create the impression that he had been attacked from the outside.

TWELVE CARLOADS OF ARTISANS HERE

More Than a Thousand From All Parts of the Valley Guests of Local Lodge With the largest fraternal parade ever held in this city about 1000 visiting Artisans and the local lodge met in the Armory hall Saturday night to present the program of the evening and to put on some of the lodge work with Governor Elect Withycombe candidate. Mr. Withycombe is a member of the Corvallis lodge and came down on the excursion from that city. Twelve carloads of visitors from all valley points between Portland and Eugene were present and numerous auto loads were here from the various chapters in the smaller towns near this city. In all it is estimated that at least 1000 visitors were in the city. All of the visiting delegates met at the Hotel Marion where they formed in line of parade with the Salem degree team at the head and led by the Salem band, marched down Commercial street to Court where they turned and marched to the Armory. When the visitors reached the Armory the hall was already well filled with visitors and members from this city and the hall was soon packed full. Supreme Master Hudson, of Portland, rendered a short address after the preliminary exercises were over and then a short program was rendered in which the O. A. C. quartette, H. C. Epley's quartette, Margaret White, and the Artisan orchestra took part. Judge J. C. Morrow, of the Portland lodge, gave a short address and the demonstration of the obligation of the lodge was put on. After the program the hall was cleared and the floor prepared for the dance which followed. The visitors and local members mingled in the festive whirl until about midnight when the meeting was closed. The visitors expressed themselves as well pleased with their entertainment in this city and voted the Salem Artisans splendid hosts.

THE CACTUS DERBY STARTED TODAY IN HEAVY RAINSTORM

Twenty Cars in the Race. Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 9.—Twenty racing motorists roared away from Los Angeles at daybreak in the seventh annual Los Angeles-Phoenix automobile race—"the cactus derby"—under the most unfavorable weather conditions in the history of the desert classic. The pilots faced a driving rain which promised to continue all through the day and which made extremely dangerous going. In spite of the downpour, several thousand persons thronged the starting control at Eastlake Park, and the powerful lights of the cars, reflected from the soaked pavement, showed a double line of spectators on either side of the boulevard for more than a mile. The start was made without accident. Barney Oldfield, driving his second desert race, essayed too much speed at the start and skidded dangerously on the treacherous pavement. He was compelled to halt and make another start. Mechanician Caminetti of No. 21 found himself unable to crank his engine when his turn came to start, and Pilot Dubois was compelled to dismount amid the good-natured jeers of the crowd and lend the strength of his arm. The first accident. Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 9.—Thomas car No. 18, in the Los Angeles-Phoenix race, went into a ditch 3 miles east of Los Angeles when the big car skidded on the rain-soaked pavement. Pilot H. J. Pink was brought to the racing hospital here to be treated for bruises and abrasions. The car was repaired and continued in the race, driven by Mechanician Eley. At San Bernardino he took on J. Wilson to act as his mechanician. Preacher Leads in Ford. San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 9.—Ford car No. 3, the Rev. Earl Schneck pilot, led the Los Angeles-Phoenix racers into San Bernardino today. The minister's little car was pounding bravely through the rain when it shot by a cheering crowd that awaited the racers. It had the boulevard to itself, for it was several minutes before the big Chevrolet and Paige No. 1 (Benadet) which the Ford had passed, appeared in order. Simplex No. 4 (Davis) retained its starting position to San Bernardino, as did Stutz No. 5 (Oldfield). A broken axle halted Kisselcar No. 6, 2 1/2 miles north of San Bernardino at 8:30 o'clock. The car was believed to be out of the race. The other cars passed San Bernardino in the following order: 6, 10, 17, 9, 11, 7, 14, 8, 20, 10, 21, 15, 19, 18. Also No. 12 (Taylor) had not reported at the checking station at 9 o'clock. Schneck's Ford checked in at 7:03:21 a. m. His elapsed time was 1 hour 29 minutes and 29 seconds for 61 miles. Sky Minister Wrecked. San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 9.—A report was received here shortly after 9 o'clock that Ford No. 3 (Schneck) had been wrecked at Ardmore, near the entrance to the dangerous Cajon Pass. The report was unconfirmed. Barney Oldfield Leads. Barstow, Cal., Nov. 9.—Barney Oldfield, driving Stutz No. 5, led the Los Angeles-Phoenix racers through Barstow today. He was followed closely by Durant, in Chevrolet No. 2, and Davis in Simplex No. 1. Paige No. 1 (Benadet) reached Barstow in fourth place. Maxwell No. 7 (Carlson) was the fifth car to arrive. Chevrolet, the French star, in Chevrolet No. 20, and Nikrent, in Paige No. 8, were engaged in a terrific battle for sixth position when they whirled through Barstow. According to telephone reports from points this side of the Cajon Pass, the fight began when the two cars left the gorge almost together. They attempted in the lead, Chevrolet, by a burst of speed, taking the place as they reached here. Nikrent was but two minutes behind. Closely following this pair, Stutz No. 17 (Burns), Cole No. 21 (Dubois), Kisselcar Special No. 10 (Klein), and Metz No. 9 (Wing), flashed by in order. Each appeared to be running strong.
